"The Cost is Satisfactory"
Says Fred A. High, Fairmont, W.Va.

After Living in His Electrically Heated Home Since October, 1957

Mr. High bought this electrically heated home in 1957. At that time he was a little skeptical of electric heat since he had had no experience with it.

Now after almost three years of living in this house he says if he were to change homes again he would prefer one with electric heat.

The cost of electric heat, says Mr. High, is somewhat higher than gas, which he previously used, but the savings in cleaning, washing, and painting offsets the extra cost.

Mr. and Mrs. High and their two children agree that electric heat appeals most to them because it's so clean and because it's so easy to maintain just the temperature they want in each room.

You, too, can enjoy the matchless pleasure of living in a total electric home, with even, clean, healthful heat. Our Home Heating Specialist will be glad to talk with you at your convenience, without obligating you in any way.

PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Searcy, Arkansas

The Communist-led "student riots" which halted the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings in San Francisco last May 12-14, indicated the tremendous power of the Red Fifth Column within our nation. For 20 years I have advocated the outlawing of the Communist Party and its members, all of whom are dedicated to the destruction of our nation.

The fact that only a handful of skillful Red agents can control thousands of American people, with propaganda and agitation, and use them as instruments of power to crush an agency of the U. S. Government, ought to be evidence enough that the Fifth Column endangers our security. Upon reading of the power wielded by the Communist-led "student riots" in Korea, Japan, Turkey and other nations recently, too many Americans say to themselves, "Oh, but it can't happen here." The facts of the San Francisco Communist-led "student riots" show emphatically that it can happen here.

Here it what the Communist forces within the United States are doing toward controlling American students as one instrument for seizing total power in our nation — as stated officially by J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director: "In 1959, the Communist Party, U. S. A., launched a major campaign with youth as its target. On May 30-31, approximately 20 young Communists from New York City, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, and Philadelphia attended a conference with national leaders of the Party at Party headquarters in New York City. The purpose of the meeting was to devise a program to attract young blood — teenagers, students, and working youth — to the ranks of the Party.

"After those May 1959 conferences, campuses throughout the Nation became prime targets for Communist infiltration and recruitment efforts. The Party began operating what amounted to a regular lecture bureau, with Party spokesmen seizing every opportunity to project their views on campuses across the country.

"A new Marxist youth organization, Advance, was organized in New York City. A drive is currently underway to establish a new Marxist youth publication, 'New Horizons.' The plans for the format of 'New Horizons' reveal the nature of the trap Communists are setting for campus students. Reporting on the proposed format to the Party's national executive committee recently, Rubin pointed out that 'New Horizons' will not be labeled a Marxist publication. The purpose of this is to avoid too close identification with the Communist Party. But it will, he said, give a 'Marxist analysis of the youth movement and a socialist, Marxist-Leninist outlook.' He expressed the conviction that it would be extremely effective in closing the gap between what he termed democratic youth and the youth on the left.

"Further illustrating the tremendous drive the Party is making to infiltrate student groups is the agenda for a youth conference the Party held in Chicago, June 11-12, 1960. The major points on the agenda for the two-day conference were (1) 'mass developments on the campus' and (2) 'left-student developments.' Discussed in relation to these points were ways and means by which young Communists could exploit such controversial issues on campuses as civil rights, academic freedom, and other so-called peace issues."

What is being done in our nation to counteract these intensive Communist activities among our American youth? Not much.

Letter to the Editor

Light of The World. What does this stand for?

On Bedloe Island, in the New York harbor, stands the Statue of Liberty holding aloft a lighted torch known and loved by free men the world over.

The statue conceived and designed by M. Frederic Bartholdi for the Franco-American union, was paid for by popular subscription collected in France at the time of the 100th anniversary of American Independence.

The statue was exhibited in Paris in October, 1881, but not until October 28, 1886, did it finally stand on its pedestal in New York harbor.

The cost of this great statue was more than a half million dollars and weighed more than 225 tons. It took more than five years to construct it.

In 1916 President Wilson gave the signal for the lighting of the entire statue.

The Lighthouse Service of the federal government tends the torch, that this beacon light may never go out.

November is darwing near, and every man and woman should go to the polls, as it is our duty to do so. We listen to these other troubled parts of the world, and then this comes to mind.

In 1769 Junius wrote:

"Let it be impressed upon your minds, let it be instilled into your children, that the liberty of the press is the palladium of all civil, political and religious rights of all free men."

Even as far back as 469 B.C. Pericles said:

"Take these men for your example—Like them remember that prosperity can be only for the free, and that freedom is the sure possession of those alone who have courage to defend it."

In 49 B.C. Cicero said:

"No one has power except from the people. This is the condition of free people—to be able to give or to take away by their votes whatever they see fit."

We have the choice as a free people. Let us all vote as we should and please.

Jail Escapees

to forging an $8 check

Upon bringing them back to the county jail Sheriff James Frantz placed them in a steel box in one of the cell blocks. The only opening in the eight feet by eight feet area other than the door is an air hole live by five inches.

In another case on Monday, Lawrence Davis, on charges of breaking into the Skeweris place of business and the Lee home on route 50, near Table Rock, was sentenced to not more than two years in the Maryland Reformatory for Males, on both charges but both sentences were scheduled to run concurrently.

The sentence against Davis was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

Davis, 16-year-old youth from near Fairmont, was charged with burglarizing the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lee, taking cuff links, wrist watches, pocket watch, billfold and man's wrist watch valued at $85. He also was charged with breaking into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Skeweris and taking $45 in cash, a pair of dress slippers and food.

The sentences were pronounced by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley.

Murder Trial Monday

Joseph Yuhaniak, 34, of Baltimore, will face trial Monday on a charge of murder in the shooting of his wife, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Yuhaniak, 39, while they were visiting relatives in this county August 19.

Mrs. Bonnie Carlson, charged with embezzling funds from the town of Mt. Lake Park where she was employed as a clerk and collector, will be tried next Tuesday.

These two cases will pretty much wind up the September term of the Garrett county circuit court.

Tuesday an Oakland man, Robbert B. Nair, was found guilty of passing a worthless $15 check and was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Since Nair has been in jail in default of bond pending his appeal from April 15, he will have only until October 15 to serve the sentence. He appealed a sentence of one year in the House of Correction.

Sentence on Harold Bowers, of Kitzmiller on a charge of stealing a Guernsey heifer valued at $150 from Ray Yoder, was held up pending a report from the West Virginia Parole and Probation Department on Bowers. Bowers was indicted on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was found not guilty on the second count.

Charles William Welch, Friendsville, who was charged with removing and secreting an adding machine under a conditional sales contract pleaded guilty to the charge. Judge Fraley indicated the man would be sentenced on Monday.

An appeal case was dismissed against Norman Boyd Bernard on a charge of non-support and the sentence of the magistrate upheld.

An appeal case was dismissed against Karl Kyle and the sentence of the trial magistrate affirmed. He was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100 and costs.

A forgery indictment against Wanda R. Leighton was dismissed by order of the State's Attorney.

In the case of Louis A. Jones, Mt. Lake Park on two indictments on false pretense, Judge Fraley sentenced him to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. The sentence was suspended upon condition that he report to the court on other charge when called and upon condition he keep the state's attorney informed as to his address.

Alfred F. Dumire failed to appear in the reckless driving appeal case which was dismissed and another appeal in connection with the case was dropped from the docket.

When the defendant failed to appear there was no witness for the prosecution of the companion case in which Harlan L. Vetter, star route, Oakland, was charged with stopping a vehicle on the road at night with no lights. But when Dumire failed to appear the case was dropped.

State's Attorney Stover said that on March 14 Vetter stopped his car on Maryland route 39 at Rosedale and the car driven by Dumire plowed into the rear of the car.

Three Beryl, W. Va., men were injured Saturday night in a one-car crash on Maryland route 135, two miles west of Bloomington, according to state police, who said one side of the car was torn off by the impact.

Russell S. Loy, 17, passenger in the front center of the sedan, was admitted to Potomac Valley hospital in Keyser where his condition was termed satisfactory.

Authorities said the youth sustained a possible fractured left ankle, laceration of the nose, abrasions and contusions.

James B. Fazenbaker, driver, suffered a laceration of his left hand, a number of abrasions and contusions, and was treated by a Piedmont physician.

Also treated by the physician was James Feaster, 19, passenger in the right front seat, who sustained a number of contusions and abrasions.

Police said the four-door sedan was traveling east. It ran off the highway and hit a number of guard rails, about 8:10 p. m.

Trooper Bruce F. Diehl, who is investigating, said the driver would be questioned thoroughly.

Forestry Report

age river and 3,500 on Green Ridge, for a total of 162,000 spruce, 1,000 Douglas fir on Savage river, and 1,000 Mexican pine was an experimental plot, for a grand total of 437,500 trees.

In the narrative report the district forester outlined many activities.

Boys in the forestry camps planted 190,000 pine seedlings on 17 tracts, cut hardwoods from 244 acres of pine plantations on nine tracts, poisoned 10 acres of hardwood stumps after clearing brush, piled and burned hardwood brush from 20 acres on 2 tracts, improved four miles of woods road.

Blister rust control was limited to Savage River forest.

In timber stand improvement 289 acres were selectively marked and cut to take out undesirable trees, with about 871 cords of pulpwood and 1,737 posts cut. Thayer said an increasing demand for pulpwood was forestalled by lack of logging access roads.

Thayer pointed out that no new research projects were begun on any state forest lands in the county this past fiscal year but that one was started this year with 1.25 acres of different strains of Virginia pine being planted on the Green Ridge forest in Allegany county, the purpose being to determine the growth progress.

As far as physical improvements, the headquarters building at New Germany was enlarged, main roads in the New Germany recreation area were graded and surfaced with shale, three miles of logging access road in the Wolf Swamp area brushed out and filled with rock; construction begun on four new log housekeeping cabins at Swallow Falls; a new pavilion at Herrington manor picnic area; a bridge over Laurel run in Potomac forest replaced.

Also in the Potomac forest four miles of new fire access road was constructed on the northern slope of Backbone mountain in cooperation with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company.

Seek Contributions For Polio Funds

The Garrett County Chapter of the National Polio Foundation met recently at the Employment Service Office, Oakland, with E. C. Wydro, State Representive of the National Foundation.

At this meeting it was revealed that funds are low in the treasury of the local Chapter. Consequently, it was decided to ask for special donations in all parts of the county. Persons may make donations at the following places:

Garrett National Bank or the First National Bank, Oakland; Spoerlein's Garage, Accident; Friendsville Office, First National Bank of Oakland, Friendsville; Grantsville Office-Liberty Trust company of Cumberland, Grantsville.

The present cases in Garrett County were discussed along with the treatment. Only one, as yet, has positively been diagnosed as Polio National Foundation rules prevent the local chapter from paying any expenses unless the diagnosis has definitely been declared to be polio.

The importance of the three anti-polio shots with the Salk Vaccine was discussed. Also, it was pointed out that everyone should have the fourth or booster shot.

Anyone in doubt about any aspect of the polio vaccine should contact his family physician or Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge

Tomboys, Tears and Trousseaus

- Ankle Swelling
- Hives

Q. My 9-year-old daughter like to dress in boys' clothes and tries to act like a boy. Will this wear off? I certainly hope so because it drives me to tears.—A worried mother.

A. Most little grils who like to dress in boys' clothes grow up to be quite womanly. However, it would seem wise not to just sit back and let nature take its course. Encourage girlish behavior but avoid browbeating, teasing, and shaming. Such measures may do more harm than good.

Q. During the recent warm weather I noticed that my ankles became swollen. Should I consult a doctor?

A. It might be desirable to have a checkup, although hot weather swelling of the ankles is not uncommon in healthy persons. Simple swelling of this sort seems to go away, even if the weather continues to be warm. Persistent ankle swelling would, of course, call for medical consultation.

Q. What causes hives? Surely there must be something to take or apply for relief.

A. The most important single cause of hives (doctors call the condition urticaria) is food allergy. However, hives may be caused by any substance to which a person is sensitive and is often associated with extreme nervousness. Sudden attacks of hives are usually caused by such seasonal foods as strawberries, tomatoes, etc. Shellfish are responsible for many cases of hives. Although hives usually disappear at the end of a week or so, cases have been known to continue for several months or longer. Treatment consists of finding and avoiding the particular substance or condition responsible for hives.

Questions asked of Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be answered in these columns when possible.

Is Your Name DIXON?

Dixon, an old and honored surname, is principally of English origin. As is obvious, it is the equivalent of Dickson and signifies "son or descendant of Dick." The latter is a pet form of Richard which is one of the most popular of personal names and signifies "powerful ruler".

Thomas Dixon (1754-1819) served as lieutenant in the Maryland militia during the Revolutionary War. He was born in Somerset County and died in Worcester County, Maryland. Another patriot was Colonel Henry Dixon (1740-1782) of the North Carolina troops.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has twenty nine listings of persons by the name of Dixon who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

Dixon, a town in Webster County, Kentucky, was named for Archibald Dixon (1802-1876), U. S. senator from the state.

Anzi Clarence Dixon (1854-1925) was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist Church in 1876 and served in various pastorates including the Metropolitan Tabernacle of London, England. As his last assignment, he was pastor of the University Baptist Church of Baltimore.

George Dallas Dixon (1857-1937) of Philadelphia was vice-president in charge of traffic, Pennsylvania Railroad.

Rolland Burrage Dixon (1875-1934) was professor of anthropology at Harvard University for eighteen years. He was a member of the American commission to negotiate peace at the end of the First World War.

James Payson Dixon, Jr., is president, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Wesley Mason Dixon is president, Container Corporation of America, with offices in Chicago.

Frank James Dixon, Jr., a physician of note, is professor and chairman of the department of pathology, University of Pittsburgh Medical School.

Robert Ellington Dixon is rear admiral, U. S. Navy.

President Eisenhower warned against "glittering promises of pie in the sky" political philosophy possibly weakening the nation's economy and affecting the fight for peace with freedom.

Disregarding God

"Do YOU believe in God?" "Oh sure!" would be the reply of Mr. Average Man; and yet day in and day out God is not in all of his thoughts. Psalm 10:4 says, "The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God; God is not in all of his thoughts." This Mr. Average man may be a very fine citizen. He may even have a high standard of morality. But he lives his life, he does his planning and God is not in all of his thoughts. This is not at all in the plan and the purpose for which God has created man. God intended that He should be the very center and purpose of our earthly lives. "All things were made by Him and for Him" and man misses the whole purpose of his existence when he seeks just to please himself. No wonder there are so many unhappy people in this world. We have so many people living aimless lives who have not other ambition than to provide food and comfort for their physical bodies. Friend, if such has been the character of your life, I urge you to discover the secret of life through Jesus Christ with God the Heavenly Father as the center of all your interests.

P-TA To Reorganize At Northern High

The P.-T. A. of Northern High School will reorganize at the first meeting for the new school year to be held Tuesday, October 11, from 7:30 until 9:00. The business meeting will be held in the school cafeteria from 7:30 to 8:00. Parents will then have an opportunity to visit student classrooms until 9:00.

Lewis Walker, principal, outlined reasons for activating the P.-T. A. at Northern.

1. The P.-T. A. encourages better understanding between parents and teachers.

2. If a student is having difficulty, the parents have an opportunity to get first-hand information by visiting the school during a P.-T. A. meeting.

Several projects are to be considered by the organization. One now in operation is area mothers tending the health room. Since no full time nurse is employed, a mother is there to render first aid treatment until a parent can pick up the child. A scholarship fund to help worthy seniors who need financial assistance is another project.

Seventh grade homeroom mothers, with Mrs. William Harman in charge, will serve refreshments.

NOTICE

The regular meeting night of Oakland Lodge No. 786, Loyal Order of Moose, will be Friday nights instead of Thursday nights.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Recent inquiries concerning Stem Rock indicated two things: (1) It did (or does) exist, and (2) No one yet contacted can say exactly where it is (or was.)

This week's old photograph, taken about 1915, shows a group of persons on and around the elusive boulder, which is supposed to be located in the Snaggy mountain section between the ridge above Joe Lewis' dam, and between the location of the fire tower on Snaggy mountain.

Several recent expeditions into the area, however, have failed to turn up the rock, and is hoped that some of those pictured will remember the outing and be able not only to identify the persons shown, but also give definite information concerning the locale.

Some Forthcoming Photos

Those scheduled for publication include one of an early coal operation in the Steyer section when some 100 men were employed; a view of the Stony River dam soon after its construction in 1913 to supply water to the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company at Luke; an interesting view of one of the first attempts in this county to locate coal by means of diamond bit drilling, and a scene during the construction by the State of the first improved road in Garrett county—and one of the first State-built hardtop roads in Maryland.

Plans Dance Studio

Mrs. Ona Anderson, dancing instructor, met last week with interested parents at the Center Street School and discussed plans for a studio to be located in Oakland. Mrs. Anderson has had twenty-five years experience as a dance instructor. For the past thirteen years she has operated her own school in Fairmont and previous to that she was associated with the Morgan Studios of Fairmont, Clarksburg, and Grafton, West Virginia, as an asaociate instructor.

Mrs. Anderson is a member of the Dance Masters of America, one of the oldest dance organizations, and the Cecchetti Council of America, an organization for serious minded ballet students. She has also studied under many nationally known teachers in the field of dancing.

Lake Fishermen Win 3 Places in Contest

In a recent state-wide fishing contest sponsored by the Baltimore News-Post and American, Deep Creek lake had winners in three categories. No other area had more than one winner. The number of entries from this area was greater than from any other area.

Winning entries, registered at Johnny's Bait House were Joe Hasebaugh, Oakland, 17¾ inch trout; Charles Shilke, Bedford, Pa., former Oakland resident, 22 inch largemouth bass; and E. C. Scott, Catonsville, 27 1 8 inch Northern Pike. The contest was conducted on the point system which included not only the largest but the most fish caught within a given period.

A week's vacation at Mexico City was the grand prize, won by Russell Charnick, of the Eastern Shore.

An awards banquet was held September 23 in Baltimore. At this time fishing rods, reels, knives and trophies were awarded to the winners. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shilke, Bedford, and John Marple, Oakland.

The air force rocketed a blue scout rocket 16,609 miles into space, but lost radio contact which prevented collection of important data.

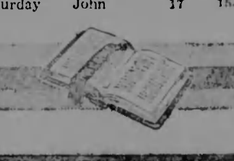
We see only wires! But at this very moment a woman in San Francisco may be speaking to her husband in Tokyo . . . . . a boy at Princeton may be inviting a girl in Albuquerque to a football game . . . and Mrs. Green of R. D. No. 1 may be placing her order with Mr. Brown of the Crossroads Store.

Here — where sixty wires cling to the cross-arms of a weathered pole — the ends of the earth meet!

It's like that in our local churches on Communion Sunday. Whether fifty or five hundred receive the Holy Sacrament . . . the ends of the earth meet. For the Lord's Supper is not a rite of one church or one denomination. It is the common sacramental feast of millions of Christians all over the world.



Are you availing yourself of this blessed privilege, and are you attending your church regularly? As you receive this Sacrament in your church, your life is linked to the lives of Christians everywhere. And you and they are united in a common communion with God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

God Is Great

Lesson for October 2, 1960

WHEN you read those words, "God is great," what did you think? One thing you might have thought was, "Why of course. Who would be interested in a little God?" Well, some people have been interested in little gods; but this was only when they pictured in their minds a large number of Gods. Some of these might be little, not much more than fairies or ghosts. But people who believe in little gods and lots of them (like primitive Africans for example) can't get along along without believing also in some high God reigning over all the others.

Dr. Foreman

Indeed, a famous definition of God went something like this: "That being than whom no greater can be conceived." If you could conceive of a greater, that would show you were not yet thinking of the true God.

God Is No Particular Size

"God is great" does not mean "God is big." The word "big" refers to size. God is Spirit, and Spirit does not come in sizes. What size is your own spirit, for instance? You do not know and it would be ridiculous to get out a tape-measure or a slide-rule to measure your inmost self. The greatness of God means that every quality he has, he has to the utmost and highest and most intense degree. No one and nothing surpasses him. Is it power? Then he is more powerful than all other powers together. Is it love? No other love can compare with his. Is it wisdom, justice? His is supreme. To be sure, there is one sense in which we might almost say that God is big. That is, in the sense that we can never run away from him. People everywhere are wondering what strange creatures spacemen may find on far away planets. One thing is sure: they will not find a strange God for there is only one; and they will not find a place where God is not.

Sit down by yourself some day and think of the greatness of God the Creator. He is not just "the Man upstairs," he is not a somebody. He is not one item in the catalogue of the things in the universe. You and I might be items in that catalogue, but not He. He made the catalogue, he alone knows what is in it; for he alone made all things. This does not mean that he brought everything into existence all at once, or in a week or in a million years. This present universe of the year 1960 is not exactly the same, indeed in many ways not at all the same, that is was one hundred million years ago. Nevertheless, when the Bible speaks of God the Creator it speaks of a God whose will it was, and is, that these things, all these things, this tremendous and unimaginable universe, have come into being. The God to who we pray is not a god who sits cozily in his heaven watching an earth and a universe that was made he knows not how.

Great In Providence

When the writer of Psalm 8 thinks of God's greatness, his mind turns at once to the stars, then to man, and then to the animals of this planet. He thinks of God in terms of what he has done for man. But the writer of Psalm 104 has a different slant. His mind moves from creation to providence, or in other words, while Psalm 8 speaks in terms of mighty once-for-all acts of God, the poet of Psalm 104 thinks of God in relation to everyday events, out-of-sight obscure events, most of which have nothing at all to do with man. The main point to see here is that God is as great in providence as he is in creation. God started the world, he invented it as C. S. Lewis says. But he also acts within it, there is no part of it to which he can be denied admittance. He is not like a king or a president who cannot attend nearly all the events to which they are invited. Invited or not, God attends all events. Look with the writer of Psalm 104 at the mountain springs, at the wild beasts drinking, the birds flying in the treetops, the rain on the mountains —in all these things not less than in the overwhelming ones, we see the greatness of the one true God.

"Maryland Memo"

John Marshall Butler
United States Senator

Although most of the Eastern Shore escaped really serious damage by Hurricane Donna, Worcester County was declared a "disaster area" and Ocean City has estimated damage at more than a million dollars. Paradoxically, over on the Western Shore, farmers report that Donna helped by bringing them some badly needed rain. Across the Bay, the Small Business Administration stepped in almost immediately and made loans available to Worcester County—proving that the Federal Government can act quickly when it wants to.

And the Federal Government can act most peculiarly too. Earlier this year I introduced a Senate Resolution against allowing Panama to fly its flag in the Canal Zone, American by treaty and possession for nearly sixty years.

Yet, our government has now given Panamanians the right to fly their flag beside ours in the Zone, arguing that it is a simple insignificant gesture. But the former President of Panama said in February of this year: "The placing of our flag there (in the Canal Zone) is only a logical end of ratifying Panamanian sovereignty." I predict we have not heard the last of the Panamanian demands regarding the Canal Zone.

The Free State continues to expand and modernize as reflected in the following developments:

(1) Over $2 million has been allotted for a military construction program at Andrews Air Force Base at Camp Springs.

(2) The Anne Arundel County Sanitary Commission is planning interceptor sewers and a secondary type sewage treatment plant to the tune of nearly $2 million.

(3) The National Guard Bureau in Cambridge will soon begin building a motor vehicle storage building at a cost of $30,000.

Baby Department: One of the all-time best sellers on the Government Printing Office list is "Infant Care," prepared by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. I am happy to report that I have several copies of "Infant Care" available for anyone contemplating or already immersed in that most demanding of all responsibilities—parenthood. Send your request to 4203 NSOB, Washington 25, D. C.

Within the last few weeks two distinguished Marylanders made news: James B. Monroe, former State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and State Senator, purchased controlling interest in the "Maryland Independent" of La Plata. A little bit up the Bay, Talbot T. Speer celebrated his 35th year as publisher of the "Evening Capital" of Annapolis and the "Maryland Gazette." Each man, I am sure, will continue to influence and improve our State.

As you read this, I will be somewhere in California doing what comes naturally to every public servant—making speeches. My theme will be what it always is—the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth no matter who blushes.

WEEKLY SERMON

Influencing Our Children

There are some parents who say, "We will not influence our children in making choices and decisions in matters of religion." So they let them choose whether they will go to Sunday School and Church or remain home. If they do go to Church the parent makes no effort to investigate the Church they are going to, making the foolish mistake of believing that all churches are alike. If parents will not influence them the secular schools will. Lustful literature will. Sex ads, beer ads, liquor ads will. Movies and TV will. The neighbors will. Business will. The playground will. As some one else has written, "We seek to influence our flowers, our vegetables, our crops, our cattle. Surely our children are of much more value than crops and cattle." If we would not tend our gardens and lawns then they would grow up to weeds. If we do not give our children a Christian training then do not be surprised if their lives produce a harvest of weeds. It is a known fact that children who are reared in Sunday School and Church are seldom in trouble with the law. Do not be a delinquent parent, influence them for Christ in the home and send them to a Church where they teach the Bible.

REALLY RUNNING—Charles "Mac" Mathias, Maryland's Sixth District Republican candidate for Congress, is running hard for office and chases buses to prove it. Twice weekly, Mathias campaigns at nearby bus terminals and bus stops during the early morning and the evening rush hours, passing out his Black-Eye Susan "Back Mac" buttons and brochures giving his background and qualifications. Many people take advantage to ask the Republican candidate's opinions on the latest news reports they have read in the newspapers while commuting to and from their jobs. In these two pictures, Mathias demonstrates his "bus stop" technique for getting his message to the voting-commuters. In the first, he chases a bus to get his brochure to the passengers. In the second, he stands at the bus door and distributes his campaign materials to the passengers as they board or get off the bus. "And I'm getting to know quite a few of the bus drivers and the problems they face every day," Mathias said.

Buckwheat Festival Starts At Kingwood

Art Mooney and his Orchestra were on hand for the Firemen's Ball last night in Kingwood. This event officially opened the 19th annual Preston County Buckwheat Festival, with Fireman's Day to follow today.

Undoubtedly, one of the most important events at the Preston County Buckwheat Festival, to be held in Kingwood, will be the coronation of Queen Ceres, XIX. Miss Janet Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lyons, of Newburg, which will take place today.

Miss Lyons an attractive brunette, seems to be very thrilled about all of the activities in store for her, as well she might be. To be chosen as Queen Ceres is indeed a Preston County girl's dream come true. She is the central figure of the entire festival, which, measured by its success over the years, has become one of Preston County's claims to fame.

The Queen will receive her crown from R. Virgil Rohrbough, State Superintendent of Schools, of Charleston, in an outdoor setting, she will be gowned in white velvet, with the traditional royal robe of purple and white satin.

Serving as maids-of-honor will be Miss Sue Mosser, Newburg, and Miss Pamela Schmidle, of Kingwood. Miss Schmidle, a statuesque blonde, says that her election as maid-of-honor was "the nicest thing that's ever happened to me." Miss Mouser, a petite brownette, is quietly pleased concerning her selection. The maids will appear in corduroy gowns of heather violet.

The eighteen princesses, representing the nine high schools of Preston County, will flank the Queen on the coronation platform, a splendid splash of color in their gowns of corduroy. Queen Ceres XIX and the members of her Court will be escorted by cadets of The Scabbard and Blade, honorary fraternity of the West Virginia Reserve Officers Training Corps.

W. K. Hawkins, Sr., is general chairman of the event which continues through Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A parade featuring bands and fire departments from the tri-state area is set for 7 p. m., this evening, followed by street square dancing and the buckwheat bowl football game between Kingwood and Terra Alta High school's.

King fireman, Alvin Collins, chief of the Bruceton-Brandonville fire department, will be crowned at 9:15.

Friday is school community day with a parade at 1:45 p. m. The coronation of the queen, Miss Janet Lyons, Newburg, will take place at 2:45. The queen's banquet will be held at 7 o'clock. The final session of the horse show also begins at 6:30 that day.

Farmers' Day will be Saturday with a mammoth parade at 1 o'clock. King Buckwheat XIX will be crowned at 2:30 honoring the biggest grower in the county. The second session of the horse show will begin at 6:30 that evening.

Teen Club News

This Friday night will be the first night of the new contest, the best of the dee jays from the Teen Club. This week the DJ will be James Wheezel. Next week it will be Guy "Butch" Hinebaugh. Guys and gals interested may sign up. The winner will receive a four speed portable record player. Everything is shaping up for the big game on October 7, which will be our first game under the new lights, between Southern and Northern. On that night Teen Club will not open up till after the game and then we will stay open a littler later so plan to attend the game and then we can really jump at Teen Club immediately afterwards. I am waiting for word from Dick Blanchard at WTAE channel 4 TV to see just when we can take a group over to his program some Saturday afternoon. I asked for a large group so here's hoping we will have a chance to take a bus load or so. From what I hear the group that went to Pittsburgh, last Friday to the big rock and roll show had a good time. It is possible that it can be done again in the near future. If anyone has any ideas that may help to make our evenings have a little more variety, all suggestions will be greatly appreciated. We will have a new bulletin board in the lobby before long with all the latest teen news and also pictures pertaining to Teen Club. Dance contests coming up soon, free membership cards for the year will be given away, some nice prizes coming up, for those who attend Teen Club regularly. Be sure to study hard and do your best in school for that is your future. Be good buddies, help each other and if you have a grief or a squabble with some one, tthink about it first and I'm sure you will come to a more friendly decision.

An Announcement By HENRY FORD II
Of Importance To Every Buyer
Of A 1961 Automobile...

The Warranty On All 1961 Ford Motor Company Cars Is Being Extended To 12,000 Miles Or One Full Year

The 1961 Line of all Ford Motor Company passenger cars will bring to the American market the finest automobiles ever produced by this company.

Every Ford, Falcon, Thunderbird, Mercury, Comet and Lincoln-Continental has been styled, designed, engineered and manufactured with three primary goals in mind: (1) Finest Quality; (2) Greatest Durability; (3) Most Reliable Operation.

So confident are we of the success of our efforts to achieve these goals that the written warranty on all 1961 Ford Motor Company cars is being extended to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

No other American Automobile carries a warranty like this. The previous Ford warranty, traditional in the industry, was for 4,000 miles or three months.

We urge every prospective purchaser of a 1961 car to visit his Ford Motor Company dealer and learn all about the Dealer's new 12,000-mile or one-full-year warranty.

Henry Ford II
President,
FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Southern Speaks

By Dale Ellis

Vicki Carlson was named editor of "The Highlander," Southern's school yearbook, by Mr. James Trickett, faculty adviser. Vicki is a senior taking the academic curriculum and her assistant will be Jeannie Foley, who is in the 11th grade.

Others named were Mary Lackey, business manager; Paula Marucci, sales manager; Mary Adams, advertising manager; Sue Tibbs, distribution manager; Carolyn Leighton, copy editor and Osborne Tasker, sports editor.

Carolyn George and Shelby Upole will be the typists and the photographers are Lynn Beckman and John Warnick.

Ellis Elected

Seventeen boys have received their appointments as school monitors for the school year with Dale Ellis being elected as president since this is his fourth year on the force. The only other four year member is Tom Bowen.

The duties are to keep the cafeteria clean and orderly during the lunch period and the halls from being congested. Miss Ann Dilgard is the faculty adviser to this group since it is a branch of the Student Council and she is the director.

Tests Graded

Eleventh grade students of Southern during the 1959-60 school year have received the results of the Crary American History test administered on June 1, and sponsored by the Board of Education.

Three students made very high grades by answering 121 to 144 of the questions correctly. High grades were made by forty-six students by giving correct answers to 111 to 123 questions.

Average grades on the test belonged to eighty-four of the students by answering 99 to 110 questions right. Forty-four students made below average grades and five scored very low on the test.

Game Tonight

This evening at 7:30 (EST), the Highlanders of Southern with a 2-1 record, will meet the St. Francis Trojans at Morgantown.

It is hoped that a large following from Oakland and vicinity will be on hand to cheer the Highlanders on to what is hoped to be their third victory of the season.

Several games are scheduled for Friday night in Morgantown and officials would be hard to obtain for the game and probably not much of a crowd would be present so both schools agreed to play the game tonight.

Attended School

W. Kenneth Johns, principal, attended an education in Family Finance Workshop at the University of Wisconsin this summer as a member of the Maryland State Department team with Royd Mahaffey, superintendent of schools in Wicomico county, acting as chairman.

The report they made was submitted to the State Department. The department is going to distribute it to all Maryland schools.

Items discussed at the workshop were Budgeting, Taxation, Insurance, Loans, Investments, Purchasing, and other business subjects.

Doxology To Be Sung

Before each lunch period, the Doxology will be sung according to Mr. Johns, principal, since the balloting revealed that students felt it should be sung.

The Doxology was sung before each lunch period last year and it didn't receive much support so the officials of Southern decided to have the students vote to see if they wanted it.

Letters To Be Sent

Graduates of Southern, who are attending college will receive a letter from Mr Johns giving them several suggestions on how to adjust to their new surroundings.

The letter will be mailed to them as soon as possible according to the office staff.

Miscellaneous

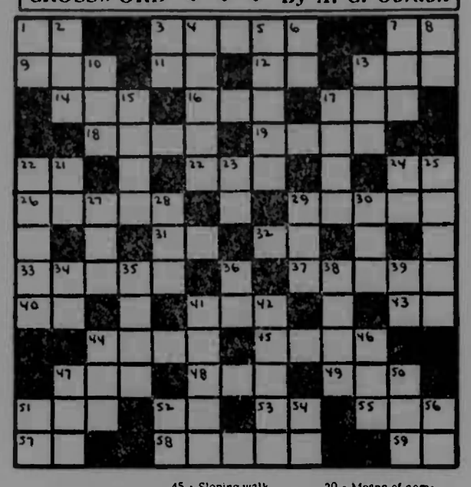
Mr. William Watson and his junior high football team will travel to Elkins tomorrow to face the junior high team from there. Several cars will take the players and they will leave Southern at 9:30.

A special meeting for parents of all seniors who plan to attend college after they graduate is scheduled for Tuesday night at 8:00 at Southern.

Mr. Ernest Spoerlein, guidance counselor, will outline college entrance requirements and procedures for gaining admittance. He will also point out scholarships which are available to students.

Mrs. Goldie Bittle, school librarian, will show some special books and materials which are available to students and parents.

Under the direction of Mr. Raymond Borrell, the Highlander's band will march in the Buckwheat Parade at Kingwood, Saturday.



Results Given

Results of the Student Council elections were made known by Miss Ann Dilgard, faculty advisor. The elections were held on Tuesday and conducted by Dick Stuck, president; Jim Craig, vice-president; Linda Teets, secretary; Barbara Rice, treasurer; and Dale Ellis, assistant treasurer of the Student Council.

Seventh grade representatives are Anne Gibson and John Sanders. Kathy Campbell and Charles Teets are the eighth grade representatives. Ninth grade representatives are Sharon Godwin and Sally Buchanan.

Senior High grades have three representatives compared to the junior high's two. Jack Jones, Cindy White, and Kathy Gouder are the tenth grade student members. The eleventh grade representatives are Joyce Sisler, Roberta DeWitt and Jeannie Foley. Dennis Sanders, Barbara George, and Carole Campbell are the twelfth grade representatives.

Announcing the 1961 Ford . . .

Beautifully proportioned to the

CLASSIC FORD LOOK

An honor to be proud of, this is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per L'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

The 1961 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria—beautifully built to take care of people

BEAUTIFULLY BUILT TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF

The 1961 Ford introduces a whole new concept of what a car can do for you . . . and for itself!

It lubricates itself. New nylon bearings and a newly developed lubricant keep the '61 Ford freshly greased for 30,000 miles. It cleans its own oil. The 1961 Ford's Full-Flow oil filter lets you go 4,000 miles between oil changes.

It adjusts its own brakes. A "mechanical brain" keeps brakes adjusted for the life of the lining.

Rust? Ford's body is specially processed to resist corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

Ford takes care of itself on the turnpike, too, with a new 390-cu. in. Thunderbird Special V-8 that has all the punch you'll ever need. The 352 Thunderbird Special V-8 and 292 Thunderbird V-8 thrive on regular gas. And, for top economy, you can choose the '61 Mileage Maker Six.

This is the 1961 Ford . . . beautifully proportioned to the Classic Ford Look . . . beautifully built to take care of itself.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

LUBRICATES ITSELF. You'll normally go 30,000 miles without a chassis lubrication.

ADJUSTS ITS OWN BRAKES. New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.

GUARDS ITS OWN MUFFLER. Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

PROTECTS ITS OWN BODY. All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing body panels beneath doors.

TAKES CARE OF ITS OWN FINISH. New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Touchdown runs of 84 yards and six yards by halfback Don Bush paced the Beall High school Mountaineers to a 27 to 6 victory over Southern High Highlanders on the Beall gridiron last Friday night in a Potomac Valley Conference contest.

Beall's gridders tallied three times in the second quarter to overcome Southern's 6-0 lead, and go no to rack up their second straight win of the season.

Coach Earl Adolfson's eleven had sixteen first downs to nine for Beall but they were hampered by fumbles and intereceptions.

Substitute Jim Craig of Southern opened the scoring in the first period after he plunged over from the two-yard line to climax a 67-yard drive. A running play for the extra point failed.

Don Bush tied the game in the next period when he tallied from six yards out, after one run of 33 yards. The placement kick was good to give Beall a 7-6 lead.

The next score for the Mountaineers came when Wolford picked up Stuck's fumble, and raced 30 yards for another TD. Robertson again added the point. The third Beall six-pointer came when Bush picked off an Oakland pass on his own 16 and raced 84 yards for a touchdown. Robertson again converted and Beall had a 21-6 lead at halftime.

The final scoring play in the contest came in the third quarter when Harper swept around end for 60 yards and a TD. Robertson's final try for the extra point was wide.

Southern's defense appeared poor all evening long. Colaw's punting was outstanding.

The victory for Beall High was its first PVC this year. The loss by Southern was the first of the campaign. The Highlanders went into last Friday game with a 2-0 record in the Potomac Valley conference.

This afternoon the Highlanders are at Morgantown for a game with St. Francis Catholic high school, and next Friday night October 7, will play their homecoming game against Northern High in the first night football game on the Oakland gridiron.

Folk Festival

Gracing another area of the ground are an early steam roller, several cars of early vintage, the running gear of a giant Conestoga wagon built in nearby Summit Mills in 1822 and a rare two-horse treadpower. A team of young oxen, nurtured and tamed for the occasion by George Durst of Negro Mountain, are lumbering about in a giant circle for the edification of guests.

The Penn Alps Corporation Store at the south end of the grounds has on sale beautiful and useful items handcrafted in the homes of some 250 producers scattered throughout the Allegheny Highlands. These vary from woodcarvings and leatherwork to ceramics, costume dolls, nature-crafts, paintings and rugs and quilts for which the Springs Area has become famous. A fresh country produce store will also be operated by Penn Alps for the benefit of guests who wish to take home a bit of mountain cooking.

Guided historic tours into the autumn countryside of Somerset County and nearby Garrett County leave the grounds at regular intervals. The oldest log, frame, brick and stone houses of the area, as well as early churches and industries of the Somerset County Dutch Country and a sugar camp in operation are featured on the Pennsylvania tour. Four old stagecoach and drovers' inns, the famous stone arch bridge built in the days of the Cumberland Road, the oldest grist mill of Garrett County still in operation, a well-preserved segment of Braddock's Trail, and Little Meadows and Little Crossings named by George Washington in the 1700's will be featured on the Maryland Tour.

All day long hosts and guides will serve visitors at the unique rural museum of the Springs Historical Society several miles away at Niverton. This seven-room improvised museum houses some 1,600 items of significance which tell the story of the founding fathers of the Casselman Valley. Included are the story of flax-scutching, "sugaring off", the cooper's story, one of the oldest carpet looms of the Springs area, a stonewheel turning lathe, the first telephone of Meyersdale and a sausage grinder over 200 years old. Guests are encouraged to drive to the museum, but tour buses will not stop there this year.

Serving as general chairman of the festivities is Dr. Alta Schrock of Penn Alps, Grantsville, while Miss Rosie Beachy heads up the Crafts Committee, Mrs. Cleman Folk, the Foods Committee; Ralph Miller, the Properties Committee; Mrs. Willard Livengood, Tours; Mrs Henry E. Yoder and John Folk, Museum, Ivan Yoder, Decorations. Mrs. George Yoder served as talent scout for the Pioneer Demonstrations Committee, and Floyd and Omar Bender will keep the demonstrations humming. At the ticket booth will be Harvey Gortner with a helper, the Bender-Maust triplets of Springs will reign at the gates.

On both Friday and Saturday the gates to the grounds will be open by 10:00 A. M. and guests can sit down to the Springs Festival sausage dinner by 11:00 or 12:00. For the hungry who do not wish to wait in line there will be many concession stands featuring the specialities of the area. These will include the sausage-burger stand, the donut stands, the fresh applebutter-bread and milk stand, to mention only a few. Cider, spotza, and applebutter made on the spot can be purchased also. For those who do not wish to wait in line and would like to drive to historic Route 40 only a few miles to the south, Penn Alps on the Casselman will be serving the same Dutch dinner and proceeds will be shared with the Festival Committee. The entire two-day affair is co-sponsored by the Springs Historical Society and the Penn Alps Corporation.

In the language of the people, "Come once and see what we have still, yet".

Achievement Day

Ritchey, citizenship and civil defense; Mrs. Russell Klotz, health and safety; Mrs. Bereaud Merrill, international relations, Mrs. Walter Swauger, culture; Mrs. A. J. Thomas and Mrs. Oscar Savage, music.

Following the election of officers and selection of the 1961 site, there will be an exchange of bulbs, cuttings, plants and seeds.

The public is invited. Those planning to attend may make luncheon reservations with Mrs. Martin Tressler, Grantsville.

Miss Ethel Grove, home demonstration agent, announced dates of regular homemaker clubs meetings for the week.

County Roads

here and also two new large trucks equipped with plow and side wing, costing around $25,810 each.

The State has some 163 miles of state roads under its supervision.

The road crews begin placing the snow fences around the middle of October.

County Roads Equipment

The county roads department has 689 miles as its responsibility in keeping traffic moving in the winter months. And for that the county has twenty-seven trucks, with 25 of them being equipped with snow plows and two exclusively for cindering. In addition there are eight graders equipped with a V plow and two snow blowers. One blower is mounted on a truck and the other is a blower attachment used in conjunction with a front end loader.

There are also two other front end loaders, one equipped with a bucket and one a V blade and bucket. There are eight cinder spreaders attached to eight of the trucks with plows.

The county also has five bulldozers which are used in case of extreme need, and a tractor and low board trailer that will convey the dozers to the needed spot more quickly.

The county roads department has a two way radio system, used for the first time last year which Darrell Wotring, roads supervisor, said worked very successfully and saved the workmen much time.

The county has between 150,000 to 200,000 feet of snow fence and from 12,500 to 16,700 posts, used in the erection of the fences. Erection work will get under way early in October.

Mr. Wotring said the county would use 3,000 to 5,000 tons of cinders or other abrasives. There are provided free by the Monongahela Power company at Albright, but the cost of hauling runs from $900 to $1,500 annually. Used along with the abrasives are sodium chloride and calcium chloride and it is estimated it will take at least 40 tons of this material at a cost of approximately $4,200.

Mr. Wotring said that trucks and graders were used in normal winter weather and that patrolling mileage per vehicle averaged 21 miles. This indicated the difficulties encountered during high winds and drifting snow. There are 300 miles of paved county roads and almost 400 miles of unpaved to keep open during the winter snows.

Northern High's Huskies scoring 13 points in each of the first two quarters, rambled to a 34 to 7 triumph over the Keyser High "B" team last Saturday in a game on the Northern High gridiron.

The victory was the second for Coach Carroll Bumgarner's eleven this season against one setback. The Huskies dropped their opener to Meyersdale 19 to 0, but defeated Terra Alta last week.

Substitute halfback Ed Margroff started Northern's scoring parade early in the first quarter when he snatched a Keyser pass out of the air and raced 10 yards for a touchdown. Patton ran the conversion.

Veteran George Patton tacked on the second six pointer when he plunged over from a yard out minutes later. Finzel set up the touchdown by a 33 yard run point, making the score 26-0.

M. Cundy skirted left end and raced 27 yards for Northern's third TD as the second period got under way and Margroff added his second TD scamper of the game a little later with a 11-yard dash off tackle. Left end Brode took a pass from Finzel for the extra point, making the score 26-0.

The Huskies added another in the third stanza when Ken Smith drove 32 yards off tackle and with only a few minutes remaining in the contest, Northern closed scoring when Frazee tackled Keyser quarterback Turbin in the end zone for a safety.

The Keyser reserves' only score came in the third period when Reinhart bucked the line from three yards out. He repeated the play for the extra point.

Northern's game with Valley of Masontown has been changed from Friday, September 30, to Saturday, October 1, at 1:30 o'clock, at Northern, it was announced. Northern last week cancelled the game with Beall High set for October 15.

Seed Quality Comes With Seed Testing

Consumers should use only the highest quality seed available. Farmers should demand labeled seed of high purity, high rate of germination, free of noxious weeds and of a recommended variety for the area.

It is important to select an adapted high yielding variety and take the necessary precautions to insure high quality, high germinating seed, says M. H. Day, supervisor of seed inspection at the University of Maryland.

The actual cost of seed is but a fraction of the total cost of crop production. Using poor quality seed cancels out the benefits of carefully planned and executed land preparation and seeding. Seed lots of low purity and low germination are not capable of producing high yielding crops. Using seed containing noxious weed seeds greatly reduce the potential crop yields.

Farmers using their own seed or those grown by a neighbor should see that they're properly cleaned to remove inert material, immature seeds and reduce the weed seed content.

Such seed should be tested at the State Seed Laboratory. The testing is a free service to all Maryland farmers. Seed samples may be submitted to the County Agent or sent directly to the State Seed Laboratory located at College Park, Md. It's important to send a sample representative of the lot and enough to enable proper testing (2 lbs.; small grain —1 lb. legumes).

Now that farmers are seeding Hay, Pasture Crops and Small Grains, it's advisable to select high quality seed as well as properly prepare the seed bed, check the planter and properly lime and fertilize land for planting.

It is unwise to risk possible crop loss or introduce understrable weeds that may take years and prove costly to irradicate. Poor quality and infested cover crop seed are costly and poor investments.

Use certified seed whenever possible, urges Mr. Day. Using low quality seed or seed of unknown quality is usually more expensive in the long run than planting tested proven seed.

Seed testing is an inexpensive crop insurance free for the asking.

The Real Issue in The Great Debate

Dedicated Supporters of Vice President Nixon and Senator Kennedy may share a common satisfaction today following the first of the Great Debates between the presidential candidates on TV and radio last night. This satisfaction is that each candidate gave a good account of himself, neither hurt whatever case he has by the method of its presentation. If these supporters must also share a common dissatisfaction it is that, in neither instance, did the candidate not of their choice do a political pratfall. Perhaps if a grudging concession has to be made, it would be that, on TV screens at least, the Senator is more photogenic than the Vice President.

As far as the basic reasons for making a choice between the two nominees are concerned, the debate introduced no distinctly new elements. Each said pretty much what he has already been saying, though perhaps with some significant inflections and implications that stand out more unmistakably in the spoken word than in the printed word.

If the real issue is simply whether Mr. Nixon or Mr. Kennedy will make the better President in the next four years, it remains to be decided what conception each has of a good President and particularly what kind of a Federal Government each thinks will be best for the people of the United States.

On that point Senator Kennedy could not have left many of his hearers in doubt that he is fully and completely devoted to the idea that the general welfare of the people of this country depends upon what the Federal Government can and will do for them.

In Senator Kennedy's conception of the role of the Federal Government in the life of the people, little room is left for the state and local governments, for individual enterprise, or for non-federal initiative.

While Senator Kennedy boldly bids the people to move ahead, to go forward, to advance on the new frontier, he offers in the same breath the comforting assurance that this can be done without any real sacrifice and discomfort if only the people will allow the Federal Government to do all the hard things for them.

For example, in contrasting the so-called Javits-Nixon medical care program with his own program, Senator Kennedy said that the former would cost the Federal Government $660 million a year and the states almost as much, whereas his own program would impose no burden whatever on the Federal Treasury because it would be incorporated into Social Security. But does one need to be a fiscal expert to understand that Social Security, whatever benefits it may distribute, can distribue only what it collects from the American people?

For another example, Senator Kennedy said that he favors federal aid to increase teachers' salaries because the states and local districts have gone as far as they can with the result that property taxes have reached the point of diminishing returns.

But is there a gainfully employed home-owner in Morgantown who would fail, upon making a comparison to discover that the taxes taken from him every payday by the Federal Government amount in a year to many times the local taxes he pays on his home?

Despite the narcotic influence of the withholding arrangement, few workers can be ignorant of how much is taken from them by the Federal Government in the course of the year. They may be more vividly aware of the property taxes they pay because they must go to the sheriff's office and surrender money they have received, whereas the Federal Government takes its cut without ever letting them get their hands on that part of their pay.

Senator Kennedy would have the people believe that teachers salaries can be greatly increased without hurting property-owners if only the increases will be paid by federal money. The hard fact, which only the wishful-thinkers will try to dodge, is that once teachers' salaries are paid in whole or part with federal dollars they will cost the people substantially more than if they were paid with dollars raised by the states and local districts.

It is no valid call to greatness for Senator Kennedy to ask of the American people only that they expand their wishes to the sky and then, by electing him President, let the Federal Government satisfy those wishes from Washington.

If between now and Nov. 8 the American people fail to distinguish between the attractive bill of fare which Senator Kennedy holds before them and his ability to fill their order in the faraway federal kitchen, they will have only themselves to blame for what they get in the next four years.

If we have indeed a testing time for greatness in this country it is a time for testing our good common sense in seeing wherein our real opportunities and our inescapable responsibilities lie.

Former County Girl Is Beauty Queen

A former Garrett County girl, Miss Norma L. Green, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Green of Barton, was named "Miss REA 1961" at the August 20 picnic and field day sponsored by staff members of the Rural Electrification Administration, an agency of the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C.

Miss Green emerged from the beauty contest triumphant over eleven other contestants. She will receive a cash prize, an all-expense, three-day trip to New York City, and tickets to two hit musicals. In addition, she will reign as Queen over all REA social functions for the next twelve months. On September 30 she will be competing with fourteen other girls for the title of "Miss Agriculture."

Norma is a 1958 graduate of Valley High School, Lonaconing. In high school she majored in typing, shorthand and home economics. Her hobbies are sewing and spectator sports, with her favorate being baseball.

Miss Green is a secretary on the Administrative Division in REA. She has been with REA since high school graduation in June, 1958.

Miss Green was born and reared on the family farm in Garrett County about five miles out of Barton where her parents and younger sister still live.

To Begin Training

Several Garrett county young men were among those that were flown last Thursday to Lackland Air Force base in Texas to begin their training as air force recruits.

They made up a special group known as a "buddy flight" promoted by recruiters. These men will remain together throughtout preliminary training and many of them may stay together during their enlistment period.

Among those from the county were Donald Failinger, Dale King and Larry Cooper.

The Army was seen giving priority to conventional arms, geared for limited, not all-out, conflict.

Added To Faculty At Romney High

Miss Katherine Jane Glotfelty, of Oakland, was added to the faculty at Romney High school this year. She is teaching physical education and mathematics.

Miss Glotfelty has attended both Frostburg State Teachers college, and Davis and Elkins college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Glotfelty, Oakland.

Last fall Miss Glotfelty was the only student from D. and E. that was named as all-star hockey player by the Pittsburgh professionals.

A record 73.9 million motor vehicles will be registered in U. S. by end of year.

Director Explains Provisions Of New Social Security Law

New provisions of the Social Security Act became law when President Eisenhower signed the 1960 Amendments recently. Here is a short outline of the new provisions:

1. Disability Insurance now paid to disabled worker regardless of age. Only the age limit has been changed, not the degree of severity or the length of work required. Effective - November 1960.

2. Increased amount for some children of deceased workers. Effective- January 1961.

3. Some survivors of workers who died between March 31, 1938 and January 1, 1940 may now get funds. Effective- October 1960.

4. Dependent widowers, of women workers who died before September 1950, may be able to qualify now for funds. Effective - October 1960.

5. Beginning with 1961 a beneficiary who earns more than $1,200 in a year will have $1 of his amount withheld for each $2 that he earns from $1,200 up to $1,500. For every $1 that his earnings go above $1,500, $1 of funds will be withheld. There is no change in the provision that he will get a check for any month in which he neither earns more than $100.00 in wages nor renders substantial services in self-employment. The old rules remain in effect through December 1960.

6. The amount of work required to get funds is reduced effective with October 1960. Just how long one must work depends on date of birth. Simply stated one must now have one quarter of work or self-employment for every three calendar quarters that elapse after 1950. The old rule was one quarter of work for every two calendar quarters that went by after 1950.

7. Beginning January 1, 1961, a parent (father or mother) working for a son or daughter is covered by the Social Security Act, (except when the work is domestic service, or not in the course of the son or daughter's trade or business).

There are a number of other technical changes in the law that affect mostly state and local government employees, and employees of non-profit organizations.

Information about how these amendments affect one may be obtained from the Cumberland Social Security Office at 6 Pershing St., Cumberland.

Fertilizer Important For Top Yields Of Small Grain

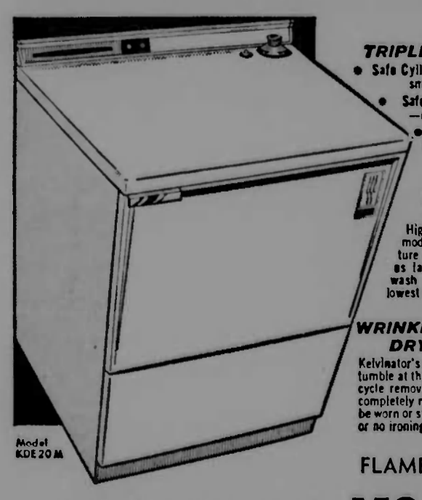
You can't get top yields of wheat, barley, and other small grain crops when they are half starved. Dr. James R. Miller of the University of Maryland Agronomy Department points out that applying fertilizer in the fall is very important in getting small grain crops off to a good start and thus getting better yields of grain and straw. He emphasized that the application of fertilizer is extremely important on soils that are low in plant food. According to Dr. Miller, a fertilizer test plot conducted during the 1959-60 crop year showed that wheat receiving no fertilizer yielded only 13.6 bushels per acre, and when 300 lbs. per acre of 5-10-10 was applied at the time of seeding the yield was increased to 32 bushels. He also pointed out that an extra 30 lbs. per acre of nitrogen applied in the early spring increased the yield to 37 bushels.

Dr. Miller also stressed the importance of a good liming program for small grains. He stated that the yields of these crops are often reduced because the soil is too acid (sour) and needs an application of lime. Be sure to use adequate lime to bring the soil up to about pH 6.5, he urged.

Best way to determine the amount of lime and fertilizer needed to grow top yields of small grains on your farm is to have your soil tested. Your county agent can provide you with soil sample boxes and information on soil testing. Soil samples that have been collected may be returned to your county agent for free mailing, or can be mailed to the Soil Testing Laboratory, University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland.

In the absence of soil tests, Dr. Miller listed the following general fertilizer recommendations for small grains.

1. On soils where lodging of small grain is not a problem, use 350 lbs. per acre of 4-12-12 fertilizer or its equivalent at seeding time, and then topdress just before growth begins in the early spring with 20 to 45 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre. In most sections of Maryland the best time to topdress with nitrogen is in late February or early March. The higher rates of nitrogen should be used on the lighter, sandy soils.



2. On soils where lodging is a problem, 200 lbs per acre of 0-20-20 or its equivalent is recommended at seeding time with no topdressing of nitrogen in the spring.

The Promisers . . .

Two weeks ago we had an editorial on "The Spenders," and pointed out that the Democratic candidates were labeled the architects of fiscal irresponsibility and the builders of deficit. It's the old Roooscvelt policy of "Tax and spend, tax and spend," which the voters repudiated after Truman took over.

Voters must realize that the Democrats are running Roosevelt and Truman again. In Senator Kennedy's speeches and before his TV audience, he spoke endearingly of those outlandish spending policies of the former Democratic presidents.

This week, let's spend a few minutes more on spending and promises. There are politicians, who if their constituents were cannibals, would promise them missionaries for dinner. The Democratic candidates have figuratively promised the moon. Kennedy has promised a crash program comparable to the first 100 days of the New Deal, which caused our national debt to soar out of sight. He promises aid for depressed areas on a big scale, urban renewal, more aid for housing, schools, including aid for teacher salaries; more farm aid, aid to the aged, whether they wanted it or not.

Even if he actually desired to do all those things for all people, he would have a Congress to face before any such legislation could become law, and Congress has shown proper restraint. Kennedy demonstrated in the short session of the Congress that he was unable to be a leader.

But make no mistake. He is counting on his wild promises to get him votes. Perhaps they will, but we are more inclined to believe the people will show their sanity and responsibility. Where would the money come from, and who would pay the taxes? This never worries Kennedy. He said aid to elderly would come out of social security, but who puts money into social security but the taxpayers. If more goes out, more must be collected.

Among his promises is more activity by government—let government do it for you. It's the old Roosevelt give away program. You name it, we'll promise it, and promise no more taxes along with it, says Kennedy.

Surely people are not that stupid. We'll prove they are not on November 8, with a whopping majority for Nixon and Lodge for president and vice-president, and Charles McC. Mathias for Congress.

I'm counting on the voter to know the difference between a hog-wild, would-be spender, and a responsible and experienced candidate.

Highlanders And Huskies To Meet In Night Battle

Will Be First Game Under Lights At Southern; Plan For Homecoming

The annual football classic between the Southern High Highlanders and the Northern High Huskies will take place Friday night on the Southern High gridiron, in the first night game on the local field. The game time is 8 o'clock.

The Athletic Boosters' club was successful in a campaign to raise funds for installation of football lights and work of erecting them was completed this week. Other work around the field needs to be done to complete the project but everything is in readiness for Friday night's encounter.

The event will also be the Homecoming celebration for Southern High school, with a Homecoming king and queen to be named between halves of the match between the two high schools of the county. A Homecoming dance will be held on Saturday night.

Both teams were scheduled to have pre-game thuses to work up some enthusiasm for the annual struggle.

Both teams will be trying for their third victory of the season. Northern won from Terra Alta and Keyser "B" teams while losing to Meyersdale and Masontown Valley. Southern won from Moorefield and Romney School for the Deaf while losing to Beall High of Frostborg and St. Francis of Morgantown.

Likewise the teams will be seeking their third win over their rivals Southern won over Northern in 1958 and 1959 by scores of 12 to 0 and 40 to 13. Northern won over Southern in 1956 and 1957 by scores of 21 to 18, and 35 to 0. In the first year of competition for Northern the Huskies beat a

Mrs. Carlson Gets Suspended Sentence

Mrs. Bonnie Carlson, former clerk and collector for Mt. Lake Park, pleaded guilty last Friday to embezzling $167.02 in municipal funds.

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley imposed a six months' sentence in the Garrett county jail but suspended it. He noted that Mrs. Carlson had returned all the money.

Mrs. Carlson pleaded guilty to the first count of a four-count indictment as the trial opened in the Circuit court. State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover then moved that the other counts be dismissed.

Mrs. Carlson was charged with cashing several checks made out to the city without recording them in the books.

She had been indicted by the September grand jury.

Johnson to Appear in Cumberland for Talk

Craig Matthews, campaign manager for Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic vice presidential nominee, announced that Johnson would make a one-day tour of Maryland and would be in Cumberland on Friday for a speech.

He said Johnson would arrive at the airport about 11:45 a. m., and that a reception would be held at the airport, after which the group would motor to the City Hall plaza where he would make an address. His talk was scheduled for 12 o'clock noon. He would board his plane at 12:45 for a flight to Hagerstown and then to Salisbury.

The old office in an ancient building adjacent to the railroad tracks, was officially closed on Friday evening, September 30. Roger Wayne DeBerry, of near Deer Park, died Friday in District of Columbia General hospital in Washington where he was admitted Wednesday as a polio patient.

The 22-year-old Garrett countian became ill last Tuesday while visiting in the Baltimore area. On the following day he was admitted to the Washington hospital where his illness was diagnosed as the bolbar type of polio.

Second in the County

The young man is the fourth victim of polio to be reported in the tri-state region and the second such in this county. Somerset county, Pa., has two recorded two deaths.

Previous victims were Mrs. William E. Fitzwater, Jr., 27, of near Swanton, who died August 15 in Shadyside hospital, Pittsburgh; Carol Ann Beabes, 10, route 2, Somerset, who died August 16 in Children's hospital in Pittsburgh; and Stephen Grant Faidley, 14, of Meyersdale, who died September 22 in Children's hospital, Pittsburgh, where he had been a patient six weeks.

Much Talk, Little Action Marks City Council Meeting

Considerable discussion, but little action, marked Monday evening's meeting of the Oakland Mayor and Town Council, which was attended by all members.

Under discussion was the progress of a number of projects already underway, including the new Youghiogheny river water supply and a storm sewer installation on Eighth street.

E. W. Adams, chairman of the Water committee, reported on the current drive to have all water consumers placed on the meter system. He was advised to determine the number of meters still needed to complete the installation, and to report at the next meeting.

Asks Garbage Opinion

Carlton Hinebaugh, who holds the contract for collection of trash and garbage in the town, appeared before the council for a clarification of his responsibilities. He declared that he had recently been asked to remove unusually large accumulations from the Ray Teets garage property, and had refused to do so. He asked council to determine what constitutes garbage removal under terms of his contract.

Council referred him to a decision of the group recorded at the December 9, 1957 meeting, where-

Self-Inflicted Wound Fatal to Frank King

A 43-year-old man was found dead in the cab of a truck over the week-end. He died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, authorities said.

Frank Carl King, of Deep Creek Lake, who did odd jobs in that area was found slumped on the seat of the truck parked near the Sky View Tavern in the vicinity of the Deep Creek bridge on route 219.

Authorities said the fatal shooting occurred either late Friday night or early Saturday morning. Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, acting deputy medical examiner, ruled the man's death a suicide.

Police said the man was found by a passing motorist, Douglas M. Farley, of McKeesport. The victim used a Winchester model 72, .22 calibre rifle, according to police, who said the gun was found in the cab, partially covered by the victim's body.

They said the family was unable to give a reason for the shooting. Sheriff James E. Frantz, who was called, contacted Dr. Baumgartner and Cpl. Robert D. Henline, State police, who assisted in the investigation.

Mr. King was born at Charleroi, Pa., a son of Mrs. Margaret Mohr King Sloan. He was a veteran of World War II and of the Korean War, and was a member of Proctor Kildow Post No. 71, American Legion, Oakland.

Surviving besides his mother are two brothers, Wilbur King, Charleroi; Robert King, Glen Burnie; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Orris, Brownsville, Pa.

The body was taken to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland. Funeral services were conducted from the Funeral home on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church in Oakland. Burial was in Oakland cemetery.

Bus Drivers Meet

The annual banquet of the Garrett County School Bus operators association was held last Friday evening at Southern High school cafeteria.

Principal speaker was Maurice Rennels, state supervisor of public school transportation, who outlined the responsibility of the bus drivers and gave figures on the transportation system.

Mr. Rennels was, previous to his appointment in August, the superintendent of schools of Cecil county.

Charles C. Bender, Grantsville, retiring president, was master of ceremonies. New officers were recently elected at a business meeting of the group and include Audley Riley, president; Wilmer Margroff, vice-president; Rodger Bond, secretary; and Asa Nethken, treasurer. New members of the Board of Directors were Leslie Savage, Charles V. Harvey and Charles Bender.

Over two hundred bus operators, their wives and guests attended.

AMONG THE FIRST—Garland Friend and Clarence Sharpless were among the first customers appearing at the new post office building in Mt. Lake Park last Saturday morning. Behind the counter is George Perrine, postmaster there since 1950. The building is described in a story on this page of today's newspaper.

New Post Office At Mt. Lake Park Open For Business

Mt. Lake Park's new post office building was officially opened for business last Saturday morning, October 1. Business at the old office adjacent to the railroad track was concluded on Friday evening, and everything was ready to go the next morning at the new location, on the north side of route 135, opposite the intersection of state route 560.

The new structure of brick and stone provides 1,750 square feet of floor space compared to 605 in the old building and has 315 boxes available for customers in comparison to 230 in the old building.

George Perrine, postmaster since 1950 and acting postmaster for a year previous to that, said that practically all the boxes had been rented.

A contract for construction and lease to the post office department was signed last September with the Naylor company, with a lease to run ten years with renewal options.

Other features of the new building include a box lobby, a service lobby, the working area, a loading platform in rear, and plenty of parking space on three sides. There is new equipment throughout.

The Mt. Lake post office is a third class office which is based on stamp sales. Stamp sales in 1959 amounted to $5,609. Assisting Mr. Perrine is Leo V. Stottlemeyer, clerk.

Mr. Perrine is not sure of the date the Mt. Lake post office was established but its goes back many years. The office one time was located in Loch Lynn, then near the railroad but this latter place was burned and the office established in the building near the railroad where it remained until last Friday evening.

The postmaster previous to Mr. Perrine was Miss Katherine O'Donnell.

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club is planning a dedication ceremony in the near future. The date has not been announced.

Unofficial Figures Show Republicans With 2,146 Majority

Latest figures on registration in the county, which are purely unofficial, show Republicans with 5,838, and Democrats with 3,692, for a majority of 2,146.

These figures will be reduced when the names of persons who have died since April 16 are subtracted, and other persons who may have removed from the county since that time. Official figures will not be known until after October 20, according to Miss Julia Rowan, chief registrar and clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors. Independents and others are totaled at 36, making total unofficial registration at 9,566.

Total registration for the primary was 8,913.

Since the primary election in May the names of 620 voters have been added to the books, 363 Republicans and 257 Democrats.

Many Persons Plan to Attend Republican Rally at Accident

Several hundred persons are planning to attend the Republican rally this evening at the Accident Elementary school at 8 o'clock, which will climax a county-wide tour of Charles McC. Mathias, Republican candidate for congress from this district.

Mr. Mathias is slated to address the group, as is also Reed Benson, eldest son of Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture who has gained recognition as a nationally known orator.

Plans for the rally were made jointly by the Republican State Central Committee and the Republican Women's club. Refreshments will be served by the Republican women and they also have secured a number of Republican young women who will serve as hostesses.

Lewis R. Jones, Oakland attorney, will serve as master of ceremonies and music will be furnished by a group from Sang Run.

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall several days ago had signified his intention to be present as will Harold Porter, chairman of the Republican district committee, of Hagerstown, and possibly other dignitaries.

Mr. Mathias was scheduled to arrive in Grantsville this morning where he was to be met by Republican workers of the county who planned to accompany him on his tour of the county.

The rally will point up a number of reasons why voters should cast their ballots on November 8 for Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge for President and Vice-President of the United States, and for Charles McC. Mathias for Congress.

Excursionists Due In Oakland Sunday

Some 800 or more persons from Baltimore and Washington will come to Garrett county Sunday on the Autumn Glory excursion and will take a three to four hour bus-eye view of Garrett county and its autumn foliage and natural beauty.

Plans for the annual observance of the occasion were completed last week by the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, and the Garrett County Turkey Growers, in conjunction with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company.

The excursionists will be met at the station about noon by the Southern High school band. They will travel by bus to Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, Deep Creek Lake, visit a turkey farm and then go to the state park on Meadow Mountain where there will be a water pageant by members of the Deep Creek Water Ski club.

Twenty-four schools buses have been provided for the tour. The train will leave Oakland on its return journey about 3:30 o'clock. There will be booths at Swallow Falls and the State Park where soft drinks, coffee, candy and packaged food will be available. Five turkeys are to be given away.

Yuhaniak Gets 8 Years On 2nd Degree Murder Count

Baltimore Man Sent To Maryland Penitentiary For Fatally Shooting Wife During Heated Argument

A Baltimore man, John Joseph Yuhaniak, 34, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury Tuesday afternoon and Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley sentenced him to serve eight years in the Maryland penitentiary.

The sentence in all probability will begin from the time he was placed in jail on August 19, and he would be eligible for parole within three years. The maximum sentence possible was eighteen years.

Yuhaniak, was found guilty of the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Yuhaniak, 39, when they were vacationing in the New Germany area of the county.

The trial was completed Tuesday about noon after one and one-half days of testimony. The jury received the case about 1:30 and returned the verdict after about an hour's deliberation. Frank McDaniel, cashier of the First National Bank, served as foreman of the jury and the other eleven men were Ralph Humberson, Paul DeWitt Charles C Reckard, Orville Stark, Paul Bachtel, Lester Bernard, Owen Stanton, Bill Hahn, Floyd Leighton, I. R. Rudy, Jr., and Harry L. Stemple. Mr. McDaniel and the four last named men were impaneled after the regular petit juror list had been exhausted with only seven persons qualifying. All women and several men were challenged and some declared they had conscientious scruples against capital punishment.

Prior to sentencing, Irving Friedman, Baltimore, one of the defense attorneys, said the defense would be bound by the decision of the jury and that he felt it had been a fair trial. He asked the court to make the sentence as lenient as possible, since the man had been caring for his parents.

Judge Fraley said the most difficult job for any judge was passing sentence in criminal cases. "Not only the defendant suffers but parents and others soffer," he declared. "However," he continued, 'the court has a duty to perform. I believe that the verdict of the jury was well supported by the evidence."

He further stated: "I am not a firm believer in long sentences. This man had no previous convictions. It is not hard to tell what happened here. Too much to drink, a quarrel and a convenient gun that has resulted in a tragic circumstance. A woman has lost her life and a man has been convicted of a serious crime. This is not a case for a maximum sentence." The sentence of the court followed.

On the stand Monday were Clarence Yaist, an uncle of the dead woman, his wife, Margaret Yaist, Trooper George Robinett, Sgt. Sam Conrad, of the State Police, Sgt. N. J. W. Lloyd, ballistics expert for the state police, and Dr. W. O. McLane, Frostburg, medical examiner. Monday afternoon three witnesses took the stand on behalf of the defendant. They were Mrs. Mary Yuhaniak, mother of the accused; John L. Dix, of the American Sugar Refinery company, supervisor of Yuhaniak at the plant, and James Holmes, Frostburg, a patron of Rustic Tavern on U. S. route 40 where the couple was prior to the shooting, Tuesday morning the accused was the only witness.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Yaist testified that the defendant told them that he had shot his wife, but Yuhaniak did not remember this remark when on the witness stand. Sgt. Lloyd established that the bullet had been fired six inches or less from the head of the slain

School Board Hears Reasons for Opposing Warfield Report

The case for the expansion of Maryland teacher colleges under the State Department of Education was presented to the members of the County Board of Education at a special meeting Monday, October 3, by Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools.

Dr. Pullen appeared before the board to discuss the implications of the Warfield Commission's report, which recommended that the University of Maryland take over the state teacher colleges and operate them as liberal arts colleges, or branches of the University.

Dr. Pullen and most members of the State Board of Education have taken a strong stand against such a move.

In his discussion with the local board members Dr. Pullen pointed out that the per pupil costs would rise considerably under the plan of the Warfield commission which would work a hardship on many students in both Garrett and Allegany county. He also felt that fewer rather than more students would enter the teaching profession under the plan. Dr. Pullen said he felt that a wider expansion of the public junior colleges providing low cost higher education for a period of two years and the expansion of the curriculum of the teacher colleges to include the liberal arts program under administration of the State Board of Edocation, was the best solution to the problems of teacher needs and to the soaring

A successful season for picnicking, camping and other outdoor recreation has ended for season at Deep Creek State Park.

Ward Ashby, park superintendent, said use of the park which has been open the past two years, increased two-fold this year.

The Park will be re-opened Sunday for the Autumn Glory time.

The outdoor camping season began May 15 and overall attendance increased at the beaches and in the camping area from 48,000 in 1959 to 75,000 this year.

The President Hailed . . .

Senator Kennedy has been attempting to belittle President Eisenhower's actions in the United Nations but the chief executive was hailed by New Yorkers the other day as no other person ever was hailed.

As one magazine put it: "I have never seen New Yorkers so demonstrative. They cheered, applauded; iron workers removed their helmets when the President passed; truckers honked, waiters rushed out of cafes, ancient American flags loug out of service appeared at countless windows. It was the same in the rich and poor districts."

The President saw it as a demonstration by Americans for their country and he appreciated it.

The American people are behind the president in a crisis. From Khrushchev to Nasser to Kennedy, no one could miss the message.

Listen Americans!

. . . by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

What can an individual citizen do in the fight against world Communism? This question is being asked everywhere.

Here's what you can do:

1. Study and obtain an understanding of Communism and how the world-wide apparatus is working to destroy our nation and rule the world. Do this immediately; it is one of the most important tasks you have, if you wish to remain free. Write for our National Education Program catalog of educational materials. Write your Congressman for a copy of Mr. Hoover's report, "Communism Target—Youth."

2. Study and obtain an understanding of the American way of life—our capitalistic economic system, our constitutional government, the history of our unmatched progress. Educational material on all this is listed in our NEP catalog.

3. Be sure your children have an understanding of Communism and how the Reds work to attract youth. This is your responsibility in your home. Go to your local school officials and see that they know the facts and are transmitting those facts to the children in their care. We have a series of classroom movies for this purpose; good ones are available elsewhere.

4. If there is a college in your area go to the president and discuss this problem. Show him a copy of J. Edgar Hoover's report. Ask him to read such books as "Collectivism on the Campus," by E. Merrill Root (Devin-Adair, N. Y.), "The Naked Communist," by W. Cleon Skousen (Ensign Publishing Co., Salt Lake City, Utah), former FBI official; and some of the materials listed in our catalog.

5. Demand of the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and your representatives in Congress that our nation immediately establish a foreign policy based on Godly moral principles and supporting freedom for all mankind—to replace the policy of "co-existence" with evil. Demand that our nation take the offensive in the "Cold War" with the objective of victory over Communism.

6. Become politically active in the party of your choice. This will require sacrifices but it is an obligation of citizenship that cannot be delegated to some other person—if you want to remain free.

7. Join a citizen group dedicated to upholding American principles and resisting Socialism-Communism. Give some time each day to its objectives.

8. Obtain, through purchase or rental, the filmstrip, "Communism on the Map," and show it to every group you can reach in your community.

9. Exemplify in your character and in your citizenship activities the Christian virtues upon which any free society must be built and preserved.

10. Pray to God Almighty every day for guidance in performing your mission as a child of God and your duties as an American citizen.

Settle Damage Suits

Two damage suits filed by a Barton area farmer from this county in the Circuit court at Oakland against strip mine operators have been settled out of court for $500 each, according to H. P. Whitworth, Jr., attorney.

James Magruder, whose farm is located several miles west of Barton, in this county, is the plaintiff in both suits.

The first suit was started last Friday in the Oakland court but settlement was reached before the trial was concluded. The action was brought against the Koontz Coal company, Frostburg, for damage to fences on the farm during strip mining operations.

The second action was brought against Chelsie Liller, who operated a spoil pile near the Magruder farm. The plaintiff contended that water damage on his farm was attributed to the Liller operations. This case was set for hearing today but has been settled.

Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, who died in Denver, was buried September 30.

General Twining retired from chairmanship of Joint Chiefs of Staff. Gen. Lyman L. Lemitzer, is the new chief.

Fog Prevents Frost

Garrett county had a plentiful supply of fog yesterday morning which prevented a killing frost in most areas. However where there was no fog the 31 degree temperature took its toll.

Just a few miles away, at Davis, W. Va., there was no fog and the temperature dropped to 28 degrees, for its first killing frost.

This has been an unusually long growing season, and very seldom does it get this late in the fall without a killing frost. One can be expected soon.

Only a few of the forests have put on their autumn coloring.

The temperature was near the frost line several other days of the week. Rain was falling this morning but the weather was expected to clear by noon.

Junior High Battles To Draw at Elkins

Southern's junior high football coached by William Watson battled the Elkin's junior high team to a 0-0 tie last Friday in Elkins to stop a 26 game winning streak which dated back to 1955.

Chief Wagner, coach since 1954, hasn't tied a game in 29 starts. Southern gained 169 yards compared to 112 for Elkins and made seven first downs to four. A return match is scheduled for October 20 on Southern's field.

Southern fumbled three times and once near the goal line when Thayer let the ball drop which Elkins recovered.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

Tall Like Daddy

- D & C
- B. S.
- Hair Thinning

Q. Is it possible to predict how tall a child will be when he grows up?

A. It is possible to make an educated guess. If interested, request a "How Tall" card, directing your request to SCIENCE EDITORS, P. O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., New York 10, N. Y.

Q. I am 35, and have had two D and C's for blocked tubes, but no luck. Is there any chance of having children?

A. First, D and C (dilatation and curettage) is done for purposes other than to "unblock" the tubes. Infertility is often a very complex problem. Both the husband and wife should be examined and the cause of the difficulty pinpointed, if possible. Having discovered the cause, the doctor will employ whatever is called for by way of corrective treament. Don't be discouraged if the doctor fails to solve the problem in a few visits. It may take time to determine the reason for the difficulty.

Q. Why is "bachelor" used in connection with college degrees?

A. It is probably derived from the word "baccalarius," a term applied to young English knights who fought under the banner of someone else, hence, knight bachelor. Pope Gregory IX (1227-41) first used the term to designate a person who had passed an academic examination but who was not yet a "master" or "doctor".

Q. What causes hair thinning in young women?

A. Hair thinning in younger women seems to occur more often now than formerly. A group of New York doctors investigated this problem but failed to come up with an answer. To quote the physicians, "There has been no specific approach, and indeed no satisfactory approach, to treatment of this condition."

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

The church council also plans to meet Tuesday, October 11, at 7:30 in the parish house.

Lose 6,800 Gallons of Asphalt Compound

The County Roads department lost some 6,800 gallons of asphalt sometime Monday night from a tank car on the railroad siding near the Oakland Lumber company, Darrell Wotring, roads supervisor, said some unknown person apparently had opened the valve some time between 4:30 p.m. Monday and 7 a.m. Tuesday.

They had received 10,000 gallons that day and had filled two distributors leaving about 6,800 gallons in the tank. He estimated the value of the asphalt lost at $862.92. Mr. Wotring said the roads department was offering $100 reward for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons responsible. He said he was inclined to believe it had been done for spite. One thousand gallons of asphalt would have oiled approximately one-third of a mile of 16-foot highway, he estimated.

Mr. Wotring said that improvement work was continuing. He said the Bishop-Friendsville road was complete and the White Rock-Cranesville road finished all but the calcium treatment. Road crews are at present relocating the North Hill road between Shallmar and Kitzmiller, making it safer for school buses to run.

Firemen Are Called

Oakland firemen were called yesterday morning to extinguish a blaze that had enveloped a tar wagon of the Keeley Construction that was preparing to oil some streets in Mt. Lake Park.

Other than several burned hoses there was no serious damage.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son, William Emerson Thomas, Jr., whom God called home October 6, 1947.

Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where love never dies,
He lives in a land of glory,
Amidst the blue and golden sky.
Not dead to us who loved him,
But only gone before.
He lives with us in memory
And will for evermore.

Centennial Museum Project on Civil War Gains Momentum

About 140 separate museum pieces pertaining to the Civil War have been located by the Civil War Centennial Museum Committee headed by John H. Wolf. Arrangements are being made with the owners for loans during the life of the project, the owners to be protected by insurance against loss by fire, theft, or other accidental circumstances. Plans are as yet tentative as to the location of the museum, which may be in Oakland, at Deep Creek Lake, Grantsville, Friendsville, or other towns, or perhaps successively shown at several locations.

One committee member, Edward R. O'Donnell, is a widely famed gun collector, having what is probably the finest private collection in the state. It includes about 150 shoulder guns, besides several bushel baskets of pistols and revolvers. Ten or twelve of his items are weapons used during the War; various types of muskets, the famous Spencer repeating carbine, cavalry sabers, other related items.

Interesting paper items have been listed. These will occupy little space as they will be exhibited in glassed frames and hung on walls. Among them are $500 Confederate States of America bond, the interest rate of which was 6%. Attached are 18 coupons one payable every six months, the value on paper of each $15. Many pieces of C. S. A. paper currently are listed, the denominations being from $500 down to $5.

Other printed museum pieces are a one page newspaper printed on the back of wall paper in Vicksburg during the siege, newsprint paper as well as other desperately needed supplies being unobtainable because of the Union land and river blockade. Another interesting item is the front and back page of a newspaper of April, 1865, reporting to a shocked nation the death of President Lincoln.

All Garrett County residents who possess or know the whereabouts of articles suitable and obtainable for the Civil War Centennial Museum, particularly such as pertain to the county area and its people are urged to communicate with the committee chairman, John H. Wolf, Oakland.

Seeks Help Against Carpetbagging Ways

Charles "Mac" Mathias, Republican candidate for Congress from Maryland's Sixth district has called for a Crusade of independence by the Sixth District voters to help stem the greatest carpetbagging invasion ever engineered against a Congressional candidate in Maryland.

Mathias in a radio address to the people of Frederick said "A mass effort of gathering political names is being rushed into our Sixth District to make numerous speeches in support of my opponent for Congress who is reported to be in trouble with the voters. My opponent apparently cannot find support here at home in this district, so it has to be imported.

"From now until Election Day, November 8, these five counties in Western Maryland will be invaded by a Northeastern college economist who wants to take our money away by federal taxation; a midwest representative of the Farmers, a governor of the West Coast and others."

Mathias said "The people of Maryland in another past election in our state rebelled against outside interference in our internal politics. I have faith that in this Sixth Congressional race the voter will again make up his own mind and choose between me and my opponent and by evaluating our stand on the issues."

Presses His Attack

Mathias presses his attack on his Democratic opponent's record of "Present—But Not Accounted For when it came to the best interests of the Sixth District Voters" in a debate September 27 before the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce.

"The voters in the Sixth District are entitled to know the real issues in this campaign and I intend to keep spotlighting them even though the Congressman attempts to dodge and avoid mentioning them," Mathias said.

Mathias quoted from two publications, which he said clearly polarizes the impotence of the present Congressman to give the Sixth District voters responsible representation.

"Try as Congressman Foley may, he cannot explain satisfactorily why he voted 100% in favor of all spending measures and a 0% for economy as the Congressional Quarterly reported," Mathias said.

"On the other hand the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, controlled by the big Labor bosses gave my opponent 100% for voting for their own special interests—which are not necessarily those of the Sixth District."

"COPE rated the members of Congress whether or not they voted in record with Big Labor wishes. For example, a vote against the highly desirable Landrum-Griffin Labor Bill", Mathias explained, "a bill designed to control corrupt union practices earned a Congressman a plus—which my opponent received."

"When it comes to the real important matters concerning the Sixth District why didn't John Foley chalk up a 100% record in its favor?" Mathias asked.

"Why did he permit his desire for the halo of publicity to interfere with intelligent legislative procedure which would have insured the passage of the C & O Canal Park Bill in the House after it had been approved in the Senate?

"Why did he permit his amateurish fumbling and bungling to deal such a cruel blow to the Fairchild plant workers who lost their jobs when the F-27 $10,000,000 appropriation was rejected by the House again after the Senate had already approved it? How does he explain letting so few members of Congress decide the fate of these people?"

Man Released Because Of Insufficient Evidence

Stanley Lloyd, of the Broadford road area, was charged by Sheriff James Frantz with aiding and assisting in the escape of Stanley W. Tasker, Julian Ervin, Jr., and Walter Lee Davis from the county jail several weeks ago.

At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney the charge was dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Frantz had claimed that he was the one that provided the hack saws with which they sawed their way to freedom.

Diamond drilling for coal and other mineral deposits is a common occurrence today, but today's old photo shows one of the early attempts to locate veins by this method in Garrett county.

The picture shows the drilling crew at work on the J. M. Nugent property, in District 8 opposite the town of Bayard. The time is early in the century.

A newspaper account of the period states, "Pittsburgh capitalists have a diamond drill at work on the Western Maryland railroad, where holes are being put down for coal. When the deposits have been tested, a modern coal mining plant will be put into operation.

"Upon completing the test of the Maryland side of the river, borings will be made on the West Virginia side."

Apparently these efforts to locate coal were successful, for several rather large mines were subsequently opened in that vicinity, and will be shown in some future old picture column.

The photograph belongs to Virgil Steyer.

About Stem Rock

Some sort of record for speedy identification of old picture subjects was established last week when all had been identified just minutes after the paper had been published.

Mrs. Mary Browning, who had purchased a copy of the newspaper soon after it went to press, returned with a written list of those shown in the picture even before the press run had been completed!

Bottom row: Walter Falkenstein, Bess Hendrickson, Mabel Falkenstein, Chester Hardesty and Harry Beeghly. She added that the picture had been taken by Zenos Mellott, and confirmed the earlier estimate of the date as about 1915.

One of those shown in the photograph also submitted identification. He is Clarence A. Mayle, who was shown on top of the rock, the fifth from the left.

According to Mr. Mayle, Stem Rock is located about one-half mile from the Maple Glade road, on the Oakland-Crabtreeville road. He said it is about 25 or 30 feet high, and is still in existence. Confirming that the picture was taken by Mr. Mellott, he placed the date as 1912.

Several persons were unanimous in declaring that Stem Rock is located in the vicinity of the Shaggy Mountain fire tower, and expressed the opinion that the area had grown up to such an extent that difficulty would be experienced in finding it today.

However, Jackson Thomas, who lives on Route 219 near Oakland, reports running across the rock quite by accident while cutting timber last year.

He said while working in the Shaggy mountain section in the summer of 1959 he observed the stone, which, he reported, "Looks just like the picture printed in The Republican."

He reported the rock was actually located across the state line in West Virginia, and not in Garrett county, as was supposed, a fact which probably misled recent would-be explorers in their quest.

That Kitzmiller School

A number of readers have called attention to an error in describing the Kitzmiller school, shown several weeks ago, in the accompanying story. It was stated that the building was washed away by the Kitzmiller flood of March 29, 1924.

Further research discloses that this was not the case. The building pictured is still standing, but is no longer used for school purposes. The structure which was destroyed by the flood waters was actually an earlier school, built in 1884. This original building served the purpose of the school house and church until the first Methodist church was built in 1887. From about 1902 until its destruction in 1924, it was used as a garage by Grant Pew and Stanley Bender.

LOOK WHAT DODGE HAS DONE FOR COMPACTS

The name, Lancer: one hardtop; one 2-door sedan; two 4-door sedans; two wagons. What kind of cars are they? This kind: two feet shorter; many pounds leaner; a couple of hundred dollars less in cost than usual automobiles. Lancer welcomes a family of six lavishly. Has plenty of trunk. Its fully-unitized body is very quiet, very tough. Lancer is also mannerly. It corners decisively, takes a well scarred road with aplomb. Parks obediently. More reasons to buy? Read on. The interiors are rich, but simple: Shed soil, wear well, feel good. The engine is highly spirited, but extremely light on regular gasoline. One more thing, Lancer is built by Dodge. Our name is on it. This means Lancer will stay nice and shiny. How so? The body is rustproofed by an exclusive Chrysler Corporation process. Enough talk. Meet Lancer at your Dodge Dealer. Now.

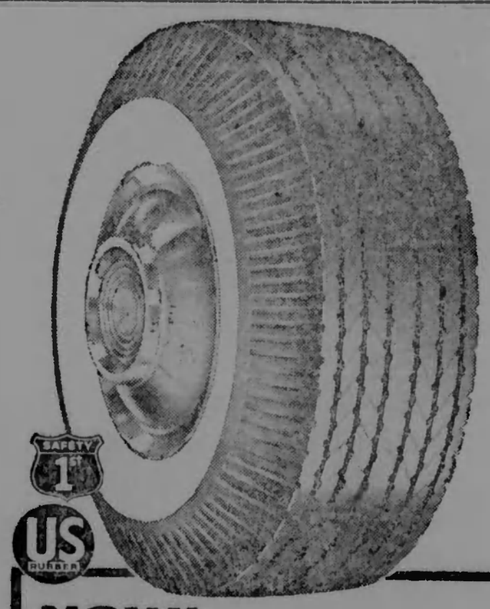
Gifts Are Planned For Mental Patients

Plans are under way by the Mental Health Association of the state to bring Christmas gifts to the more than 6,500 patients in the state mental hospitals, who might otherwise be forgotten.

Garrett county is arranging to participate in this program. Mrs. Paul B. Naylor, president of the local Mental Health association, has arranged with the Ruth Enlow library to have gifts left there from the present time up to November 28th. The project is being sponsored by the Oakland Civic club.

Presidents in Loch Lynn and Mt. Lake Park may leave their gifts with Mrs. Albert Bess at Friendsville. Mrs. Thomas Sisco will be in charge of gifts.

Mrs. Naylor suggested articles that would be suitable for men: talcum, shaving cream, shaving lotion, wallets, ties, belts, stretch socks, mufflers, handkerchiefs; for women, talcum, face powder, lipstick, shampoo, manicure supplies, stretch nylons, purses, scarfs, note paper, handkerchiefs, rain hats and capes; for recreation, playing cards, puzzles, games, pens, magazine subscriptions and cigarets.



Mrs. Naylor pointed out that people could bring much joy to those who might otherwise be missed in a last-minute rush.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST
SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, non-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR

More space... more spunk and wagons, too!

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its Body by Fisher.

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have nearly 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other U.S. wagon going!

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room for people and things as ordinary wagons (shown with optional-at-extra-cost third seat in position).

Leaf Spot Of Elm Is Prevalent In State

Leaf spot of elm, caused by the fungus Gnomonia ulmea, is now prevalent in Maryland, reports Dr. J. B. Wilson, Botany Department, University of Maryland, College of Agriculture. This disease is causing much concern to the growers since they are mistaking it for Dutch elm disease.

Although this disease may occur early in the season causing some premature defoliation, it is more common later in the season. The disease can be recognized by the black spots on the leaves which are somewhat raised and may be up to ⅛ inch in diameter. A severe infection gives the tree an overall unthrifty appearance which the grower might mistake for Dutch elm disease, Dr. Wilson explains.

Fortunately this disease can be controlled by gathering and burning the fallen leaves. This sanitation measure eliminates or reduces the inoculum for infection next year. If you are equipped to spray trees, try Tag 331 or Puratized Agricultural Spray at 10 day intervals, beginning with the first new growth in the spring. A total of three applications is recommended by Dr. Wilson.

Southern Speaks

By Dale Ellis

Tomorrow night, Garrett County's main event of the football season will take place on Southern's field. Under the lights, beginning at 8:00, Northern will meet the Southern Highlanders, who have a record of two wins and two losses.

Preceding the game, a parade will be held in Oakland at 6:00 with several school organizations having floats in the parade. The band will march and the team will be on hand.

Admission to the game will be one dollar for adults. Students with the activity card will be allowed to attend the game for 25 cents. Those without the card will have to pay 50 cents.

Homecoming Dance

Dick Stuck, Ron Colaw, and Jim Haines, all members of the football squad, will attempt to be recognized as the king of the third annual homecoming dance, which will be held in the gymnasium, Saturday night at 8:00.

The queen will be chosen from Shirley Warren, Barbara Rice, and Susan Gibson. The girl who wins will be announced during the half time program of the game tomorrow night.

Kenneth Johns, principal, will crown the queen. The key to the lighting box will be given to Mr. Johns during the half time ceremonies by Marvin Jones, president of the Athletic Boosters Club, which raised the money for the lights.

Pep Rally

Southern's first pep rally of the current school year will be held tomorrow afternoon to rouse interest and to show the team that students are backing them.

Classes will be run in a seven period day. The cheerleaders will teach students new cheers and revive old ones that haven't been used for a while. A new fight song was adopted by the school.

Magazine Campaign

Representatives from the Curtis Magazine Company will be at Southern next Wednesday to explain about the magazine campaign which has been an annual project to sell magazines in the county by the school.

Southern receives a percentage from the money that is raised. The goal has been set at $3,500. Mr. Eugene Flinn is the faculty advisor. Barbara Rice is student chairman of the drive and Esther Yoder will be her assistant.

Clubs Organized

Eighteen clubs met for their first meeting yesterday. Students who joined a club had to have the permission of the teachers in charge to join. Students should have average grades in all classes before enrolling in a club.

Senior high clubs are Girl's Athletic Association, Varsity Club, Philosophy Club, Future Homemakers of America, Future Nurses of America, Senior Dramatics, Audio Visual Aids, Future Farmers of America, Future Business Leaders of America, Senior Art club, Biology club, and the Electronics club.

No World Series

Kenneth Johns, principal, announced that students will not be able to hear the world series over the public address system this year.

Students will be informed of the scores every time there is a change.

Masontown Romps Over Huskies 34-13

Masontown Valley strengthened its bid for top ranking among the schools of the area last Saturday afternoon by defeating Northern High school by a 31 to 13 score at Accident.

The West Virginia school pushed its record to 5-0 for the season. Northern's 13 points represented the first penetration across Valley's goal line this season.

Valley high out-totaled in first downs and rushing yardage and unleashed a lethal passing attack to upset the Huskies.

The invaders completed five of ten passes for 140 yards and made one aerial connection good for a touchdown. Although outgained overland 261 to 207 Valley utilized its ground attack to the maximum, scoring four of its six pointers by that route.

Valley scored first on a 13-yard scamper by quarterback Wilson. Smith rammed off tackle for 48 yards for the second, and Domico, fullback, picked up a Northern fumble and ramhled 54 yards to score for the game's longest run. Valley's fourth score came on a 75-yard pass play from Wilson to Provenson and its last was on an eight-yard run off tackle by Richardson.

Northern's first tally came in the second quarter when Dick McCurdy, on a pitchout circled left end for 18 yards. The Huskies closed their scoring punch in the final quarter on a pass from quarterback Gary Finzel to end Larry Yommer, covering 10 yards.

Northern compiled 12 first downs to eight for Valley, tallied its lone extra point after touchdown on a Finzel to Yommer toss.

Amendments Likely To Baffle Voters At Election Time

When Garrett County citizens go into the voting booths November the 8th it won't take long for them to do their balloting in the presidential and congressional races, but after deciding between Nixon-Lodge and Kennedy-Johnson, and Mathias-Foley, they are likely to be completely baffled by the proposed sixteen constitutional amendments they will find on the voting machines.

The amendments are to be listed across the voting machines by number. Just what wording will be used on the various amendments is still undecided, except that the titling of each amendment will be used.

It has been predicted by election officials that only a minority of the voters will act on each of the 16 amendments. It will be almost impossible for the average voter to render an intelligent decision on the various amendments unless there is preparation made a day or so before the election to ascertain the questions involved.

Of greatest interest among voters in Western Maryland will be Question No. 14, which is a constitutional amendment to the Declaration of Rights which proposes granting authority to the General Assembly to provide that land actively devoted to farm and agricultural use shall be assessed on the basis of such use and shall not be assessed as if sub-divided.

Most of the other amendments have no hearing on residents of this section of Maryland.

There is a constitutional amendment which proposes that a vacancy in the office of state's attorney in a county shall be filled by certain judges, and in Baltimore City the vacancy shall be filled by judges of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City.

There is a constitutional amendment which proposes granting authority to the Board of Public Works to authorize and direct the state treasurer to borrow in the name of the state, in anticipation of collection of taxes, sums necessary to meet temporary treasury deficiencies and to issue short term notes to provide for appropriations already made by the General Assembly.

Another constitutional amendment proposes that the General Assembly may empower any county or municipal corporation, other than Baltimore City, to carry out urban renewal projects involving the redevelopment of slum areas.

Another proposes that upon veto of any bill by the governor, such vetoed bill shall not be returned to the General Assembly when a new General Assembly has been elected and sworn since passage of the vetoed bill.

The order of succession in the event of a vacancy in the office of governor is covered in a constitutional amendment providing the next in succession to the office would be president of the State Senate, speaker of the House of Delegates, comptroller of the state and attorney general of the state.

Voters will also decide on a constitutional amendment which proposes two additional judges for the Court of Appeals of Maryland and for the selection of the judges of the Court of Appeals from appellate judicial circuits, their terms of office, their quorums and the number of judges necessary for a decision of the court.

A referendum on an act which proposes the approval, confirmation and ratification on the part of the State of Maryland of a compact entered into by the state and the Commonwealth of Virginia relating to the fishery resources of the Potomac River and conservation and control thereof will also be voted upon at the general election.

Civil War Soldiers Of Garrett County Will Be Compiled

A complete listing of men of the county area who served during the Civil War in the armies of both Union and Confederacy is being made by Ross C. Durst, a native of New Germany and retired educator now residing in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. Such a listing has not heretofore been made.

Mr. Durst estimates that the total of names will be between 250 and 300. Upon completion a suitably framed and glassed scroll will be made for permanent exhibit in the collections of the Garrett County Historical Society. A copy of the scroll will be among the exhibits of the Civil War Centennial Museum now being organized.

Also a series of articles for publication in the quarterly bulletin of the Historical Society will be prepared by Mr. Durst, who has been a frequent contributor of historical writings to the Glades Star. These will contain episodic material about the men, their regimental or other units, their battles and campaigns.

Several county residents are helping collect names and data. Anyone having knowledge of either North or South during the continent-shaking war is urged to submit memoranda, the soldier's name, military unit regimental or other, place of residence or interment.

Any data collected may be sent by post card to Editor, Glades Star, Oakland, to be forwarded to Mr. Durst, who is making a file index of names. Information may be handed also to the Librarians at the Ruth Enlow library or the Grantsville Branch library.

1934 Hog Prices Down

According to a Pittsburgh Post Gazette paper of Friday, August 17, 1934, found by Gerald Minnich, hogs were at their best price since the fall of 1931.

Including the $2.25 per hundred lbs. processing tax, Chicago packers paid a top of $8.75 for prime swine. The market top of $6.50 was the highest since September, 1931.

The government's campaign to stimulate home repairing strode forward with pledges of 1,131 banks throughout the country to cooperate by making loans for such improvements.

Firmness prevailed in most markets with a slight gain in the bond index.

Statistics Show Role of Women In Labor Market Now

In observance of National Business and Professional Women's Clubs week, October 2 through October 8, the local clubs arranged with Charles L. Briner, of the U. S. Employment service, to compile statistics showing importance of business and professional women in this area.

The local group plans no specific event for this week but will have its regular meeting on October 20 at the Penn Alps, east of Grantsville, when Dr. Alta Schrock, the executive secretary, will be the speaker.

Mr. Briner pointed out that the working force in this county as of April this year, totaled approximately 1,847 non-agricultural employes. Of this number, approximately 650 were females, bearing out national statistics of 1 out of every 3 workers being a women in the 1960's.

He said the largest percentage of women employed would be in the age range 45 to 54 with the second largest group between 20-24. The breakdown shows: factory workers, approximately 212; hospital, 62; school teachers, 118; office workers, receptionists, clerks, bookkeepers, telephone operators, waitresses, etc., approximately 230.

The number of women in the labor market is expected to increase each succeeding year.

The Oakland club now has fifty active members. Its main project is the landscaping of the local hospital. In 1950 $2,000 was raised and $100 to $200 has been contributed annually since that time for the project.

The local club was founded May 8, 1939 with Mrs. Rose R. Gisrlel as the first president. The Maryland State Federation was founded in 1929 while the national federation was founded in 1919.

Purpose of the federation reflects the need for an organized group of business and professional women, banded together for their own interests and advancement and for service they might render to their communities.

Jenkins-Lutes Nuptials Sept. 17th

Janice M. Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jenkins, Swanton, became the bride of Walter R. Lutes, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lutes, Jefferson, Pa., in a candlelight ceremony on Saturday evening, September 17th. Rev. Irvin G. Steiding, former pastor of the Sand Flat Assembly of God Church, performed the double ring ceremony from the Oak Park Church of the Brethren, Oakland.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother Coit, was attired in a silk mist taffeta and rose point lace gown. The molded peaked bodice had an Elizabethan collar and long lace sleeves which ended in points below the wrist. The voluminous silk taffeta skirt, studded with rhinestones, flowed into a graceful chapel train. Her finger tip veil of imported French silk illusion drifted from a crown of rhinestones and pearls. The bride carried a cascade of white mums and Stephanotis arranged around a white orchid.

Elaine B. Jenkins, maid of honor for her sister, wore a street length dress of blue lace over tafferta, featuring three quarter length sleeves and a full sweeping skirt with satin belt to match her shoes and picture hat. She carried a cascade of white mums displayed on a background of blue.

Bridesmaids, Kathryn Jenkins, sister-in-law of the bride, Nancy Dunithan of Washington, D. C., and Joann Sharpless, of Kitzmiller, wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. The bridesmaids carried cascades of white mums and pink asters.

Robert Polander, Philadelphia, served as best-man for his brother-in-law. Ushers were Jim Lutes, Ellsworth, Pa., and Bill Lutes, Conshohocken, Pa., brothers of the groom and Melvin Dunithan of Alexandria, Va.

Flower girl, Kathy Lutes, niece of the groom, wore a gown of blue lace over taffeta. Ringbearer was Lindwood Moon, Hagerstown, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Pat Posey played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied vocalists Carol Fenimore and Carroll Snyder, both of Alexandria, Virginia, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Wherever Thou Goest," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a gray fall suit trimmed in black with black accessories. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her outfit. The groom's mother wore a blue silk print dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

A candlelight reception was held at the William-James Hotel. The reception table was centered with a four-tier cake, topped with a minlature bride and groom. Blue, the bride's color, was carried out in the hotel and cake decorations. Mrs. Dolph O'Brien and Mrs. Robert Polander cut and served the cake, Miss Katherine Filsinger and Mrs. Everett O'Brien presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Morris Moon served coffee, Mrs. Neil Moon managed the guest book, and the Rev. Irvin Steiding acted as Master of Ceremonies. The vocalists again entertained with additional numbers.

For traveling Mrs. Lutes wore a dress of white chiffon over taffeta with a fitted lace bodice, and featuring three-quarter sleeves. A corsage of red rosebuds completed her outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Lutes left for a honeymoon at the Paradise Stream Honeymoon Resort in the Pocono Mountains. They now reside at 4510 North Broad Street, Philadephia, 40, Pa.

Her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a scalloped coronet of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and shower of satin streamers and Stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a small pair of cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Following their wedding trip to parts of West Virginia, the couple is residing in McHenry.

Scouts Plan Three Day Trip To Capital

If a jam-packed schedule of events is any indication, the 100 boys and girls participating in the 12th Annual Co-ed Scout Week-end trip to Washington, D. C., are in for a busy three days on October 21, 22 and 23.

Alton Fortney, of Luke, perennial coordinator of the scout trip, has released the full schedule of events for the week-end excursion.

Participating in the trip will be boys and girls from Cumberland, Westernport, Luke, Oakland, Piedmont, Keyser, Romney, Petersburg and Moorefield.

The group will travel by chartered bus, arriving at Camp Rockwood, the national girl scout camp in Bethesda, about noon, Friday October 21. After lunch they will visit Great Falls, tour the museum there and hear comments by a naturalist from the National Capital Parks. Later in the afternoon they will return to Camp Rockwood for a tour of that installation and then take part in an international party there in the evening. Representatives of a number of foreign countries will help give the evening a genuine international flavor.

Saturday activities will include a morning trip to U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, with a visit to the Maryland State House in the afternoon, then traveling to the University of Maryland at College Park, for the evening meal and a quick swim party.

The Sunday schedule will start with early worship services. The group will recombine for a visit of the Islamic Center have lunch at Bolling Air Force Base and then make the return trip home to scattered points in Western Maryland and West Virginia.

About two dozen adults accompany the scouts on the annual trip, including two registered nurses and scout leaders from the area boy and girl scout councils.

In The Service

Richard L. Landon, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landon of K Street, Mountain Lake Park, is serving with Fighter Squadron 74 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Intrepid operating with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The squadron is scheduled to visit ports in Spain, Italy, and Greece.

Two Foresters Take Over Supervision of Garrett Woodlands

Two newly appointed foresters have recently taken over the supervision of Garrett county's forest lands.

They are Paul R. Meteer, Jr., who has succeeded to the position of assistant district forester formerly held by R. Thomas Thayer, and Arthur A. Morrill, Jr., who replaces Larry Klein. Klein returned to Penn State university to complete his schooling and Thayer was advanced to the position of district forester, with headquarters in Cumberland.

Meteer is a native of Parsons, W. Va., and a graduate of West Virginia University forestry school, in 1960. He will be concerned particularly with watershed management. He resides on the golf course road, is married and has one son one and one-half years of age. He was employed in Carroll county for six months prior to coming to Oakland.

He served three years in the army, in Germany, in the army security agency, and is presently serving as scoutmaster of Oakland Troop No. 31.

Morrill is a native of New Hampshire with a degree from the University of Maine, received in 1960. He will be an assistant district forester also, with particular concern on cooperative forest management. He is residing in Mt. Lake Park, is also married and has a son about one and one-half years of age. He was in the army for three years, with an infantry regiment.

At present he is serving as an assistant scoutmaster of Oakland Troop No. 31.

Both foresters are graduates of universities noted for effective forestry schools. West Virginia university instructs its students primarily in hardwood timber similar to those of this county. Maine emphasized studies in spruce, pine and fir.

Meteer's work will be largely with watershed areas of the Potomac and Little Youghiogheny rivers, with special emphasis on reforestation of strip mine areas. Morrill will take the northwest section of the county and will emphasize timber stand improvement and the care of established plantations.

Both men plan to furnish The Republican with news about approved forestry practices at intervals.

Another recent addition to the forestry department is John Feldmire, a 1960 graduate of Pennsylvania State university. He will assist Clinton Irwin, of the Grantsville area, on state forest management. He is a native of Pennsylvania, is married and the father of two children. He plans to reside in Grantsville.

We Worship God

Lesson for October 9, 1960

WHAT does "worship" mean? We hear or read the word on all sides. We speak of "Public Worship;" some churches have what is called a "Directory for Worship," a manual telling how it should be done. Some churches have books called a "Book of Common Worship." Exactly what is worship?

Dr. Foreman

Let us write-off two common uses of the word. One is any use of it that has to do with human beings only, as when we say that a mother worships her child, or a girl worships her lover. This has some meaning, but not what we are after. We also put aside a notion of worship that thinks of it as just the same as what is done in a church between (say) 11 and 12 on Sunday mornings.

What Worship Is Not

What does it mean to worship God? It does not mean to say nice things about him, or to pay him compliments, though this (on a high level) may be a part of worship. There used to be a popular, but irreverent, song, including the words "God is a livin' doll." Now that was a compliment, or intended as such, but it was a long way from worship. For the compliment was a cheap one, and the mood was flippant. The greatness of God was left clear out of sight. Worship, again, is not just the same thing as prayer, although all true worshippers pray. (These lessons will consider prayer in particular in November.) Further, worship is not just reverent thoughts about God. One may think good thoughts about a God one never expects to meet, and never tries to meet.

Worship is the response of a human being (or, we may add, an angel) who feels himself to be in the presence of God. What a man does under those circumstances is called an "act of worship." Such an act can be saying something (such as prayer, or the exclamation "Hallelujah!"), or it can be doing something (such as making an offering, or taking the Sacrament). If the words are said, or the act is done, carelessly and without thought of God, with no sense of his nearness and greatness, then there is no worship, there is only an empty form.

A famous 19th-century writer once pointed out two opposite elements in worship. One is attraction and one is fear. The worshipper seeks to be close to God, yet he also cannot help a kind of dread. The Old Testament expression used to be, "Fear God", as well as "Love God." The name for this combination of desire-and-fear is called Awe.

Bible Worship

The 21th Psalm is a good example of an expression of worship, as a long-ago saint experienced it. This Psalm was, of course, first of all a thought, or thoughts, in someone's mind. Then it got written down, and it was sung at Temple services, and in some form or other it has long been read, said and sung in the Christian church. Who knows how many persons have been helped in their own worship by this ancient poem? You will notice (verses 1, 2) a short meditation about God, whose greatness is shown in his created universe. Then (vs.) 3-6 there is a meditation on the kind of person who can truly worship. And finally there is a great welcome-song for the Almighty, the "King of Glory."

The sentence from Ephesians (3: 14-21) bring out Christian worship. For Christian worship is in a class by itself because the Christian understanding of God is, we believe, not only unique but right. God here is acknowledged not only as King and Creator, for Paul as a Jew would take that for granted, but as Father, the Father. Here is prayer, in the form of adoration; here is prayer in the form of request. But note what it is Paul prays for; nothing cheap, nothing selfish, nothing small! Above all, this prayer is for the "fullness of God." But the Christian understands what the "fullness of God" is: it is to know in all its tremendous glory the love of Christ. So for the Christian, to worship Christ is to worship God.

Grownups forget that a child experiences fear, disappointment and despair even more often than they.

Experience prepares the adult for sudden shocks. A child stumbles upon them unaware.

And each will breed more bitterness in his heart, if he has not found firm foundation for his courage, perseverance and hope.

But when a boy or girl has been given the undergirding of religious faith, the dreadful moments challenge rather than destroy.

Our children pray more often than we realize. They believe more confidently than we suppose. Life teaches them to draw strength from their faith . . . self-confidence from their trust in God.

But you and I must provide them opportunity to acquire faith. And our own example in worship and life must inspire their trust in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

More headroom, legroom, footroom for greater comfort! You'll take great comfort in the extra roominess we've built into the '61 Pontiac. Seats are higher, yet there's more clearance beneath the steering wheel and more hatroom over your head. There is more legroom, more footroom. Doors are wider and designed to swing open farther. The more highway you put behind you (Pontiac specializes in this) the more you'll appreciate the new room that's all around you in this sleek new '61.

THE ONLY WIDE-TRACK CAR! Body width trimmed to reduce side overhang. More weight balanced between the wheels. No other car hugs the road with such sure-footed stability and precision.

Coach Sam Barberio's St. Francis Trojans of Morgantown wilted the Southern Highlanders last Thursday night at Father Flynn Field in Morgantown by the score of 21-13. Both teams were fighting for their third victory of the season.

The first quarter was evenly matched with both teams trading the ball back and forth. Joe Wiltsey opened the scoring early in the second quarter when he went around the right end for nine yards and the touchdown. This gave him forty-six points for five games and then he kicked the conversion for his forty-seventh.

The half ended 7-0 for the Trojans. A half time show was presented by the band of St. Francis which has been in existence since 1956.

Dick Stuck, Southern's quarterback, hit Jim Haines with a pass from St. Francis's forty-nine yard line which Haines caught on the thirty and he went all the way for the score. The conversion try was missed after the play was called back due to roughing the kicker.

St. Francis put on a running exhibition to get its second touchdown after the ball was taken from their 30 yard line to the two and Spooner, Trojan quarterback, sneaked across for the score. Wiltsey made his forty-eighth point of the campaign when he booted the ball throught the uprights.

The Highlanders fought back when Ron Colaw broke loose and tramped thirty seven yards for the score. He made the extra point on a run for his twenty-eighth point of the season. The third quarter ended 14-13.

Joe Wiltsey, St. Francis Halfback, scored on a thirty-seven yard dash through the middle for his second touchdown of the night and his fifty-fourth point of the season and then completed the scoring by making his third conversion of the night and his fifty-fifth point of the year.

Ron Colaw punted for an average of thirty-three yards per kick and Wiltsey was credited for 30 yards. Jack Fleming, well known sportscaster, did the play by play of the ball game over a Morgantown radio station.

Squirrel and Turkey Season Under Way

The squirrel and wild turkey season in Maryland opened yesterday morning at sunrise and the prospects for a successful season are good, according to the local game wardens.

Some weeks ago squirrel hunting seemed bleak bnt the little animals have been moving into feeding grounds rapidly in recent days.

The turkey season is expected to be an excellent one also as many of the wild birds have been seen in all the forest areas.

woman and that in his opinion it would have been from a single or double action pull of the trigger.

Sgt. Conrad read a statement of Yuhaniak made to officers after the shooting on August 19 in which he said he thought the gun was pointed at the windshield. He told Conrad that she was fighting him with both hands when the gun went off. He also said in Conrad's statement that he was only trying to scare her. The accussed also told the Yaists that "I told my wife not to call me a bastard."

There was testimony to the effect that the couple had been at Robeson's Restaurant and later at Keister's restaurant prior to leaving to return to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yaist where they were visiting. The shooting was as they neared the Yaist home near the Western Maryland 4-H center. The bullet from the .22 calibre pistol entered the left cheek and lodged in her brain. She died later shortly after being admitted to Miners hospital in Frostburg where she was driven by her husband, accompanied by Yaist, whom Yuhaniak had aroused from sleep.

The defendant, who had been employed by the American Sugar Refinery company, in Baltimore, was the only witness Tuesday morning. He related details of the shooting and testified about one and one-half hours.

The four attorneys who participated in the two-day trial spent more than an hour in closing argument. The prosecution argued for a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

The case was prosecuted by State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover, assisted by S. R. Pagenhardt. Mr. Friedman and Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., were attorneys for the defense.

Stover pointed out that Yuhaniak had acknowledged that he was "mad" at his wife as a result of the argument and pulled the revolver from beneath his car seat to "scare" her. Defense attorneys argued unsuccessfully that their client should be found not guilty.

School Board

costs of higher education in the state.

Theodore Boston, director of teacher accreditation, Senator Bernard I. Gonder, and Delegate Leslie Savage also attended the session.

Dr. Pullen also discussed problems in general pertaining to schools and advocated strongly the adoption of such a program as the Mort plan to go before the legislature in January, as a solution to the problem of school costs. Dr. Pullen was highly complimentary of the progress made in this county over the past decade.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, pointed out that with the state incentive money taken into consideration, that the county actually owes for schools over $400,000 less than it did five years ago, in spite of improvements which included new elementary schools at Dennett Road and Route 40, to be paid from money received from the state incentive fund for school construction.

He explained that the natural gas tax and state incentive money provide about three fourths of the annual funds for school debt service, leaving just one fourth to be levied against county real estate.

Through the state equalization program for schools three fourths of the money needed for current operation of schools also comes from state sources.

Mr. Hawkins said the big lag in the county system was the low salary scale for teachers.

Other matters dealt with by the board included:

Approved appointment of Dewey M. Canfield as principal of Swanton school, to replace Bennett Arthur, Jr., resigned;

Discussed needed boiler insurance, but took no action;

Approved securing of topsoil and seeding bare spots along new road in rear of Southern High, and securing of man to work on outdoor education project at Northern;

Ordered complete investigation of incident of school bus driven by Lorraine Wiley and coal truck which ran off road to miss striking bus;

Ruled that area along Guntertown-Avilton road was Northern High territory and refused request for extra transportation to Valley High school.

The board and Mr. Hawkins left for Hagerstown for a meeting of Maryland School Boards yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Attends Committee Session

Leslie E. Savage, Friendsville, member of the House of Delegates, was in Baltimore on Tuesday, September 27, attending a meeting of a special legislative council committee concerning loan laws.

Sen. Joseph A. Bertoreth, Baltimore, heads the committee. He said he planned to ask for recommendations from the state loan commissioner's office. A move is to be made to bring Maryland's multi-million-dollar revolving credit industry under state regulation.

The committee began studying the question last year. It plans to sift recommendations of the loan commissioner's office before the 1961 legislature meets in January.

THE REPUBLICAN

Want Inflation? . . .

One of the decisions American voters will have made when the voting ends November 8 will be whether inflation will be resurrected and allowed to resume working its devastating influence on the American economy or whether the evenness of the business climate will continue to flow at its steadiest pace in twenty years.

We believe the voters should be made aware of the consequences to themselves, to their businesses and to the economic welfare of their country, that can result if they make the wrong decision. Irresponsible and thoughtless voting will bring greater dangers that can be harmful to all of us than in any election in recent years.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Fred C. Scribner, Jr., points out that Republican policies are now holding back potentially dangerous inflation. The Democratic party of young Jack Kennedy can be expected to do everything in its power to induce and intensify inflation. As for example Kennedy's asinine recommendation of placing the cost of welfare to the aged under social security where it wouldn't cost anything in taxes.

Our present favorable business situation dates almost exactly from the time of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message in January. When he confirmed prospects for a surplus in fiscal 1960 and then projected still another surplus in fiscal 1961, he restored the confidence of business men and spread a calm sense of greater security throughout the financial world.

This federal deficit spending, a favorite Democratic gimmick, to use as political bait, is the greatest single cause of inflation. And Kennedy has promised a crash program comparable to the first 100 days of the Roosevelt administration that would send inflation sky-rocketing.

This country is now doing business without artificial shots in the arm. Employers know they can safely plan ahead and figure costs on the basis of a stable dollar. By the same token every American family has the same security in planning what they want to buy with reasonable assurance they will be able to pay the bill when it comes. For this situation we can thank the Eisenhower-Nixon administration. For a continuance of this situation we must look to the Nixon-Lodge administration.

This is the nature of the decision the American voter will have the opportunity to make on November 8.

Grantsville area residents contributed 82 pints of blood when the Johnstown Red Cross bloodmobile unit visited there one day last week. The statistical run-down Stemple, blood recruitment chairwas given by Mrs. Grover C. man for this county.

There were 99 persons scheduled. Sixty-three kept their appointment. There were 31 walk-ins with 12 persons rejected. There were fourteen first time donors and fifteen of the persons giving were doing it for replacement. The quota was 85.

Mrs. Darrell Stahl served as chairman of arrangements.

Southern Band Sets Drive For Uniforms

The Senior Band of Southern is starting a fund raising campaign for the purpose of buying new uniforms.

The band members are compiling information consisting of anniversaries, birthdays, memoriams business advertisements, church and civic activities, for an activity calendar. The members are contacting people for the information and a charge is being made for each listing. Businesses are to be contacted later for advertisements. The calendars will be sold in advance

Mr. Borrell, the director, estimated that it would take approximately $1,000 for the uniforms.

Polio Immunization Treatment Lagging

The polio immunization program is lagging, according to Dr. Arthur F. Jones, county health officer.

He said a great many who had appeared in August and September for the immunization treatment, following the polio scare, had not returned for the follow up shots.

He said the health department urges all who received the initial shots get their next shot in the series as soon as possible, if the first shot was given a month or more ago.

Immunization clinics are held in the health department office in Oakland each Tuesday, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., in the health center at Friendsville each Monday, 1 to 3 p. m.; in Grantsville, on Tuesdays, from 1 to 3 p. m., and in Kitzmiller on Thursdays, from 1 to 3 p. m.

Although the worst of the season probably is over by now, Dr. Jones suggested that now was the time to get the immunization treatment in order to be safe for next year's season.

Nothing less than a full course of three shots is considered as adequate protection against the disease. The fourth or booster shot is recommended a year or more after the third shot.

Dr. Arthur F. Jones, county health officer, was in Baltimore last Friday attending a meeting of the Maryland Public Health association. Dr. Jones is the retiring vice president of the organization.

HE GROWS THEM BIG—J. Timothy Moon, of Mt. Lake Park, doesn't fool when he grows squash. Here are two different varieties which he feels might be a record. In the center is a Hubbard squash twenty-two inches in diameter. He doesn't know the name of the other variety of squash but he does know that one of them measures four feet in length. He said some friend gave him seven seeds to plant [illegible] beside him in the picture.

400 At Rally To Hear Reed Benson

Mathias, U. S. Senator Beall Also Participate In G. O. P. Boost

Some four hundred persons gathered at Accident Elementary school last Thursday evening for the Republican rally which concluded an all day tour of the area for Charles McC. Mathias, Republican candidate for Congress.

Featured speaker other than Mr. Mathias, was Reed Benson, son of the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Benson, who outlined the farm programs of both presidential candidates clearly and pointed out the dangers of the socialistic program of the Democratic candidate. He was received enthusiastically.

Mr. Benson, a law student at Cornell university, appeared to have immediate communication with his audience and expounded for almost an hour on agriculture problems of the nation.

He explained in detail how persons other than farmers had gone into the farm business when price supports were high, and were the first to holler when the government made plans to lower these supports. He declared many of the ills the farmers were in today was because of the present laws on the books passed in previous administrations and because non-farmers in the main were the ones taking advantage of those laws which were designed primarily for the real farmers. He said many of those would-be farmers today were the ones making money on the soil bank program by taking out of production many acres not in production to begin with.

But the speaker was emphatic in the farm programs of the two parties and said that it was the program of the Republican party

Heart Ailment Cause Of Man's Passing

An autopsy indicated that a heart condition was the cause of the death of William E. Stevens, 44, of Mt. Lake Park, who was found dead last Wednesday night in his automobile.

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, acting deputy county medical examiner said Stevens had been in apparent good health following his recent hospitalization and recuperation from serious burns.

The deceased had been seriously burned in a coal mining accident two months ago in Tucker county. Authorities said gasoline in a blow torch exploded, covering his upper torso with the flaming fuel.

He was admitted to Tucker county hospital, Parsons, and later transferred to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland. Two or three weeks ago he was discharged from the hospital and recently had started back to work.

Wednesday night he was in an Oakland bowling alley watching friends bowl and left for home earlier than the others. The wife of one of the bowlers enroute home spotted Mr. Stevens' parked car on a street in Mt. Lake Park and upon investigating found him slumped over the steering wheel. The autopsy was performed last Thursday at Memorial hospital in Cumberland.

A native of Taylor county, W. Va., he was born May 6, 1916, and was a son of Milton G. and Verla Phillips Stevens, Grafton, W. Va.

Besides his wife, Dorothy Poling Stevens he is survived by his parents, five sons, William E. Stevens, Jr., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Donald Stevens, in the Armed forces; Frederick, David and Randy Stevens, all at home. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Sarah Jane Cline, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Mary Etta Lockhart, and Mrs. Flora Ann Goodnow, Grafton, three brothers, Lester M., Albert and Denzil Stevens, all of Grafton; and one granddaughter.

30 Students From Two High Schools To Make U.N. Trip

Students from both Northern and Southern High schools have been selected to make the annual trek to the United Nations.

Each year the Maryland Branch of the American Association of University Women sponsors a trip from Baltimore to New York City for the purpose of visiting the United Nations. Both schools will be sending fifteen students.

Students who were chosen were carefully screened by members of the faculty and efforts made to select students who will represent the school in the best possible manner. At Northern the students are selected from the classes in problems of Democracy.

Students from both schools will leave on a chartered bus for Baltimore on Thursday, November 3 and will have a tour of the United Nations on November 4. The cost for each student will run at least $25. At Northern each student will pay his own way. At Southern there are instances where certain organizations bear the expense.

Garrett county, because of its distance from New York, is allowed more students than any other high school in the state. While other high schools are limited to ten students each, Garrett county's two high schools are allowed fifteen students each.

Recommendations Given For Control Of Alfalfa Weevil

Alfalfa growers are expected to find it easier to control alfalfa weevils next year following new recommendations from the University of Maryland Extension Entomologists.

The latest recommendations call for either a fall application of dieldrin, or a spring treatment with Lindane, says Joe Bissell, Extension Entomologist, University of Maryland.

Bissell explains that the adult weevils are produced in May and June. However, they leave the alfalfa crop in the summer and return in the fall. Large numbers can be found in the field in late October and November. They lay some of their eggs during these months. By applying dieldrin in the Fall or Winter, the farmer can kill the adult weevils and prevent egg laying.

Dieldrin can be applied in three ways: 1. Spray form. 2. Fertilizer-insecticide mixture. 3. Granulated form. Farmers should apply 1 pound of actual dieldrin per acre. The insecticide should be applied after the last cutting in the fall and before new growth starts in the spring, Bissell says. It is very important to use it only in the dormant season.

He further warns farmers who will use this insecticide that the alfalfa cannot be pastured before it is mowed in the spring.

If Lindane is the preferred treatment it is applied in the spring when weevil larvae are present and feeding is visible. It has to be used at least 15 days before cutting or grazing the crop. Lindane will also control pea aphid and meadow spittlebug. Bissell recommends a pound of actual lindane per acre in spray form. This amount is applied in 20 to 25 gallons of water per acre.

Bissell cautions that alfalfa should not be sprayed with lindane if a root crop such as potatoes, carrots, or turnips will follow in less than one year. Lindane may cause an off flavor in a root crop.

He said legal size largemouth bass ranging in weight from one half to over four pounds and some chain pickerel would be stocked in the following public fishing impoundments in this county: Accident Pond and Herrington Manor lake.

Vaughn also issued some advice to wild turkey hunters. Successful hunters are required to have their birds recorded at checking stations within 24 hours of the kills. The purpose is to provide the commission with data on the locations and numbers of birds taken in various areas. The sex and weights of birds are recorded as an indication of the physical condition of birds and the checking station information also serves as a guide in the department's stocking and food patch planting programs.

Listen Americans!

...by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Congressman Walter H. Judd, of Minnesota, is giving our nation the kind of leadership service that any nation must have to progress and remain free. He doesn't think first about being popular with the electorate back home. His courage and his integrity demand that his words and his actions in Congress and as a citizen be based on sound principles, no matter what the results may be politically. His 18 years in Congress are proof enough that a majority of the American people, when given a clear choice, respect and affirm sound basic principles.

In an address dedicating the Citizenship Training Center at Oklahoma Christian College, Dr. Judd spoke out with typical frankness about the American system and government's function in a free society. He recalled that President Woodrow Wilson once said, "The history of man's struggle for liberty is the history of his struggle to hold down the powers of government." Congressman Judd said: "We must have government, but we must hold it down to the minimum. And now those who call themselves Wilson's ideological followers take every problem to Washington. And this worries me more than some of our external dangers.

"Some advocate returning to the system our forefathers came here to get away from, and they call that progress! Really it's reaction—it's going backwards, not forward. It always looks good at first to follow such a course. You can pass out something as long as it has been provided by a preceding and more provident generation. But what happens when you run out of the fat?

"You know, I could work the arithmetic problems for my two daughters better than they could work them for themselves. I was tempted to do it at times too, because it was easier. They would have liked to have me do it, but I didn't. I helped them, encouraged, nudged, corrected, advised, prayed, but I didn't work the problems for them. A parent who does for a child what the child has the capacity to do for himself destroys both the capacity and incentive of the child to do for himself. And when government does for the citizen that which the citizen should do for himself, the citizen will be damaged in the process the same way.

"Some years ago," continued Congressman Judd, "I read of a Dutch student in a theological seminary who got a job filling in as a summer preacher in a church in Iowa while the regular preacher was gone. In his first sermon the young man got up and said that America must share her wealth with the world. The deacons decided that he had better find out how the wealth was produced.

"So they let him tassel corn for the rest of the summer instead of preach. He found out about wealth. It's no use getting mad at fellows like that. This one saw the gap between the way we're living and the way so many people are living, and his first reaction was that we should 'share our wealth.' If that would solve the problem we'd need to do it, but it wouldn't solve the problem. The wealth would soon be gone. The other people would be no better off and we'd be worse off. Who would that help?

"Wealth is a result of something. What these people need is not wealth but the secret of wealth. And what's the secret of the wealth? It's an economic system that gives opportunity and incentive for people to get ahead in accordance with their own merit, or their imagination, or effort."

Achievement Day Is Well Attended

Homemakers' Achievement Day was attended by some 250 members and guests. Reports were given in skit form of the year's program with plans for the next year's program.

Franklin Peters, Oakland businessman, spoke to the group on the importance of voting and told of some of the issues confronting the voters. How one feels about the Aging Conference plans was discussed.

Mrs. Guy Hardesty, President of the County Council, gave a report of her activities.

Mrs. Harold White of the Sunnyside Club was elected County Council President. Mrs. Kenneth Savage of the Friendsville Club was elected as Treasurer. Both will take office January first. Mrs. Hardesty, present County Council President, pinned a rose bud on the new President as Mrs. Truman Bittinger, Treasurer, pinned a rose bud on the new treasurer.

Two invitations were given for the Achievement Day next year. It was decided to accept the first invitation of the McHenry Club extended by its President, Mrs. Gerald Glotfelty for 1961. The second invitation was extended by the Friendsville Club by the President Mrs. A. F. Neal Friendsville members will be hostesses to the County group in 1962.

Maryland 1959 highway death toll stood at 405 on Monday, three less than October 9 last year.

Halftime Activities Celebrate Lighting Of Football Field

Following some brief acceptance remarks from Mr. Johns, Dick Travis athletic director, and Whitey Adolfson, head football coach, the student body expressed appreciation by spelling out the words "Thank You." Each of the 115 students taking part in the demonstration had flashlights and as the overhead lights were turned out, only the flashlights spelling out "Thank You" could be seen.

During the halftime show, the Northern High School majorettes performed. The Southern High band then performed a theme centered around the forthcoming election.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Better Health Through Knowledge

Arthritis

- Parkinson's Disease
- Rectal Fistula
- Diabetes Explained

Q. Is arthritis a modern disease and can it be helped through diet?

A. The answer is "No" to both questions. The very first evidence of arthritis in any creature has been preserved in the spine of a Comanchean dinosaur 100,000,000 years old. Arthritis is reported in the remains of neolithic man, ancient Egyptians, Peruvians and early American Indians, to name only a few examples. A well-balanced diet is indicated for arthritics (as it is for all other persons) but no special food or vitamin has been found helpful.

Q. My father has Parkinson's disease. He takes medicine and does fairly well but complains of excessive amounts of saliva. Can this be helped?

A. Various drugs used in treatment of Parkinson's disease tend to dry the mucous membranes but there is nothing very effective, so far as we know, for diminishing excessive saliva flow which occurs in some persons with this condition.

Q. Can a rectal fistula turn into cancer?

A. Any open sore, in any location, that fails to heal in a reasonable time should be attended to but it is unlikely that the fistula will predispose to cancer. Most people probably postpone necessary rectal surgery because of the fear of postoperative pain. Rectal surgery can be well tolerated if proper measures are taken. Our advice? See your doctor!

Q. Is diabetes inherited or caused by being overweight?

A. Both. Diabetes is basically a disease of heredity in which carbohydrate (sugar and starch) utilization is upset by inadequate insulin. However, obesity is a very important factor which, in the presence of a predisposition to diabetes, makes its development more likely.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y. will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Statistics on Retail Sales Tax Are Given

A detailed report containing statistics on retail sales and use tax collections in Maryland for the fiscal year ending June 30, was released this week by Louis L. Goldstein, state comptroller.

The revenue which included collections from deficiency assessments, penalty and interest, amounted to $74,243,432.53 for the year. Compared with collections of $55,949,272.92 for the fiscal year 1953, there is an increase of $18,295,209.61 or 32.79 percent. Part of the increase was due to the increase in rate of tax from two percent to three percent, effective January 1, 1959. Retail sales tax continues as the second largest revenue producer of the state's taxes.

There were 196,656 tax returns filed in 1960 compared with 491,967 in 1959, an increase of 4,690 returns or .96 percent. The average per return for 1960 was $149.49. Refund of sales and use tax during the year amounted to $158,179.02. Receipts from license fees produced $7,194.

Administrative costs of this division, including both retail sales and use tax, and tobacco tax, were $1.15 per $100 of revenue.

The close of the fiscal year marked the second full year of operations of the state tax on cigarets. In addition to the state tax on cigarets there are seven political subdivisions of the state, including, Garrett county, which impose a tax. Garrett county has a local rate of 1 cent with the tax stamp value for state and local 4 cents.

The revenue in Garrett county from this tax was $17,789.71 as compared to $19,493.84, a decrease of $1,701.13 or 8.74 percent.

The report showed receipts of $212,123.28 from this county from retail sales and use taxes with 5,108 returns filed. A total of $77 was from license fees, and there were refunds amounting to $59.56, making net receipts to general fund $212,160.72.' The average tax per return was $41.77.

The Garrett county breakdown showed total tax collected for 1960 compared to the total for 1959 with percentage of increase or decrease noted, in the various categories:

Food and beverage, $22,783, $19,747, 15.37; apparel, $3,100, $2,362, 31.24; general merchandise, $57,764, $43,290, 33.69; automotive and oil companies, $13,101, $32,765, 31.56; furniture and appliances, $10,193, $7,802, 30.65; building and industrial supplies, $27,111, $20,711, 30.88; utilities and transportation, $36,469, $10,596, -9.72, miscellaneous group $32,665, $26,814, 21.82; subtotal $233,189, $193,806, 20.32 percent; assessment collections, $8,931, $5,906, 51.27 percent; grand total, $212,123, $199,712, 21.24 percent.

The annual receipts from these collections over the thirteen year period show that the totals have increased from $108,481 in 1947-48 to $212,123 in 1959-60.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Start of "Good" Road System Shown

In the early years of this century, when the people of Maryland were beginning to trade their horses for automobiles, the cry went out for better roads to accommodate increasing numbers of gas-burners.

Finally, the demand became so great that in 1908 and 1909, under the administration of Governor Austin L. Crothers, a bill was passed whereby the State would provide revenue for construction of improved highways.

Among the first of these to be undertaken in Maryland was a piece of highway starting at Oakland and continuing toward Thayervilie, where today's old photograph was taken in 1909.

Only one bid was received for this five and one-half mile stretch and the contract was awarded to J. E. Francis for the sum of $58,-468 90, considered a fabulous amount at the time for road building purposes.

A newspaper account of July 15, 1909, states:

"Contractor J. E. Francis on Saturday took his machinery from Oakland to Sand Flat, where the work of constructing the good road over the route selected will start.

"The machinery consists of three traction engines, a large string of horses and wagons. In going out of town, it looked like a railroad train. A number of wagons were coupled together and pulled by an engine.

"Over one hundred men will be employed by Mr. Francis, the contractor, who expects to complete the five and one-half miles in about four months."

Some of the men and equipment are shown in the photograph near the Sand Flat location mentioned in the early news story.

Stem Rock Today

Owner of boulder which has intrigued readers for several weeks appears and concludes the conjecture concerning its location. (This photograph taken October 8, 1960.)

Recalls Drilling Scene

A telephone call yesterday morning from Russell Harvey, in Bethesda, shed more light on last week's old photograph, showing diamond drilling operations to locate coal in the southern part of the county near the West Virginia line.

Mr. Harvey said the picture was taken on the George Harvey farm, one and one-half miles from the Potomac river on Nydegger run, on Armistice Day, November 11, 1923.

He identified those in the photograph as, left to right, Bill Foster, of Punxsutawney, Pa.; Glen Clawson, driller, also of Punxsutawney now of Charleston, W. Va.; Lester Bathurst and Russell Harvey, fireman.

The drill rig was owned by Hoffman Brothers, of Punxsutawney, he recalled, and the picture was taken by John R. Shaffer, of Gormania.

Mr. Harvey's information bears out the statement made last week, that the project was financed by Pittsburgh capitalists, who, it was stated, "have a diamond drill at work on the Western Maryland railroad."

Stem Rock—Conclusion

The conjecture concerning Stem Rock, which has occupied this space for several weeks, can now be ended.

This is because the owner of the rock has finally appeared and settled the matter of its location, once and for all.

He is Conley Lewis, whose address is Terra Alta, but who owns some 800 acres of land straddling the Maryland and West Virginia line in the Snaggy Mountain section.

Mr. Lewis said Stem Rock is located on his property, on the Maryland side of the line, about one and one-half miles northeast of the Snaggy Mountain fire tower. Within the past year, he has cleared a road through the vicinity and it is now possible to drive to within a few hundred yards of the rock. Next year, he said, he plans to clear a trail from the road to the rock itself, for the convenience of anyone wanting to visit the location.

To further identify the site, Mr. Lewis said it is fairly near Monument 17 on the line between the states, approximately one-half mile northeast on the ridge between the Joe Lewis dam and the fire tower.

The land, he pointed out, was originally known as the Decapolis tract, a portion of which he purchased in 1950 from B. A. Moon.

He offered to guide anyone interested to the area, and produced a photograph which he had taken on Saturday, October 8.

Two Local Youths Enter Johns Hopkins

Two Oakland youths, June graduates of Southern High School, are again classmates. They entered the freshman class at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, recently.

They are David W. Gonder and Maurice C. Brookhart, Jr.

Gonder, who will major in engineering physics, was editor of the Southern yearbook and a member of the Senior Chorus. He belonged to the Future Teachers of America Association and was a delegate to the first World Affairs Institute held in Morgantown, W. Va. He won the Danforth award and received the Lions Club award for outstanding achievements in mathematics.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Gonder, Alder Street.

Brookhart, who will study chemical engineering, was also a Danforth award winner and attended the World Affairs Institute at Morgantown. He belonged to the band, chorus, Student Council and Dramatics Club. He was senior homeroom president and the recipient of the Lions Club award in Science.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Brookhart, reside on Pennington Street.

Both boys were very active in scouting and each holds the rank of Eagle Scout.

The two join 408 other members of the Class of '64 at Johns Hopkins.

Special Services Set Deep Creek Church

Special evangelistic services will be held at the Deep Creek Baptist church October 23 to 30. Services will begin each evening at 7:45, and at 11 a. m., on Sundays.

Allen J. Beck, Baltimore, will be the guest evangelist. He is the executive secretary of the Baptist Brotherhood of Maryland, and also is head of the Royal Ambassadors work in the state. The latter is a missionary organization of male youth. Mr. Beck, native of Cumberland, was formerly treasurer of the Maryland Baptist union association.

The church is preparing for the meeting by visitations and home prayer meetings. George Edgar will serve as song leader for the revival. Mrs. Alvin Friend is arranging special music. Dr. Charles P. Anderson is pastor of the church.

Boosters Install Football Lights

The Boosters Club's efforts were finally realized on October seventh when for the first time the Southern Highlanders played under lights on their own football field. Since February of 1960 the Boosters Club has been raising money for the purchase of the lights.

Mr. Marvin Jones, president of the Boosters Club, related that all the members had contributed their services most generously in reaching the goal.

The amount of $6400.00 has been raised for the lights while approximately $350 more is needed for the expense of a wall being constructed on the back of the bleachers. The Boosters Club, in the raising of money, resorted to a minstrel, a bean dinner, the selling of stock to students, and personal solicitations from business and citizens, and a stand at the K. of P. carnival.

The lights and fixtures were purchased from the National Mine Service Company in Morgantown while the Boosters Club bought the poles from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. With the help of the crane of William Shirer, the members of the Boosters Club assembled and erected the lights in the month of September.

Mr. Jones said of the outcome, "We want to thank everybody who contributed his time, money, and his effort which in any way helped to make the lighting of the football field a possibility; and we feel this is one of the greatest assets that has come to Southern High and Garrett County since the two high schools (Northern and Southern) were built."

Future plans of the Boosters Club include a cyclone fence around the field, more bleachers, dressing rooms behind the bleachers, and a broadcasting booth.

The gong sounded! I dashed from the office into the crowded street, and hurried on into the fading sunlight. The bell in the familiar old church tower was striking five. I had made it again! I would reach the commuters' train and be in my suburban home at the usual hour.

As I rushed past the church, chimes sounded melodiously over the busy, struggling mass of humanity. Suddenly, I stopped in the midst of it. Why this mad rush day after day? Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow would be the same. But today the chimes recalled to me a sense of peace and purpose, a satisfaction once experienced in the fellowship of worship and friendship.

The commuters' train was forgotten as I entered the vast, semi-lighted church. From far up at the marble altar came the words of a prayer: "O God, our Heavenly Father . . . the endless tide of business, toil, and care moves on around us. Go with us and bless us who have stopped within this holy place of prayer for one brief moment to be refreshed by thy love, and quieted by thy peace." The organ took up the response and the "Amens" soared upward as I knelt in grateful prayer. "Never again," I resolved, "shall I deprive myself of the security and satisfaction of regular church attendance and worship. My place in the little suburban church shall be filled on each Lord's Day."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Bible Material: Psalm 91; Matthew 4:
Devotional Reading: Psalm 16.

Trust In God

Lesson for October 16, 1960

CHRISTIAN religion looks different from the inside. What an outsider thinks is nonsense is seen from the inside as the highest wisdom. This is particularly true about trust in God. The non-Christian just labels this superstition, but a Christian knows very well that if he could not trust God he might as well not believe in God at all. The non-religious person classifies trust in God with trust in a rabbit's foot. But the Christian knows that there is an infinite difference between God and a rabbit's foot. One is the Maker of heaven and earth; the other only a thing, and a silly thing at that. It is high wisdom to trust in God; to trust in charms such as a rabbit's foot is not only silly, it is sinful.

Dr. Foreman

Why Trust in God?

The 121st Psalm suggests some solid reasons for trusting in the one true and living God. Trust unattached, trust by itself, trust without any one or anything to trust in—this is meaningless and may be disastrous. It isn't the trust that is the main thing. GOD is the reason for trusting God. He is the one who made heaven and earth. We have a right to believe this earth, this life, is livable, because we are confident that God made it so. God made this earth for improvement, not for destruction. (To be sure, it will be destroyed in time; but it is a sin to hasten that day.) God made heaven and earth. He knows what stresses and strains they can stand, and he does not subject them to what they cannot bear. He created man, and he knows what man can stand.

This Psalm suggests a title for God, seldom used: "Keeper of life." God's will is always first for life, not death; health, not sickness; upbuilding, not down-dragging. Life which he creates [illegible] precious. Why not trust in God?

Hour of Danger

The poet who wrote Psalm 91 thinks of God [illegible] protector in time of [illegible] [illegible] particular danger. [illegible] time they [illegible] [illegible] the many [illegible] [illegible] Psalm. [illegible] the great [illegible] The [illegible] and pobo; war [illegible] arrow [illegible] by day); terror in the night [illegible] morning paper does not have the story of some who never expected death but who died suddenly, before dawn?

Yet as he reads these words the Christian of the present day may feel very uneasy. Did the poet of Psalm 91 promise too much? If you take this Psalm literally, no one who trusts the Lord is going to get hurt. This, we feel, is saying too much. People who trust the Lord do get hurt.

Trust Versus Presumption

It is important to remember that in the story of the temptations of Jesus, this same 91st Psalm comes up. Strangely enough, Satan quotes it to Jesus. Satan, you may be sure, means no good for Jesus. But he sounds as if he were a preacher preaching on the text: Believe in God. Satan urges Jesus to jump off one of the high towers of the Temple. Go on, jump, he says. Don't you read your Bible? It says [and here the devil quotes the 91st Psalm], "On their hands the angels will bear you up, lest you strike your foot against a stone."

Jesus knew better. Satan wanted him to take that ancient poem literally. He wanted Jesus to think that no matter what he did, nor where he went, he simply could not be hurt because God would be sure to look after him. But Jesus was too wise, he knew God too well, to take those words as if they were the last words and the only words about trust in God. Jesus knew that it is wrong, it is "tempting God," to get into a dangerous situation deliberately and expect God to keep us from so much as stubbing our toes. Further, Jesus knew that faithful, even perfect service of God and devotion to him, will not guarantee freedom from danger, agony and defeat. Jesus himself went to a cross. Every one of his disciples died a violent death. Yet over it all are Christ's own great words: "Be of good cheer . . . believe in God, believe also in me . . . I have overcome the world."

Lodge To Campaign In State Oct. 17

Henry Cabot Lodge will swing into Maryland for at least one campaign appearance on Monday October 17.

Details of the schedule which the GOP candidate for the vice presidency will follow in this State have not yet been completed, according to D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Maryland.

"Because of the enormous enthusiasm for Ambassador Lodge, we shall ask him to meet as many Marylanders as possible during the time he spends in the great Free State," Mr. Rinehart said.

He added that "The exceptionally strong sentiment for Ambassador Lodge at the time he was nominated has grown to truly gigantic proportions and is continuing to surge ahead every day."

Mr. Lodge's trip into Maryland will be his second appearance in the State since the beginning of the campaign. He previously joined Vice President Nixon and President Eisenhower at Friendship International Airport for the official kickoff of the national GOP campaign on September 12.

Congressional Viewpoint

Sen. John Marshall Butler

MARYLAND MEMO

Annapolis, founded in 1649 and the state capital since 1691, has just finished an annual excitement—Heritage Week. Sponsored by Historic Annapolis, Heritage Week included a number of tours around the venerable city, plus a cruise from Baltimore to Annapolis and a special plantation tour. As always, one of the major local points was the State House, which is the oldest state capital in the United States still in use.

Historic Annapolis is a local civic organization with the avowed purpose of keeping Annapolis a "living working town" and at the same time preserving, where possible, the architecture and atmosphere of the past. One member of Historic Annapolis emphasized to me that "we do not intend to make a Williamsburg or a museum of Annapolis. But we are determined to preserve and restore the true landmarks of Annapolis' history."

Recently the Federal Government took cognizance of the historic value of Annapolis by declaring that two sites in and around the city are "National Historic Landmarks" and eligible for such status with the Department of Interior. The two sites are: "Whitehall," an 18th century colonial dwelling and "an outstanding achievement in colonial design;" and "Hammond Harwood House," another 18th century house and "a remarkable survivor of the flowering of American architecture at the end of the Colonial period."

....A Baltimore constituent recently wrote me:

"I am writing this letter as a very worried person. When I would see the cartoons in the papers years ago of our dear Uncle Sam with his sleeve rolled up and that powerful fist, that pleased me very much. But today, our dear Uncle Sam is shrunken up, in other words I think we are last and it is all on account of communism, and what do we do about it nothing."

Of course we are doing something about "it" with our missiles and satellites, economic aid program, our alliances with friendly nations overseas, our constant vigilance at home and abroad to meet the communist challenge whenever it occurs. There are several "Ugly" Americans but there are just as many "beautiful and courageous Americans like Dr. Tom Dooley working for freedom and liberty everywhere.

Therefore, we must avoid excessive pessimism. We are in a protracted conflict with the Soviet Union and Communist China and we must be prepared to fight propaganda with propaganda, aid with aid and determination with determination, drawing upon the inner confidence that has always marked America. If we do, Mr. Khrushchev's grandchildren will indeed live under freedom, as the Vice President has predicted.

....Political Note of the Week: The next President of the United States will be the first ex-naval officer in the White House.

Way To Control Boxelder Bugs And Millipedes Listed

Even though boxelder bugs and millipedes are harmless, they are annoying when they invade homes looking for a place to hibernate for the winter, says Ted Bissell, Extension Entomologist, University of Maryland.

Boxelder bugs don't bite or sting, and they don't feed or damage clothing or furnishings. The bug is about ½-inch long when mature, and it is black with red markings. They feed exclusively on boxelder trees.

After boxelder bugs get inside a house, the only thing to do is to sweep them up and destroy them. On the trees, or outside the the house, Bissell recommends a forceful spray with a sudsing household detergent—one cupful of powdered detergent in 3 gallons of water. If the bugs are knocked down with the spray, they are unable to crawl or fly again.

Millipedes, or thousand-legged worms, are often abundant in ornamental plantings that are heavily mulched. This insect is frequently a nuisance where houses are built in wooded areas. These bugs feed on decaying organic matter—such things as compost, rotten wood, and leaf mold. They do not bite or sting people.

After millipedes get inside houses, insecticides are of little value, Bissell says. It is better to apply the insecticide outdoors before the bugs enter.

The granulated insecticides are more effective against millipedes. The granular materials can be broadcast by hand or they can be applied with a small fertilizer spreader, if the ground can be cleared of debris. One pound of 10 percent granulated chlordane; 10 percent toxaphene or 5 percent dieldrin should be applied to each 600 square feet. If one of these is not available use an insecticide in dust or spray form.

REASONS FOR SOUTHERN VICTORIES. Here are three reasons for the good season that the Southern Highlanders are having thus far in the campaign. At the left is Coach Whitey Adolfson, who is in his second season of coaching, while next to him is Dick Stuck, and next to him, Ron Colaw, co-captains of the team, who are accounting for most of the touchdowns, either directly or indirectly. In last Friday night's game Ron Colaw scored three touchdowns for the Highlanders while Stuck ran for the other six-pointer. Colaw also added another point after touchdown.

You Can't Buy The White House...

From The Phoenix (Ariz.) Republic reprinted in the Orlando, Fla., Sentinel, leading Democrat newspaper and sent to us by two subscribers from that state.

Former Pres. Truman is a practical and seasoned politician. Even he, however found it difficult to stomach the ruthless political steamroller, greased by the Kennedy millions, which rolled over the Democratic convention at Los Angeles.

Never before has an American family set out deliberately to buy the White House. The Kennedy millions—mostly made from whisky, along with the organized razzle-dazzle of the whole Kennedy clan, put together the most effective and unprincipled political bandwagon since the days when Honey Fitzgerald, Jack Kennedy's grandfather, ruled the political roost in Boston, Mass.

Speaking At The University of Virginia during the primary campaign Mr. Truman, a former Democratic president referring to a would-be Democratic president, spoke for the whole nation when, it was reported, he declared, "I have no objection to Sen. Kennedy's pope, but I do object to Sen. Kennedy's pop, Pop Joe Kennedy, who is trying to buy the White House for his little boy."

It was Sen. Kennedy himself who injected the religious issue into the campaign. Sensible Americans had hoped it would not become a factor, but Kennedy has deliberately exploited his religion. In Wisconsin, in West Virginia, at the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April, in his acceptance speech at Los Angeles and in numerous interviews since the convention, he has appealed to voters not to persecute him because he is a Catholic.

Nobody has persecuted Jack Kennedy, and it is unlikely that anybody will.

Why won't Jack Kennedy be frank enough to admit publicly that it was his Catholic friends who gave him the nomination? The five big states were for Kennedy. Mayor Wagner, who led the New York delegation, is a Catholic. Gov. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, who turned Pennsylvania over to Kennedy, is a Catholic. Gov. Mike DiSalle of Ohio, who gave the entire Ohio delegation to Kennedy, is a Catholic. Mayor Daley of Chicago, who controlled the Illinois delegation, is a Catholic. Gov. Pat Brown of California, another Kennedy state, is a Catholic. The delegations from these five states, led by Catholics, put over Kennedy's nomination.

Why Should Jack Kennedy be ungrateful and hypocritical? These influential politicians had a perfect right to be for Kennedy if they so chose. Nobody was accused of trying to persecute them. The very fact that these men have been elected to high office shows that the American people do not let religion influence their political voting. The people in these five states believed that these candidates were good men and they voted for them regardless of religious beliefs.

The truth is, Jack Kennedy has deliberately set out to make a martyr of himself on the Catholic issue in order to get sympathy and to glamorize himself as a candidate.

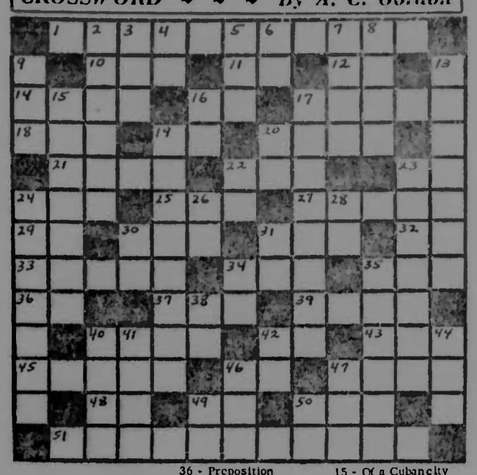
Jack Kennedy has been shouting and crying persecution, but if anybody else says anything about his religion, then that is "bigotry."

Well, We Think it is bigotry to inject religion in this campaign. It has nothing whatver to do with the real issues on which the American people are going to vote. Anybody who uses religion either as a shield or a sword is guilty of bigotry, and the greatest offender in this nation at the present is Jack Kennedy himself. He never misses a chance to keep the religious issue alive. It can't be kept out if Jack Kennedy himself is going to bring it up every time he makes a speech. Such hypocrisy seldom has been practiced in American politics.

We are not opposed to Jack Kennedy because he is a Catholic. We do not believe many Americans will be opposed to him on that basis. Certainly nobody has ever accused this newspaper of being anti-Catholic.

We Are Opposed to him because he is completely lacking in administrative experience to assume the responsibilities of the presidency in the handling of foreign policy and domestic issues.

We are opposed to him because he never has given any indication of deep-down convictions about American freedom or the rights of individual citizens.



We are opposed to him because as a senator from Massachusetts he has represented minority pressure groups instead of the people of his state. He is the darling of the AFL-CIO COPE and the ADA, who boast that he always has voted for them 100 pct., and his record proves he has. No man who is under such complete obligation to left-wing pressure groups should ever be elected president of the U. S.

We Are Especially opposed to him because he allowed Walter Reuther and his man Friday, Chester Bowles, to write the radical Democratic platform and then he accepted it without a single protest. This platform was a socialist manifesto and the most radical political platform ever presented to the American people by either of the two great parties. Walter Reuther is an avowed Socialist, but that doesn't seem to make any difference to Jack Kennedy.

And, Last, We Are opposed to having the White House put up for political sale. It is obvious that the Kennedy family intends to get into the White House, no matter what it costs and no matter what political concessions and positions have to be taken to do it. Pop Kennedy will continue to pour out his millions in an all-out attempt to "put his little boy in the White House."

We don't believe the American people will buy. We believe the American people in overwhelming numbers will tell the Kennedys and the world that the White House is not for sale.

One thousand and forty-nine paid admissions and three hundred others watched the Southern Highlanders capture the Garrett County football championship by clobbering the Northern Huskies last Friday evening at Oakland by the score of 26 to 13.

It was the third win of the year for Coach Earl Adolfson's Highlanders, who had won the first two and dropped the last pair. Northern, coached by Carroll Bumgarner, now has won two while dropping its last three.

Northern started the scoring in the first quarter when McCurdy tramped twenty-five yards for the six-pointer. It looked as though Southern was in for a tough night but the touchdown was all Northern could come by until the fourth quarter when Smith, Huskies right halfback, plunged over from the two and Patton kicked the extra point.

Dick Stuck, snappy quarterback for Southern, raced the Northern team twenty-five yards for the Highlanders opening six-pointer in the second quarter and Colaw ran the extra point. The first half ended 7-6, Highlanders.

Half Time Ceremonies

Half-time ceremonies included the presentation of the lighting box key to Kenneth Johns, principal of Southern, by Marvin Jones, head of the Athletic Boosters Club. Johns introduced Lewis Walker, the new head of Northern. Both bands presented half-time shows after the homecoming queen was announced. Barbara Rice was elected over Susan Gibson and Shirley Warren.

Ron Colaw was the big gun for the Highlanders in the second half when he hit paydirt three times to run his five game scoring total to forty-seven points.

Southern tramped forty-six yards for Colaw to march over from the eight yard line early in the third quarter. Several minutes later "Big Ron" ran five yards for his second touchdown with Frank Vetter scoring the extra point on a pass play from Stuck. The third quarter ended 20 to 6.

Smith made Northern's second and last touchdown when he plunged two yards with Patton kicking the extra point. Smith was expelled from the game because of rough tactics. Colaw completed the scoring of the game late in the fourth period when he pushed two yards for the score.

Southern's offensive and defensive blocking which had hampered them in both losses was improved during the night to keep Northern to 100 yards gained on rushing.

STRANGE EXPERIMENT

A brilliant young chemist, Thure Wagelius of New York, accidently killed himself with ether. According to his own words he said he was trying to look into the hereafter. Locked in his laboratory, he rigged up an apparatus that dripped either into an inhaler attached to his nostrils. This had an automatic regulator. With each successive experiment, Wagelius went one drop of drug nearer to his death. Then coming out of his stupor, he wrote down his experiences. "I am on the verge of discovering the great secret of the hereafter," he told his friends. Finally the drug carried him beyond the curtain. His body has been buried. He had no opportunity to write down what he discovered but there is a Book that does record what is beyond the vail. He tells us in this Book called the Bible of a place called Heaven. He tells us of a place called Hell. Further, He tells that any sinner who will repent of his sin and come to the Savior, even though he is undeserving, He will save that sinner and Heaven will be his home. The hell prepared for the devil and his angels will be shared by those who refuse or neglect to accept God's invitation to be saved. We need not experiment nor speculate what divino revelation so clearly records for us.

BOWING TO IMAGES FORBIDDEN

In tha first commandment we saw how God forbids other gods to come before Him. The second commandment has two main themes — "Thou shalt not make any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in the heavens above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth—Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them nor serve them." This forbids the fashioning of any image or thing to bow down before it (paying reverence) or serving it in any way. The true conception of God is lost when man begins to fashion gods with their hands that they can see. Jesus set the woman at the well straight when He said, "God is a Spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." Worshipping Him in spirit is just the opposite of bowing before an image or carrying candles in our hands. True worship takes place in the inner man with the invisible God revealed to us through the truth of His holy Word. The trend is toward rituals, ceremonies, altars with sacred instruments lighted candles, etc. All of this is the influence of man's depraved nature which desires to worship what he can see or in the presence of something he can see.

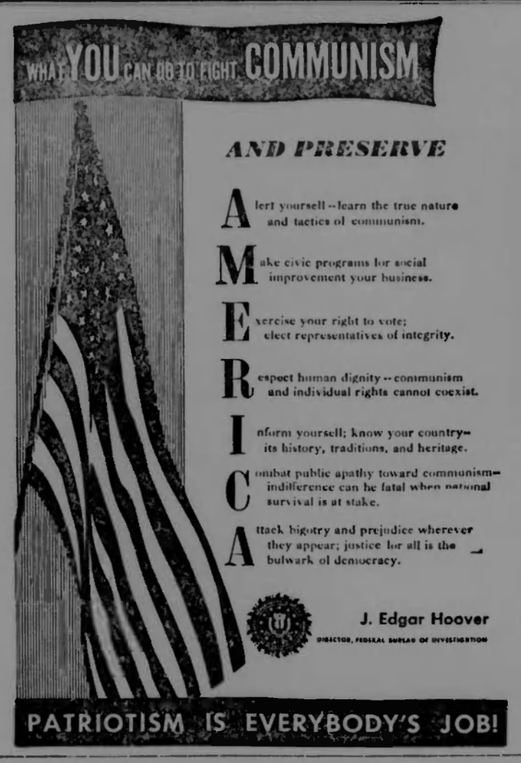
Kitzmiller Firemen Win $75 at Parade



The Kitzmiller Volunteer fire department won $75 as a result of its $17,000 investment for a new pumper equipped to handle 756 gallons of water.

Assistant Fire Chief Gerald Iman said Kitzmiller won the $75 as first prize for the best fire fighting equipment from among some 100 companies of the Tri-State area which participated in the Mountain State Forest festival parade at Elkins last Thursday.

One of the features of the Kitzmiller firemen's four-piece entry was a toy fire engine which was peddled along the entire route by Casey Sullivan, three-year-old Kitzmiller boy. Iman said the new pumper had been acquired about September 1. Besides the pumper and toy apparatus Kitzmiller also had the chief's car and the ladies' auxiliary station wagon in line of march.

Iman said Casey Sullivan usually gets a ride in the regular fire truck the last half of each parade but he enjoyed the Elkins parade so much that he stayed at the wheel of his engine until the end of the parade.

Governor Proclaims Autumn Glory Time

Governor Tawes issued his annual proclamation of Autumn Glory Time in the Western Maryland mountains. The dates are October 8 through October 22.

Describing the mountains as a "sightseers' paradise,' the governor invited "The citizens of Maryland to visit Western Maryland and particularly Garrett county, to enjoy the magnificent scenic beauty.' He pointed out that Deep Creek Lake "reflects all the splendor of this season, and offers Marylanders a mountain playground."

Between 800 and 900 people came to Oakland last Sunday on the Baltimore and Ohio autumn glory excursion.

People of the area have predicted that the season of color will be a long one because of the mild weather and the lack of any killing frost up to this week.

The New York Times recently referred to Maryland's Autumn Glory Time as the great foliage festival of this section of the country, unsurpassed in the East.

Maryland highway mishaps took three lives over October 8-9 weekend.

400 At Rally

that would guarantee the most sound program and one that followed the American way of life He considered the Democratic program much more costly and socialistic in content.

Matthias Talks

Mr. Mathias, in his remarks to the group, spoke of a "crusade for jobs" which he planned to inaugurate.

Among his plans were the following:

Work for the inclusion of U. S. route 40 west of Hancock into the Federal Interstate highway system;

Seek aid of small business administration toward promoting Western Maryland industrial progress.

Work for tax revision and low-cost, long-term loans as incentives to small business;

Work for the restoration of defense work in the sixth district;

Support the C. and O. canal project.

The GOP candidate said the campaign to boost jobs in the area would include a redevelopment program, housing, building up a skilled labor pool, and the use of governmental facilities to smooth the bumps in the labor market.

Mathias also declared the legislative record of his Democratic opponent branded him as "an irresponsible Congressman," and that analysis of the Foley legislative record gave him 100 percent for spending and zero for economy.

The rally concluded what Mr. Mathias termed as a "very successful day," in his tour of the county.

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall also spoke on what it would mean to have someone in the Congress with whom he could cooperate and commended the ability of Mr. Mathias as a legislator.

Mrs. Beall, Mrs. Mathias and Mrs. Benson accompanied their husbands to the rally, and also attending was Harold Porter, chairman of the district Republican State Central committee.

The rally was planned by the Republican State Central Committee and the Republican Women's club. Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, president of the latter, spoke briefly on the responsibility of citizens in getting out the vote on November 8. Lewis R. Jones served as master of ceremonies. Music was furnished by a group from Sang Run and young ladies of the area served as hostesses.

Company O's Picket

Cornelius Fired a Warning Shot. (Drawing by Gayle Prentice.)

by Ruth and Iret Ashby

Never, in his whole life, had Cornelius Johnson seen as many horses and riders on the road, as he saw riding swiftly toward him that spring morning, April 26th, 1863. The road was full of them as far as he could see; and he needed no second look to know they were Confederates. What could one, lone, Union soldier do in such a situation? He had been posted at the edge of Oakland as picket for Company "O", Sixth West Virginia Infantry. He well knew that his company was there to protect the Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridges and other property, and even if he was but eighteen years old he realized the terrible responsibility resting on his shoulders.

Confederate raiding parties had tried many times to cripple the railroad at other points along the line, but not until now, after two years of the war had passed had they made an appearance in Oakland. One of the few military objectives in Garrett County was located here.

Cornelius was too young to know or understand the shrewd military planning which had preceded the sight of these bearded, fierce looking riders. All he knew was that he had to do something and he was scared—desperately scared. It is doubtful if he was any more scared than much older men would have been in the same predicament.

Scared, or not scared, Cornelius had a duty to perform. He must warn his comrades of Company "O" in town. He may never have heard that, "He who fights and runs away will live to fight another day," but that is just what he did. He raised his gun and fired a warning shot over the heads of the riders before taking to his heels across a field toward the shelter of the woods.

He ran fast, but he had no chance of getting away. One of the Confederate officers wheeled his mount from the column and gave chase. The officers took a shot at the fleeing lad with his cap and ball pistol. The shot tore the heel off one boot, but this just made him run faster. Thundering hooves were close upon him when his pursuer yelled.

"Drop that gun and stop you Yankee.....! Stop or I'll kill you."

Cornelius stopped, threw down his gun and at the officers command climbed on the horse behind him. A new emotion had taken the place of his fright; now he was angry. He had been called about the worst name he could think of.

"Them was fightin' words" he told his son, Athey Johnson, a generation later. The latter, named for an officer in Company "O", related the boy soldier's experience, to us some years ago while living in one of the houses on the farm, where we still reside.

Although too angry to be afraid, Cornelius couldn't help wondering what the officer was going to do with him now. He was also concerned about the safety of his comrades in Oakland. He had heard no gunfire at all. What could have happened to them? Not until they reached the town did he learn they had been taken prisoner—but had not been harmed.

This raid was the answer to an order from General Lee to get an expedition on the way north as soon as roads and streams would permit. The long held hope, of destroying the railroad bridge and trestle on Cheat River, was still burning in the hearts and minds of the Confederates. If only they could permanently cripple this Union line of supply! They still hoped, but now it was decided that if all could not be accomplished, then the wooden bridges at Oakland and Rowlesburg must be burned and horses, cattle and men brought back. The South needed all three.

Many plans had been submitted, discussed, and discarded. A participant had been Major General Samuel Jones in whose C. S. A. military department of Western Virginia the operation was to be executed. Finally a plan was agreed upon.

General Imboden was to go by way of Beverley to Grafton and attack Union forces guarding the railroad there. General William E. Jones was to follow the Northwestern Turnpike, and after finishing his work of destruction at Oakland and Rowlesburg, unite with Imboden at Grafton.

On April 20th the raid, afterward known as the Jones Raid, got under way. Jones was delayed by flooded streams near Moorefield, making a long detour necessary. A small Union garrison at Greenland Gap offered a spirited resistance lasting four hours before surrendering. These circumstances upset the carefully worked-out timetable.

After crossing the Potomac River at present-day Gorman Jones detached Colonel Harman with his cavalry regiment and Captain McNeil with his Partisan Rangers with orders to take the Moorefield—Kingwood road into Oakland. There they were to cut telegraph wires and burn the wooden railroad bridge and wagon bridge, after which they would proceed toward Kingwood and Morgantown. Some of McNeil's men were from this locality and knew every short cut and byroad in existence at that time, a decided advantage in carrying out a surprise attack.

The attack that Sunday morning was a complete surprise to everyone; to the picket, the citizens, and Company O. Out-numbered twenty to one the officers and men had no reasonable alternative to surrender.

The raiders went down the river and burned the railroad bridge across Big Yough—known as "88 Bridge. Later after crossing the stream the wagon bridge was also burned. Now that their work of destruction in and around Oakland was successfully accomplished the Confederate troopers went on toward the west. Part of their route followed what is now known as the Fingerboard Road. However where this road turns left at the Melotte place they took an old road which meanders over the hill into West Virginia. This stretch was known among older residents of that locality as the Old State Road.

No matter how often the story is told the fact remains: Cornelius Johnson, the youthful picket, fired the only shot in defense of Oakland and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad on that April morning when battle-seasoned Confederate veterans came riding into this area.

Why Pick Sunda . . .

Some daily newspapers in recent weeks have advocated a policy of giving the American voters more time to cast their ballots.

The idea may have merit, but why in the world did they have to suggest that Sunday be one of the additional days allotted for this extra voting time? Doesn't Sunday have any significance anymore for the thinking people of this nation?

We'll admit that Sunday is taken for just about everything else in the way of activities, but we should realize that basically, Sunday is a day of worship, a day of rest. When our responsibilities and privileges of worship have been taken care of, there are many activities available that do not detract from the proper observance of the day.

But to propose that the people use Sunday for an additional day when they would to the polls to cast their ballots, sounds pretty thoughtless and asinine. It indicates a lack of regard for the nation's religious structure, upon which the nation was founded.

These advocates of additional voting time point out that the U. S. record of potential voters who go to the polls is far below some 16 or more nations. Australians, Austrians and Italians have 95 percent voting records. Japan and Finland have 75 percent. The best showing this country ever made was 62.7 percent in 1952 when the hot issue was ending the Korean war.

Some nations achieve better records by penalizing nonvoters but this is against the American idea of freedom.

They stress the importance of each ballot and point out that states have been carried in elections for national office by less than one vote per precinct. In 1948 Truman won California and Ohio by very slim margins.

So they stress that Article I, Section 4 of the U. S. Constitution provides that Congress can alter election day as it sees fit and point out it would take only a simple act of Congress to amend the law of 1845 now governing national elections. So they indicate they will press for legislation for more than one day of voting.

But for heaven's sake, keep Sunday out of this. Let Sunday keep its honored place, and if people want to vote more than one day, make it Friday and Saturday, or Monday and Tuesday. Sunday is still primarily the Lord's Day.

Honesty Rewarded: Purse With $700 Is Recovered

A Terra Alta woman discovered two things while on a shopping trip to Oakland last week. First, a bank is the safest place to keep large sums of money; and second, honesty is not a vanished virtue.

Mrs. Lula Faye Barker's experience might have been the case, had it not been for William Lantz, of Center street. Preparing to take his automobile from his garage Saturday morning, he noticed a woman's pocketbook lying on the rear bumper and notified [illegible] hag on the bumper where Mrs. Barker had left it.

From a tour of local stores.

While opening the door of the trunk, she placed her pocketbook on the bumper of an adjoining automobile, loaded her purchases into the car and drove home to Terra Alta, where she discovered the loss of her purse, containing more than $700 in currency.

Losing no time in making the return trip to Oakland, Mrs. Barker reported the loss to Henry Arnold, chief of police, and the two made a careful search of the parking lot and the vehicles there, but to no avail. Mrs. Barker was unable to describe the car which had been parked next to hers, and returned to her home convinced the purse and its contents were a total loss.

Mrs. Barker recognized his honesty with a cash reward, and explained the purse contained money which she had planned to place in a Terra Alta bank for "safe keeping."

Yesterday Mr. Lantz received a letter from Mrs. Betty White, of Terra Alta, a neighbor of Mrs. Barker, who says.

> You did a very kind and heart-warming thing in returning the money to the Barkers. They are wonderful people who have suffered some very great heartaches. I want you to know that you have helped so much in strengthening their faith in people....."

Man Is Killed By Auto On Route 40 Following Mishap

A 57-year-old Confluence, Pa., man was killed last night near Keyser Ridge along U. S. route 40, west of Grantsville, when he was struck by an auto traveling west.

Merle Harold Griffith apparently died of a fractured skull and internal injuries, police said. The driver of the car was John Edward Hemington, 49, of West Alexander.

Police said that prior to the fatal accident, the victim had wrecked a pickup truck on the highway about 500 yards from the scene. He was wandering along the highway in a dazed condition when he was struck by the westbound car, police added.

Blood stains found in the cab of the truck indicated the man had been seriously injured and apparently was in shock when he got out of his truck and wandered along the highway.

The accident occurred at 8:5o p. m. The auto driven by Hemington came to rest on the man's chest, according to police, who said no charges had been placed against the man.

The body of the victim was taken to the Newman Funeral home in Grantsville. Trooper Donald R. Wade investigated.

Grantsville Man Dies of Head Injury

Willard Beeman, 39-year-old Grantsville man, who was injured in a freak farm accident on September 27, died last Friday, October 14, in University hospital in Baltimore.

Beeman, a laborer, sustained a head injury while unloading concrete blocks from a tractor-trailer on the farm of Melchoir George, Keyser Ridge.

The man was taken to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland and later was transferred by ambulance to the Baltimore hospital.

Tfc. Donald R. Wade, of the state police, said Mr. Beeman was helping Mr. George unload the blocks which were to be used in the construction of a barn on the farm property. Chickens Are Saved From Blaze in Barn

A fire Tuesday night in the Grantsville area caused $1,000 damage but 10,000 chickens were saved.

Grantsville firemen were called at 11:15 to the property of Henry Edward Yoder, two miles north of that town after smoke was seen coming from a large building. Volunteers gave this story.

Yoder and his wife were returning home from a PTA meeting when Yost Yoder, no relation, noticed the smoke. Twelve firemen and two pieces of equipment answered the alarm.

Flames were shooting from the roof top of a large barn, converted into a chicken hatchery. Quick work checked the blaze and not one of the 10,000 fowls inside the structure was harmed.

Fire Chief Henry L. Durst said the blaze was caused by a defective switch on an automatic feeder. The barn and an adjoining building are valued at $5,000.

Wild Turkey Kills Reach 60 This Year

Sixty wild turkeys, shot by hunters in the Garrett County woodlands since October 5, have been checked at various checking stations, it was learned from Harold Harmon, in charge of game management for the Game and Inland Fish commission.

Mr. Harmon said he felt that a number of others had been killed which had not been reported. A state law provides that those killing wild turkeys must report the kill to game officials within 24 hours.

Harmon emphasized the importance of reporting the kill. He said the more turkeys that are checked the more replacements that are made in the restocking program. There were 150 birds stocked this spring and 150 this fall, plus 25 additional birds that were released just within the past ten days.

The open season will continue until October 31, and already the kill is almost even with the entire season last year. There were just 61 wild turkeys checked all last year.

The hunting season has been practically free of accidents. Paul Keller received a few pellets in the back of his head while hunting the other day. He was released after a physician had removed them. He is the only casualty up to the present time.

The kills were reported to have occurred at Gorman, Mt. Nebo,

To Sponsor UNICEF In Oakland Areas

The United Church Women, an Oakland community organization, is sponsoring the UNICEF "trick or treat" in Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn areas this year, it was announced by Mrs. Edward G. Wenger, president.

Junior Highs and young people of the churches of the community will do their trick or treating on Hallowe'en night. Contributions of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters or half dollars will be used for benefit of the children of the world. The money received will be sent to the United Nations and will be used for milk and medicine for needy children. Churches desiring to assist in the project may contact Mrs. Wenger or Mrs. Willard Swartzentruber, the Christian World Relations chairman of the UCW.

During World War II, UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) provided millions of children with daily meals and provided material for clothing and sent medicine and other medical assistance.

Mrs. Wenger said the need for continuing this work was recognized and in 1955 the United Nations assembly established it as a continuing body.

Among the things it has done: 75 million children immunized against tuberculosis with serum; 10 million treated for Yaws, a contagious tropical disease which cripples, and daily nourishment for 15 millions through schools and clinics, with safe milk for four million more.

The aid is given without respect to race or nationality.

State Girl Selected As Miss Agriculture

Competing with fifteen contestants representing various department of USDA, a former Garrett County girl, Miss Norma Green, was selected Miss Agriculture.

Once a 4-H Club member in this County, Miss Green was a member of the New Germany 4-H Club. The present home demonstration agent, Miss Ethel Grove, guided her through clothing projects during her two years of active participation in the club program.

Miss Green is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Green who live near Barton.

Miss Agriculture won her title and a variety of gifts because of her appearance, poise and personality. A trip to New York is the top prize and there is no further competition.

Each of the various agencies selected one girl to enter the competition. There was no standard procedure in making the selection.

Judging for the title was part of an entertainment staged by members of the department at St. Bernard's Church Crystal Room in Riverdale, September 30.

Foley Advised To Pay Postage on Franked Newsletters

The Post Office department said yesterday Rep. John Foley had been advised he would have to pay postage on some newsletters sent under his free mailing privileg to constituents last month.

The letters contained references to the presidential race and stating Foley's support of the Kennedy-Johnson ticket. The department ruled that references to the Kennedy-Johnson ticket were "not official business of the government" and that the letters could not be franked.

Foley claimed he was a victim of "reprehensible procedure by a Republican postmaster general's counsel."

Foley was having further difficulties in his campaign. The Washington Daily News of October 18 reported a reference to Allegany county voters by Foley in which he said, "We really don't have to carry them. I won without them before." This statement was considered a challenge to all voters of Western Maryland.

Recounts Action of Hurricane "Donna"

A first hand report of the ravages of the hurricane Donna which swept over parts of Florida and the east coast of the United States early in September was received recently by Billis Yoder, from her sister, Mrs. H. F. Stockslager, in Nokomis, Fla.

Nokomis is a town near Venice, Fla., and about 40 miles south of Sarasota. Portions of her letter follow:

"We started to prepare for Donna when the word came over TV that the hurricane watch had been charged to hurricane warning. Saturday morning was spent in final preparations. We had to bring in all outside furniture, bird baths, hose, garbage pails, etc; lower the TV antenna and tie the boat securely; had to clean up the neighbor's yards, too for they were away and there were things the wind could pick up and hurl with deadly force. By noon we were as ready as we could ever be for the wind started and soon the rain came.

"Lunch on Saturday was the last cooked meal we were to have for over 30 hours. By 2 p. m. the wind was so strong it took the water right out of the bay and we could see dry land where it had never been seen before. The rain never hit the ground. It was carried along horizontally—and was awe inspiring to see the waters of the bay lifted by an invisible hand and carried along. By three in the afternoon it was getting dark. A power line across the bay snapped and we saw blue white fireworks for a time. All this time the TV and radio were giving us the position of the storm and telling us what to do. At about 3:30 the power went off and then we were left without any contact with the outside world. An eerie feeling. As it got darker we lit the hurricane candles and sat huddled in a corner on the windward side of the house. Soon we saw water coming in under the glass doors and we tried to mop it up with towels. But then the wind shifted and came almost full blast against the glass doors and they bulged inward so much we expected them to break at any minute, so it was dangerous to go near them to mop the water. All we could do was sit and watch the water rise. At 6 we ate a saucer of ice cream with peanuts—too dangerous to light the charcoal grill for if the glass doors broke the wind would blow the hot coals all over the house. So we just sat and sang all the songs we knew and then repeated them.

"Then we tried to read aloud to each other but Donna was howling louder than we could so we had to give that up and return to just sitting it out. We sat close together in the corner by the ice box, the most protected spot.

"By seven, o'clock we had water all over the house, in every room. So we had another saucer of ice cream. Donna screamed and howled and we could hear unseen things crash against the house. But the house, including the glass doors, held firm. By 10 o'clock I thought the wind was lessening and by 11 we were sure of it. Being absolutely exhausted we went to bed, just threw ourselves down without bothering to change clothing and went right to sleep. I did not hear the telephone ring but Billy answered. He called and seemed terrified. I swung my feet ont of bed and plopped them into an inch of cold water. Finally I sloshed to the phone. The call was from a neighbor who had a transistor radio and who had heard the alert that a 14-foot tidal wave was imminent and that we shoud get out of there fast. This is the only time we were really frightened. It was almost midnight, total darkness, wind still howling. A quick mental calulation told us a 14-foot tidal wave would put ahout 3 feet of water in the house. We just stood and looked at each other, too frightened to know what to do. Finally we snapped out of it and made a dash for the door. In the car port we found car two neighbors who had also heard the news and who had phoned the police to find out if the tidal wave was true and had been told it was. So we all piled into the car and took off. Where to, no one knew.

"Trying to find a patch of high ground in Florida is like looking for water in the middle of the desert. But Billy said he thought the highest spot was about two miles from home so we went there. Had to detour several times because of fallen trees across the road, but we made it and sat there for two and one-half hours. The wind decreased considerably and the rain stopped so we thought we could go back home, at least get as close as we could. We got all the way home, much to our amazement and the first thing the men did was take a lantern down to the sea wall and measure the water. It was within 2½ feet of the top and it was high tide time. So we knew then, without any other information that the reported tidal wave had been false. It was four in the morning when we again sloshed through the water and fell into bed. Up again at 7 and spent the rest of Sunday mopping up the water. The wind tore off the chimney, flooded the oil furnace, tore the screening from the Florida room, blew down the pepper tree and deposited a truckload of debris in the yard. But that was all. We were safe and counted ourselves lucky. People only a few miles south of us did not fare so well. Thousands are without a home and many are still without electricity and water."

The Rev. Charles Godwin, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, president of the board of education of the West Virginia Annual Conference, was one of three new trustees who were inducted into the board of trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan college at Buckhannon, at a Founder's Day meeting recently.

Also taking office on the board were Dr. T. LeRoy Hooper, executive secretary of the West Virginia conference's board of education, and Perce Ross, Buckhannon businessman and member of the State board of education.

Among the official acts taken at the board meeting in which the three new trustees took part were the approval of a long range plan of development for the college which will include a new women's dormitory in 1962, approval of an effort to raise $2½ million for construction of new buildings and renovation of others, and brought plans for a projected student center structure nearer to realization.

Basis For Decision . . .

The following editorial appeared in the November issue of "Farm Journal," written by Carroll Streeter, editor, and is one of the most concise and convincing editorials supporting the election of Nixon and Lodge that we have seen anywhere.

We know there are hundreds of farm people in this county who subscribe to Farm Journal and who will read it, but we would like to make it available to our 5,200 subscribers and approximately 20,000 readers. Mr. Streeter has made it so "down to earth" and simple that no one can mistake the basic reasons underlying his decision. Here is what he tells more than three million subscribers:

"If by this time the din of Presidential campaign speeches, of TV's so-called debates, or rallies, ovations and columnists' comments have left you slightly bewildered, you probably have lots of company.

"After all this complication of the issues, it seems time now to simplify. For farmers we believe three questions stand out. Answer these three (plus any others that seem important to you), and you will pretty well know how you want to vote:

"1. Which man can best steer us through these times of peril to peace? With whom would you feel safer?

"2. Do you want Bigger Government in Washington assuming more control over your daily life—and your money—or do you prefer to make more of your own decisions and decide how to use more of your own money? On domestic matters, do you want more decisions made by local units of government near home, or more made at the distance of Washington?

"3. Under which man is farmers' income more likely to improve, both immediately and over a somewhat longer run?

"Every citizen is entitled to his own opinion. One of the fine things about America is that friends can disagree and still be friends. But Farm Journal chooses the Nixon-Lodge team on each of the three questions for these reasons:

"On handling the urgent dangers that imperil us, we know a lot more about what buth Mr. Nixon and Mr. Lodge would do. They've had a chance to show us—Mr. Nixon in his encounters around the world as well as at the President's right hand at home, and Mr. Lodge on the battle line at the United Nations. We like what we've seen. Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Johnson might do as well, but we have no way of knowing—neither has been in an executive spot. And at a time like this we can't take a chance. It's as simple as that.

"As to Big Government vs. Moderate Government, it may be that neither Mr. Nixon nor Mr. Kennedy is an extremist personally. But there is no doubt whatever that Mr. Kennedy's program leads straight toward Bigger Government. It leads to Bigger Spending, too, with little notion as to where the money will come from. It could only come from much higher taxes of much higher debt with still cheaper money—no other place. Farmers try to keep their own expenses within hailing distnce, at least, of their income. We have a strong hunch, they'd like to see the nation run with the same kind of judgment.

"On the farm program the basic difference is that Mr. Kennedy would install the millennium, now, by compulsory means (market quotas, etc.) Mr. Nixon would use voluntary means (bigger soil bank, etc.) which are slower but which ask farmers' consent. Mr. Kennedy said the USDA technicians 'could readily figure' the arithmetic on his plan, so they obliged him. Read the results on our Wshington page. It's time somebody exposed what cruel hokum it is to promise everybody a plan like this, even in an election year. Neither farmers, nor Congress, nor consumers would seriously consider it for ten minutes. Why try to kid them?

"Quite a lot has been heard in this campaign about 'going forward.' That doesn't impress us. This country is going forward no matter who is president. In the United States, it's the people, not the President, who furnish the mutive power and determine the pace. They do, that is, if they retain the freedom to make their own decisions and to take the iniative. That's the way we size it up. How about you?"

Here's the Washington page excerpt:

'Both Nixon and Kennedy are having second thoughts about their farm programs. Senator Kennedy has promised 'full parity of income for the American farmer. He explains it as 'that income which gives average producers a return on their invested capital, labor and management equal to that which similar, or comparable, resources earn in non-farm employment.' Kennedy, at the National Plowing contest, said this is a 'clear, easily defined cuncept that can be mathematically ascertained and computed.' So FARM JOURNAL asked his advisers what the figure would be and what level of farm prices it calls for. They retreated by saying it couldn't be figured until 'Congress' writes a clear definition of income parity. But the USDA has figured it on present formulas—

"Farm prices would have to be increased 55 percent above 1959 levels to carry out the Kennedy program, according to professional USDA economists who have been figuring parity regularly for years. In order to boost prices that much farm production would have to be cut back a fifth, the USDA says. Livestock, poultry, fruit, vegetables and other farm products would have to be brought under strict controls. Large subsidies would have to be paid to export U. S. farm products—$1.75 a bushel payment on wheat, for instance. U. S. farmers would soon have stifter competition from synthetic substitutes and foreign competition. The amount farmers would be forced to cut back would be in this range: wheat, cut back 38 to 46 percent; soybeans 20 to 25 percent; cotton 35 to 40 percent; feed grain 30 to 35 percent, hogs 25 to 30 percent, eggs 15 to 20 percent, and cattle 14 to 17 percent. People would be forced off farms at a record rate, and the impact on rural towns would be especially severe, the USDA concludes."

To our way of thinking this is a sound basis for a decision to vote for Nixon and Lodge on November 8th.

Hear Account Of Trip

At the Ryan's Glade 4-H club meeting Tuesday John Wildesen gave a brief account of his trip to Kansas City as an FFA delegate.

Andley Riley, Sr., leader, returned last year's project record books to those participating. Garland Steyer gave a brief talk on how to store tools and Charlotte Harvey gave a talk and demonstration on how to store cloths. The latter presided in the absence of the president. Royce Riley was recreation leader.

O. station. Before that it had been along the railroad tracks and prior to that had been located in Loch Lynn.

Actually this the fifth location for the office. It was situated in the B. and O. station originally, then moved to a building west of the station which was later destroyed by fire. Then the office was moved to the Bertha Warnick building in Loch Lynn, and then to the Mt. Lake Park association building where it remained for many years, until just two weeks ago.

A clipping from The Republican of July 27, 1911, had the following to say:

"The post office has been moved to the new post office building in the Park, at the railroad station. Mrs. Kesner is also to occupy a lunch room in the new stand in the post office room and the room adjoining.

"Postmaster Rathbun bought a large number of lock boxes from former Postmaster Jarboe of Oakland, and has put them in the new room. Mr. Hervey Bittner will use the second floor for a barber shop.

"The building will be lighted by electricity during the summer season and the balance of the year gas will be used for light and heat. The building will have city water."

Republican Women Set Final Meeting

Members of the Republican Women's club will hold their final meeting of the year in Kitzmiller on Thursday evening, November 3, at 8 o'clock, at which final plans for election day strategy will be discussed.

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty, president, received a plea from Washington headquarters asking members and all Republican women to contribute financially to the party and to postpone purchasing articles of clothing so that they may contribute to their party.

Any checks sent nationally are to go to the Republican National Finance committee, 1625 Eye Street, N. W., Washington 6.

Girl Scout Leaders Have Training Session

The first session of a 4-week basic course for leaders of Brownie and Girl Scout troops was held on Tuesday. Training was given by Mrs. Ruby Adams, field executive for the Shawnee Girl Scout Council. Leaders present were Mrs. James Evans, Mrs. Elmer Crone, Mrs. Harry Phillippi, Mrs. Wesley Schaible, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. James Nally, Mrs. Benson Unger, Mrs. William Glotfelty, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, and Mrs. Stanley Snyder. Also present were Mrs. Robert Wooters, neighborhood chairman, and Mrs. Guy William Hinebaugh, troop consultant.

A neighborhood-wide Scout's Own ceremony will be held on Wednesday, October 26th, at Center Street School at 4:15 p. m. The eight local troops participating plan to carry out the theme "Honor the Past—Serve the Future" by honoring Juliette Low, Founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, and also by expressing appreciation to the founder of scouting in our community. Senior Troop 97 is in charge of arrangements.

The first meeting of the Shawnee Girl Scout Council since its organization on March 30th will be held on Monday, October 24th, at the Piedmont Presbyterian Church at 8 p. m. A program honoring council founders, troop founders, camp founders, and today's members will be presented. Included in the business of the evening will be a discussion of the proposals to come before the National Council meeting in St. Louis in November. Robert Wooters, council finance chairman, is a member of the National Council and the local delegate to the convention.

FIVE GENERATIONS—Here is a five generation family that got together just a few days ago. In the lower left hand corner is Mrs. Henry Liller, aged 88 years, who resides at Aurora, W. Va. Sitting next to her is her son, E. O. Liller, 66, of Mt. Lake Park. Behind Mrs. Liller is Irvin Liller, aged 40, son of E. O. Liller, also of Mt. Lake Park. Beside him is his daughter, Carolyn (Mrs. Robert Moore), aged 19, also of Mt. Lake Park, and on E. O. Liller's lap is Robin Moore, aged six months, the great great grandson of the first mentioned.

Fall Festival Planned By Fairview CBYF

A fall festival is being sponsored by the Fairview CBYF, but the entire community is to participate. It will be held at the Sunnyside Grange hall on Saturday evening, October 29.

Proceeds will go for the remodeling of the building which is to be used as a youth center. This is a non-partisan objective, to make a youth center for the entire area. The group plans to install shuffle board, ping pong, basketball, and other games.

The festival will include a masquerade party. All are invited.

To Observe World Community Day Nov. 4

The United Church Women of the Oakland community will observe World Community Day on Friday, November 4, at 1:30 p. m., in the Evangelical United Brethren church in Loch Lynn Heights.

Mrs. Earl Roth, World Community Day chairman, will be in charge of the program. The theme is "Christian Action for Freedom." The project this year is "Gowns for Children," preferably children ages 6 through 11. Clothing is to be brought to the UCS meeting. Pajamas are acceptable also.

Women of other sections of the county are also invited.

Beall Is Against River Referendum

Sen. J. Glenn Beall yesterday urged Maryland voters to turn down a proposed Potomac River compact with Virginia on the November 8 referendum.

Beall called the compact a "reprehensible surrender of Maryland property and Maryland rights to another State, giving us absolutely nothing in return."

In a formal statement he declared "the one-side Potomac River compact was instigated by Virginians for the benefit of Virginians. Virginians are of course in favor of the proposal as drawn because it assures them of equal fishing rights in a wholly Maryland river while conceding nothing in return."

Medical Mirror
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT
Better Health Through Knowledge
Scale vs. Mirror
• Nipple Discharge
• Mental Illness
• Agammaglobulinemia

Q. I weigh exactly the same now as I did 20 years ago but my wife contends that I am overweight. How come?
A. Better lend an ear to your wife. The average 45-year-old man who is proud that his weight is the same as when he was 25 might take a look at the mirror instead of the scales. Although his weight may be the same, he could still be fat at 45.
Q. Recently I noticed a thin, watery discharge from my left breast. Could this be cancer?
A. Nipple discharge is not necessarily a sign of cancer but don't take chances. Visit your doctor without delay.
Q. Is mental illness more treatable in young people than in older persons?
A. No. Young people are no more or less treatable than persons in the older age groups. However, the earlier treatment is started in young or old the better the chances for success.
Q. Will you please discuss agammaglobulinemia?
A. This is a very complex subject but we will do the best we can in the allotted space. The blood normally contains a substance (gamma globulin) that is essential for the manufacture of protective antibodies. Babies are occasionally born with a deficiency of gamma globulin (the condition is called agammaglobulinemia). Such children have so little resistance that they catch everything that's going around, and then some. Without protective substances in the blood they fall victim to repeated severe infections that are even too much for the most potent antibiotic. Gamma globulin can be given by injection to help tide them over but sooner or later an infection gets the upper hand.
Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician.

A Town Can "Die On The Vine" Too!
By law, our bank is limited to paying 3% interest. What happens, then, when folks invest their money out of town because of a higher rate of return?
We no longer have these dollars available in the form of loans to help a man buy a car, improve his home.... help a merchant carry better merchandise, finance farm machinery or for a hundred other uses. Business slows down, young people leave for greener pastures. A town withers, then dies. It's happening today in many communities.

Proclaims P.-T. A. Week In State October 16-22

October 16-22 was proclaimed as Parent-Teacher Association Week in Maryland by Governor J. Millard Tawes at the dedication and tree planting ceremonies on the Baltimore State Office Building grounds Tuesday, October 11.

The Oak emblem of P.-T. A. was presented by Mrs. Cecil E. Ewing, president of the Maryland Congress of Parent and Teacher and planted in memory of Mrs. Edward A. SWANTON

Scout Activities

A training camp for adults registered in Girl Scouting was held at Camp Tioga, Flintstone, the first week-end in October. Those attending from here were Mrs. Mary June Harvey, Mrs. Mareva Teets and Mrs. Amy Jane Wilson.

Last week the Swanton girls went troop camping at Green Glade on Deep Creek Lake. A cabin and tents were available for use. Each person took a nosebag lunch, which was supplemented with hot soup and milk. In the afternoon demonstrations were given in fire building and safety precautions, knot tying and lashing, pitching a tent, building an outdoor food cache and garbage disposal. The evening meal was cooked over the fireplace by girls working on Camperaft badge. The campfire program was held indoors with all taking part; songs were sung, games played and a "snack" was served. Demonstrations were given in simple first aid and caring for a kerosene lamp. Following breakfast and clean up Saturday morning, two girls laid a nature trail which the rest followed. A "jungle lunch" was termed successful. An "onion trail" was made for it. Along the way the girls found the food and other articles needed for their lunch in various trees. The trail ended on the beach where a fire was built and lunch cooked which was wrapped in aluminum foil. After the hike back to camp the girls returned home.

Attending were Linda Teets, Carolyn O'Brien, Sandra Harvey, Rita O'Brien, Maria Tipton, Lois Sweitzer, Barbara McRobie, Kathy Beckman, Gladys Tipton and Linda McRobie. Adults were Mary June Harvey, Mareva Teets and Evelyn Warnick.

The Boy Scouts were camping the past week-end at Camp Harry Biggs, near Green Glade. Tents were pitched Friday afternoon and camp broke up Sunday afternoon. They attended Sunday School and church Sunday morning at the Swanton EUB church. Those attending were Harold and Gerald Wildesen, Danny Otto, Calvin Parrish, David and Floyd Wilson, Dennis Friend and John Warnick. Adults were Orval Teets and Curtis Rhodes.

An "All night sing" will be held Saturday night, October 29, at the Swanton EUB church beginning at 7:30. Several groups will be featured. All are invited.

Over the years, Oakland has supported a number of bands by a number of names, but the present group of music makers can trace their start to the musicians shown in today's old photograph, what is believed to be the original Mountain City Band.

This group was organized under that name in 1908, the same year the photograph was taken at Jennings. The building in the background housed a long-disappeared hotel.

At the time, the band was engaged in a political tour promoting the candidacies of Harvey Speicher, D. E. Bolden and Samuel Lawton, who were running for county offices.

Second row: Max Welling, Percy Frantz, Ernest Liller, who carried the torch in several parades; Will Brown, a Mr. Johnson, the band leader; Bill Lawton, Cal Echard, Fred Moore and James Bell.

For want of better uniforms, most of the members dressed in the style pictured, with leggings and neckerchiefs. As a sidelight to the picture, it is noted that Mr. Speicher was successful in his campaign for State Senator, and Mr. Lawton was elected as a member of the House of Delegates in the fall election.

Band Reorganizes

One of a numer of reorganizations of the band occurred in 1915; at this time, a newspaper account of May 20, 1915, states:

"The Mountain City Band has been reorganized and is busy at work preparing itself for splendid services. Regular nights of practice are kept up. Professor W. H. McIlwee, of Keyser, W. Va., band leader of much experience, has been engaged as instructor. He is also instructor of a band in Keyser known as McIlwee's Concert Band.

"The Mountain City Band will have the same kind of uniforms as this band, and both will have 'M.C.B.' on their uniforms. Under Mr. Illwee's leadership, both bands will play together or at different places and at various times.

"We should take pride in having such a band located in our city; it will be a mighty booster of Oakland."

The last reorganization of the band came several years ago when, after a long period of sponsorship by the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, the band organized as an independent group, which it remains today.

Two Amendments of Concern To Farmers

Two proposed constitutional amendments are considered of major concern to farm people and the Farm Bureau is urging citizens to vote in favor of these amendments on Tuesday, November 8.

They are listed as amendments No. 13 and 14.

No. 13 is an amendment to the Declaration of Rights which proposes the granting of authority to the General Assembly to provide for the separate assessment, classification and sub-classification of land, improvements on land and personal property, and requiring that all taxes levied shall be uniform as to each class of sub-class of land, improvements on land, and personal property.

No. 14 is an amendment to the Declaration of Rights which proposese granting of authority to the general assembly to provide that land actively devoted to farm or agricultural use shall be assessed on the basis of such use and shall not be assessed as if sub-divided.

The increase in population has caused changes. As cities expand some farms are lost to housing and industry while others are endangered by the illusive potential value when this is used for tax purposes.

It is the contention of the Farm bureau that taxes based on the illusive potential value will force land from crop production to idleness or waste and destroy the countryside. This condition now threatens farmers in Baltimore, Howard, Anne Arundel, Montgomery, Prince George's and Wicomico counties and may reach later the tobacco lands of Southern Maryland, the dairy farms of Frederick, Carroll and Harford counties, the chicken farms of Worchester, Wicomico and Somerset counties and eventaually result in driving the farming industry out of these areas.

The Maryland General Assembly in 1955 passed a Farm Bureau sponsored law which required the assessment of land "actively devoted to farm or agricultural use" to be made "solely on the basis of such use" and not on any other basis.

The law was declared unconstitutional in 1959 and the 1960 general assembly re-enacted it with revision to proclaim a State policy to protect farm lands in the public interest.

The constitution of Maryland must be amended in two places to make the law constitutional and will be voted on November 8.

And just who is Bill? A parent's mind stalls right in the middle of that intersection . . .

From what background has Bill come? In what moral direction is he heading? Where did Ruth meet him? Where will he take her?

Jolting the family's peace of mind, this sudden collision between confidence in our daughter and uncertainty about someone's son.

Another jolt: If Bill's parents are the right sort of people, they're probably wondering about our Ruth!

Many families have fewer such anxieties because they are active in the life of a church. Their boys and girls meet in an atmosphere that calls forth our best. Fun, friendship and inspiration are blended in worthwhile youth activities.

And if love blooms . . . no awkward compromise of conviction such as besets some . . . but a common faith in God to enrich a couple's affection and strengthen their marriage.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our Need of God

Lesson for October 23, 1960

MAN'S NEED of God is his highest dignity. This was the conclusion of a great thinker a century ago. But he was not alone in this discovery. Down through the generations, people high and low have found out that to need God is not a sign of shiftlessness and inferiority, but of dignity. The down-and-outs, the failures, the crippled in mind and spirit, these need God. But also the strong, the able, the wise, the genius—these also need God, and it does no damage to their self-respect to acknowledge this.

Dr. Foreman

"Reviving the Soul"

Every one of the Psalms expresses some need of man for God. The 19th and 42nd Psalms are not peculiar in this respect. But the 19th contains three phrases, each one referring to God's law, and each expressing a distinct human need which God fulfills. The Christian will think: If all this comes to us in the Law, how much more in the Gospel!

The law of the Lord revives the soul. How weary we grow, how soon we faint! Where is the soul of man? Crushed and starved, beaten down by life's struggles and toils, half forgotten in the bitter competition of the week-days, on Saturday nights or on any night one is tempted to doubt whether one has a soul at all. If the wilted spirit withers further, it will be very near death, indeed many a soul suffers from a kind of perpetual sleeping sickness. We need God to revive the dying soul.

"Making Wise the Simple"

"If youth knew, if age could" is a short poetic form of a proverb, "Too soon old, too late smart." Knowledge can be absorbed by a bright ten-year-old. "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers." Wisdom is far more than knowledge, it is knowing what to do with knowledge, and how. Calculating machines have knowledge, of a sort, but no machine has wisdom. The greatest wisdom, said Socrates, is realizing how little one has.

The law of God, says the Psalmist, makes wise the simple. Knowledge is something we have to work for, to attain; wisdom is a gift, the true wisdom comes from God who gives to all "generously and without reproaching" as St. James says.

"Rejoicing the Heart"

This world, said some one, is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. If the walls of a London street were all made transparent, wrote Charles Dickens, who loved his city, and if we could see all the tragedies hidden by brick and stone and wood, the sight would be more than heart could endure. This is a tragic world, and all the joke-making (for indeed some things and people are funny) does not change the state of the world, nor of the heart. When a soul walks in darkness, it is no help to read that the stock market is going up, that spring will follow winter, that somewhere the sun is shining. The heart bowed down knows its own sorrows and a stranger does not intermeddle with his grief. Is it a loss of dignity to need comfort? If so we are a race without dignity. On the contrary, our need of God here as always is our highest dignity. God comes to man not to increase his sorrow but to wipe all tears away. God in his law, God in his Gospel, rejoices the heart.

Warning and Reward

The inspired poet of Psalm 19 sums up in two words what God does for him: Warning and Reward (verse 11). How desperately we need these both! Again man's need of God is high dignity. The plants, the hoasts, need no conscience, no warning voice. They cannot choose but do what they are destined to do. But man is free. He can and must make choices. he can make decisions which are tragically, eternally wrong. We need warning. If God did not warn us, it would be a sign he had cast us off. We need reward too. The poet does not say there is reward for the keeping of God's law; there is reward in the keeping; joy in sharing God's holy will.

Activity Report of Health Department Given By Officer

A report of activities of the Health Department has been released by Dr. Arthur Jones, health officer.

Through the month of August the Dr. activities of the Health Department have been the conduct and control of what threatened to be an epidemic of Poliomyelitis. Somerset County Pennsylvania started in July with an exceptionally large number of cases and one case appeared in the northern part of this County. In the middle of July, a woman, mother of six children, from the southern central section of the county developed Polio and died shortly after being admitted to a Pittsburgh hospital. At the same time her child, age one year, and a young adult were in the Garrett County Memorial hospital diagnosed as Poliomyelitis, with another infant a suspicious case. This threw the county into panic and great numbers clamored for immunizations, adults as well as children. Under the circumstances the Health Department let down the bars and offered immunization to all those who appeared at the clinics for the service. Extra clinics had to be set up in Oakland and throughout the county to handle the load. Supplies of vaccine, and syringes became a problem. Despite emergency orders and borrowing all available vaccine, several clinics had to be terminated when supplies ran out. Late in August the Department was visited by Doctor Glen E. Gresham, Epidemiologist from the Central Health Department, to study the spread of the disease.

Administration

In early August the Health Officer started negotiations with the idea of setting up in this Department an Eye Clinic. In our present set up children must be transported to Cumberland for this service. Refractions and glasses have been furnished for the eligible through funds from the Oakland-Mountain Lake Park and Kingmiller Lions Clubs and the Friendsville and Grantsville Rotary Clubs and the County Red Cross. We are hoping these funds can be available for the local clinic. Also we are hoping to have donated most of the equipment needed.

The Department was visited by Doctor Ton van Strein, D.S.H.O. of Allegany County, Mrs. Ella Everstine, Psychiatric Social worker of Allegany and Garrett Counties and Doctor William Edwards, recently appointed consultant in Psychiatry for the western counties of Maryland. The purpose of the meeting was to determine a Mental Hygiene program for this and Allegany County. This resulted in many suggestions rather than a definite program.

In the middle of the month, there was a large outbreak of dysentery in a boys' camp located on Deep Creek Lake. The camp was visited by the Health Officer accompanied by a Health Nurse. The premises were inspected and all the sick examined. All the afflicted were recent arrivals from Washington, D. C., and the illness was thought to be an entero-virus infection the boys brought with them. Instructions were left as to how to prevent the spread of the infection.

The Health Officer had the privilege during the month to examine the candidates for both the Northern and Southern High School football teams. This is a privilege because it furnishes the Health Officer with first hand information on the general health of the school population. The Health Officer also examines many Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Brownies, Cubs and other groups when the opportunity presents. One thing that came to light in these examinations, was the appalling amount of severe dental caries in what probably is our upper socio-economic group.

Another discovery was reported in which the nasal cavity was put a high powered heater right between the deep eyes, thereby destroying the brain, beyond any hope of examination for cause.

Medical Care

Medical care started at once the usual routine average. Mentally indicated, 78 Indigent, 171; Prescriptions, 54. A nineteen year old pregnant woman was referred to the Health Department for aid. It was discovered that she had acute Myelogenous Leukemia (a very malignant cancer of the blood). Her needs were taken care of through the Hospital Outpatient Service and the Cancer Society.

The routine of nursing services both in home visits and clinics was carried on in addition to organizing special polio immunization clinics.

Mrs. Alma Morgan, Public Health Nurse in the Friendsville district, resigned as of August 30th. The position, for budgetary reasons will not be filled until the very end of the year. In the interim the County has been rezoned to conform to the remaining nurses, though this means that nursing service will be spread rather thin. Five clinics were held with a nurse in charge: Ear, Nose and Throat, Betty Shaffer, attendance, 30; Maternity, Betty Shaffer attendance, 18; Pediatric Hazel L. Deakins, attendance, 11, Postune Melda Gregg, attendance 13, Tuberculosis, Betty Shaffer, attendance, 27.

Sanitation

The Sanitarian spent one week attending the Inter-State Sanitarians Seminar. He brought back much good and useful information to this Department. During his absence the most pressing assignments had to be carried out by the Health Officer with the remaining piling up as a back log. Two septic systems on lake front property were inspected and condemned jointly by the Health Officer and the Sanitarian.

Fined On Dog Law

Eugene Rice, Jr., was given a hearing on October 1 in the office of Trial Magistrate Robert M. Mahoney on a charge of allowing a dangerous dog to go at large in the town of Deer Park. He entered a plea of not guilty but was found guilty and fined $5 and costs.

Asks Support For Court Amendment

The Maryland State Bar Committee on the Court of Appeals Constitutional Amendment, has called upon the voters of Maryland to approve the Amendment at the coming election on November 8th.

Proposed by Chapter 11 of the Acts of 1960 by unanimous vote of both branches of the legislature, this Amendment to Section 14 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Maryland is designed to help the Court of Appeals handle the increased burden of cases resulting from the rapid population growth of our State and the increased case load and number of Judges in the Trial Courts. As of September 30, 1960, substantially more appeals have been docketed than in any prior year, almost 50% more than at the same time last year, and 15% more than in 1957, the earlier year with the heaviest docket.

The Amendment appearing as question 12 on the ballot, will increase the membership of the Court of Appeals from five to seven judges, revise the composition of the Appellate Judicial Circuits, and provide for the operations of the new Court.

In the new Court the nine counties of the Eastern Shore will be the First Appellate Judicial Circuit; Baltimore and Harford counties, the Second; Allegany, Frederick, Garrett, Montgomery and Washington counties, the Third; Calvert, Charles, Prince Georges, St. Mary's counties, the Fourth; Anne Arundel, Carroll and Howard counties, the Fifth; Baltimore City, the Sixth. Each circuit will provide one judge, except that Baltimore City has two. These Appellate Circuits are designed to give due regard both to relative population and to geographical representation in the membership of the Court. All judgeships will continue to be elective except as to vacancies, which will continue to be filled by appointment of the Governor.

In the new Court five of the seven judges will constitute a quorum, and five will sit in any case unless the Court otherwise directs. A majority of those sitting will decide a case and no case will be decided by a tie vote. Any decision will ordinarily be reviewed on appeal by the Court of Appeals as a matter of right. The Court will still ordinarily sit in panels of five judges, but will have the power of dispensing with oral argument in appropriate cases and of deciding cases en banc. In addition, a case originally heard by a panel may be reheard by the full Court on motion before the decision becomes final. Where the Court sits in an equal division or in the event two division, a majority of the full Court of Appeals, and it is enthusiastically supported by the Bar of the State as the most efficient and least expensive method of easing the increasing burden upon the judges of our highest Court.

Another helpful book is Dorothy Baruch's "How to live with your Teen-ager".

"How to Help your Child in School" by Mary and Lawrence Frank, although published in 1950, still offers a great deal of usable advice for parents. The authors interpret the elementary school curriculum and aims for the parent and describe how the child tries to fit in with both home and school situations.

Ways in which parents can help their child to boost his IQ are discussed in David Engler's "How to Raise Your Child's IQ".

Advice to parents regarding the backward child is given in Samuel Kirk's "You and Your Retarded Child", while the bright youngster is discussed in "Your Gifted Child" by Florence Brumbaugh.

Other helpful books for parents include "The Magic of Bringing up your Child" by Frances Horwich, "Parents' Guide to Everyday Problems of Boys and Girls" by Sidonie Gruenberg, and "Parents' Guide to Children's Reading" by Nancy Larrick.

Wed Friday In Delaware

The marriage of Miss Tarun Millimnta Comegys, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Comegys, Clayton, Del., to Mr. William Kenneth Johns, took place last Friday evening, October fourteenth, in St. Peters Episcopal Church, Smyrna, Del.

Mr. Johns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Johns of Saltsburg, Pa.

The Rev. F. Sydney Bancroft, former Rector of St. Peter's Church, now Canon of The Cathedral of St. John, Wilmington, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory tone silk taffeta gown. The molded bodice with a sweetheart neckline was traced with a petal design of Swiss beads and pearls. The design was repeated on her petal front overskirt, that terminated in a court train. Her fingertip illusion veil was attached to an alencon lace bandeau. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and lily of the valley.

Miss Sara Jane Davidson of New Haven, Connecticut, was maid of honor. Miss M. Theresa Kaufman, and Miss Ann C. Sullivan, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. The attendants gowns were glace' blue taffeta ensembles with an Empire length jacket over a draped tulip petal overskirt. They wore matching bow bandeaus and carried bouquets of lavender fuji mums and pom poms.

The groom's father was best man and ushers were Albert Ringer, of Oakland, and Richard W. Comegys, Jr., and David R. Comegys, brothers of the bride.

The wedding music was played by Miss Evangeline Everett of Washington, D. C.

A reception followed in the Parish House of the Church.

The bride is a graduate of Hood College and a member of the faculty of the Southern Jr.-Sr. High School at Oakland.

Mr. Johns is a graduate of University of Denver and Columbia University and is principal of the Southern Jr.-Sr. High School at Oakland. After a motor trip North the couple will reside at Mountain Lake Park.

DEER PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith and daughter Cheryl, and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith attended the funeral of the late D. E. Jeffreys in Cumberland, last Friday.

Non-Partisan Voters Supporting Mathias

A group of independent thinking voters recently announced the formation of the non-partisan Marylanders For Mathias to work for the victory of Sixth District Republican Congressional candidate Charles McC. Mathias on November 8.

Chairman of the Marylanders For Mathias is Henry W. Clark, Chevy Chase. Clark is vice-president of the Alaska Steamship Company.

Clark said "The Marylander For Mathias serves to channel the efforts of the growing numbers of Sixth District voters who are disenchanted with the legislative record of the incumbent and want to see Mathias win this fall."

"Our members are for the most part Independents and Democrats interested in supporting Mathias who believe that in this Congressional race restoring effective representation to this district is more important than party labels," he said.

One of the major contribution to the Mathias campaign by the Marylanders For Mathias is the publication of a four-page tabloid "The Maryland Voter." It presents Mathias's positions on important issues of the area together with pictures and biographical material on Mathias. More than 100,000 copies have been mailed to registered voters in the Sixth District.

Other Marylanders For Mathias officers are William Rolle, Jr., co-chairman; Mrs. Hogarth W. Colston, secretary and James R. Miller, Jr., treasurer.

Chapters of the Marylanders For Mathias are being organized in the five Sixth District Counties—Montgomery, Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett.

Vespers Are Planned

A vesper service will be held at St. Paul's Methodist Church at 5 p. m. each Sunday through December 4. They are planned to be 30 minutes in length and come at the early evening hour to precede the youth meetings and other evening activities.

This Sunday October 23 will be observed as Laymen's Sunday at St. Pauls. Merritt Feather, church lay leader, will be in charge. Paul Shaffer a prominent Methodist laymen of Morgantown will be the guest speaker. The speaker visits Oakland often and is well known in this area. The public is invited.

Rabbit Ban Lifted

The State Board of Health in Maryland recently took action on the State regulation which had been in effect since July of 1950, prohibiting the importation of live rabbits into the State of Maryland. The Board of Health recommended to the Game and Inland Fish Commission that, under the existing regulation, an exception be made to permit the importation of live rabbits into Maryland from the State of Kansas, only, and during the period from November 15 to March 1 until such time as evidence indicates further restrictions are again necessary, Ernest A. Vaughn, Director, announced today.

The Game and Inland Fish Commission, at its meeting on October 8, 1960 approved this recommendation of the Board of Health and rabbits may now be imported from Kansas during the above named period. However, those desiring to import rabbits must first make requests to the Game and Inland Fish Commission in Annapolis to secure permission to do so. In the letter of application the applicants must state the name and address of the rabbit dealer in Kansas, the number of rabbits to be purchased and the counties in which the rabbits are to be released in Maryland, Vaughn related.

The use of imported rabbits, unless they are released for dog field trials just prior to or during the trials, has been proven impractical, not only in Maryland, through studies conducted in 1956 and 1957, but also in other states such as Ohio, New York, Michigan, Kentucky and others. The failures occur through the inability of rabbits released to survive in strange environments more than a few days at best. The most that can be expected of imported rabbits released to supplement the existing breeding stock is from 1% to 15% survival. For this reason the Commission desires to caution those who feel that the stocking of imported rabbits is the answer, that no appreciable increase in the existing population can be expected, the Director emphasized.

Southern High Highlanders scored their fourth football victory last Friday night by turning back Kingwood High school 26 to 7 under the lights on the Oakland field.

Ron Colaw tallied two touchdowns and pushed his point total for the season to 60 in the game. Kingwood trailed 13 to 7 at halftime and neither side was able to score in the third period.

Southern however, tallied twice in the last quarter. Frank Vetter scored Southern's first touchdown with a 9-yard run in the first quarter. Butch Lawton kicked the extra point. Kingwood won the toss and elected to receive but two minutes later gave the ball to the Highlanders on downs and Southern went all the way.

Dick Stuck ran 30 yards for the second touchdown but the Highlanders failed to gain the extra point. Kingwood came back to tally on Harriman's one-foot plung after a couple of passes brought the team within striking distance. Toothman took a pass from Watring for the extra point.

In the fourth period Ron Colaw scored twice. The first was on a four-yard run. A few minutes later Southern intercepted a pass deep in Kingwood territory and Colaw plunged over from the one-yard mark. He ran the extra point after his second touchdown but the try for point on the first one failed.

Kingwood now has lost four of six contests this season. Southern has made it four victories against two defeats.

THE REPUBLICAN

Nearer To Bondage . . .

As the campaign draws near to a close, we are more convinced than ever that Vice President Nixon is the man for the presidency of the United States. He has shown in his campaign, and in his debates that he is more mature and sound in his judgment, relies on facts rather than on the emotions of people, is not afraid to state his position on matters affecting this nation and that he wants this country and its people to remain free.

He advocates policies that will retain initiative and resourcefulness for the people, and those that would prevent this country from going into a completely welfare state.

Under Democratic administrations we have been brought closer and closer to the brink of a complete welfare state. Started in 1933 by Mr. Roosevelt it mushroomed and was continued under the Truman admistration. Senator Kennedy talks lovingly of Franklin D. and Harry and has already promised a crash program comparable to the first 100 days of the Roosevelt administration, if he is elected to the presidency. Heaven forbid! We had enough of that.

If Kennedy would get his big push toward government controls that he advocates, we might be in complete bondage. His discussions about what he plans to do may destroy the American form of government.

He has no fiscal responsibility in regard to decreasing the vast cost of government but wants to spend, spend and spend. His supporters are proud to be among the "biggest spenders." He never considers that in order to spend, we must pay, pay, pay!

Senator Kennedy's plans to increase the power of the federal government will have its effect on states' rights, and take over private enterprise completely. He would control all schools, banks and do away with or destroy completely private initiative. If this took place, where then would be our personal freedom?

Can a democracy die! When we get a completely centralized government such as Senator Kennedy has advocated, we are more than well on our way. Our forefathers fought and died for a Constitution based on the Bible, a Bill of Rights and the American creed. We will throw all this away and be on our way into bondage if we vote for the man who promises us everything under the shining sun, along with pie in the sky, and no increase in taxes. We can't support a man whose promises flow like maple syrup, and we hope the big majority of voters can't either.

Former Local Man Dead at Cresaptown

A thirty-five-year old Cresaptown man, former Garrett countian, was found dead at his home last Saturday morning.

Maryland State Police identified the man as Howard Stewart Rodeheaver. Authorities said he died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound of his right temple.

Tfc. Barnard J. Chabot of the state police, said Rodeheaver died sometime between midnight Friday and 10 a. m. Saturday when he was found by a friend, Orville Ketterman. He had been living alone.

A native of Oakland, he was a son of Mrs. Minnie Rodeheaver, Cumberland, and the late Charles S. Rodeheaver. He was formerly employed by the Hazelwood Construction company and prior to his death owned and operated the Cresaptown Motor Sales.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his widow, JoAnn McClellan Rodeheaver; a daughter, Gail Ann Rodeheaver; three sisters, Mrs. June Cook, Frostburg; Mrs. Irene Schroyer, Accident; Mrs. Wilma Caswell, Oswego, N. Y.

Funeral services were conducted from the Silcox Funeral home Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. Everett W. Culp, pastor of the First Methodist church in Cresaptown. Interment was in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Republicans Prepare For Visit of Lodge

Following the rally Lodge will make plane hops to Hagerstown and Baltimore.

New Post Office At Mountain Lake Park Is Dedicated Sunday

Some three hundred fifty people braved the inclement weather to be present last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the formal dedication of the new Mt. Lake Post Office. Prior to the start of the program the rain did stop and the sun endeavored to shine on the proceedings.

A. D. Naylor, who has leased the building to the postoffice department, presented the key to the building to George Perrine, postmaster, and Ed. Landry, member of the U. S. Postal service, Washington, presented a flag to the postmaster. The National Guard color guard advanced to receive the flag after which the formal flag raising ceremony was con-

Mr. Landry, principal speaker, gave a number of reasons why he was proud of the new look in the post office department which he said had been striving for a vitally important goal, "Better Mail Service for the American Public."

He said the program of mechanization will make it possible to have next day delivery of a letter anywhere in the United States.

The Mt. Lake office is one of some 4,800 new facilities under the lease program which is accomplished without capital expenditures from the Federal government and under which program the lessor pays local real estate taxes as does any property owner.

He declared the history of the post office department was one of "the most glorious of any branch of our government. Each era has brought improved mail service."

He declared the post office department the busiest enterprise in the world. It will handle in excess of 63 billion pieces of mail and parcel post this year. It employs well over a half million people in more than 35,000 post offices to process more than two-thirds of the world's mail volume. It operates a fleet of 85,000 vehicles. These and other accomplishments were out-

Home Burns After Kerosene Explosion

The three-room bungalow occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schrock and their eight children was entirely destroyed by fire following a kerosene lamp explosion Sunday evening about 8:30 o'clock. The family escaped with only the clothes on their backs.

The home was located on the Gorman-Steyer road. The Gorman fire company was called but the flames had gained too great headway and firemen were unable to save anything.

Mr. Schrock is a truck driver. His children range in age from 14 years to 11 months, with the boys 14, 12, 11, 10, six and eleven months of age, and the girls 9 and 3. Several groups in Oakland were attempting to gather clothing and household furnishings this week.

Persons interested in contributing clothing and household belongings may call DE 4-2372 to learn specific sizes for articles most desperately needed in the home.

The burned out family spent Sunday night at the home of Mr. Schrock's brother but were attempting to find other quarters.

Republican Women To Meet at Kitzmiller

The final meeting of the Republican Women's club will be held at Kitzmiller, Thursday evening November 3rd, at 8 o'clock. Final plans will be made for an all-out effort in the closing days of the campaign.

Members have been serving in headquarters, and will continue to do so until election. Twelve dozen Nixon hats have been sold in the county, several dozen cookie cutters, and about three hundred dollars worth of Republican jewelry. Large posters, urging every voter to vote on election day are being taken into every voting district. Carlton Knox of Bittinger is making the posters, and the club is paying for them.

Spot announcements of interest to the party will be made on local radio stations shortly before election day, sponsored by the club. The Club's goal—A landslide victory in this county for Nixon, Lodge and Mathias.

Shooting Matches Merge

The shooting matches being conducted at Maple View Inn near Deer Park every Saturday are now under joint sponsorship, it was announced this morning.

The matches are sponsored jointly by the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Company and the Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire company.

UNICEF Visit To Homes Set Oct. 31

On Monday evening, October 31, young people of the Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn areas will go to homes asking for a contribution of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters or half dollars instead of the usual Hallowe'en "treat" of cookies, candy and apples.

These young people are representing UNICEF, a United Nations organization established in 1955 for helping children of all races and nationalities who are in need of medicine and milk.

Mrs. Mae DeBerry, publicity chairman, said one cent would provide vaccine needed to protect a child from tuberculosis, five cents would provide penicillin to cure a child of the crippling tropical disease called Yaws. Ten cents provides 50 glasses of milk.

Since 1955 UNICEF has immunized 75 million children against tuberculosis, treated 10 million for Yaws, provided milk for four million.

The UNICEF "trick or treat" is sponsored by the United Church Women of the Oakland community.

Merit Certificates Given Nine Students

Nine Southern High Students were presented Certificates of Merit for outstanding performance on the Spring, 1960, National Educational Development Tests, Thursday morning by their principal, Kenneth Johns.

In presenting the certificates, Mr Johns said, "This award reflects credit both to the student and to the teachers who have taught you. In order to be recognized for such an honor, each of you had a composite percentile score of 95 or higher. This means that you rank in the top five percent of students throughout the United States who took this test."

Students receiving this recognition were: Theodore Evans, Jack Jones, Joanne Foley, David Custer, Judith Kuhnle, Dwight Glotfelty, Richard Gnegy, Betty Bittinger and Carol Wooters.

Forty-five of the ninth and tenth graders at Southern took the test last spring. The areas tested were as follows:

1. English Usage Test: indicating ability to understand and use the English language. 2. Mathematics Usage Test: indicating how well the student has mastered the concepts of first year algebra and plane geometry, and the ability to use arithmetic and mathematical principles in the solution of quantitative problems. 3. Social Studies Reading Test: indicating ability to read, evaluate, and draw significant conclusions from social studies reading materials—political science, history, economics, for example. 4. Natural Sciences Reading Test: measuring ability to evaluate experimental data, to appreciate the reasoning underlying experimentation, and to gain new understandings from discussions of topics drawn from the natural sciences. 5. Word Usage Test: indicating ability to understand the meaning of words—general vocabulary.

The celebration annually attracts some 400 to 500 participants and several hundred additional spectators.

The parade route has been somewhat changed this year to allow for better judging for the prize winners, Lewis R. Jones, parade committee chairman, has announced.

The parade will form on Fourth street, go to Oak, Oak to Third, Third to Alder, Alder to Second, turn left on Liberty, Liberty to Wilson, Wilson to Center, Center to Second, and on Second street through the business district for the second time.

Democratic Rally Monday Draws 230

The "big guns" of the Democratic party in Maryland were turned on Garrett county Monday evening, when four of the state's top officials and other political workers featured a dinner and rally of county party members at Southern High school cafeteria.

Manning the artillery were Governor J. Millard Tawes; C. Ferdinand Sybert, attorney general; Louis Goldstein, comptroller of the treasury, and Thomas Finan, secretary of state and chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Maryland.

Also present were Pat Foley, brother of John Foley, Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress from Maryland's Sixth district, and George P. Mahoney, tireless party worker and often defeated candidate for various state offices.

About 230 persons were on hand for the affair.

The speakers were part of a Democratic caravan which had taken them to 15 of the state's counties to arouse support for Democratic candidates in next month's election. Before the week is over, the group will have visited every section of the state.

Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presided as toastmaster and brief remarks were made by L. C. Hutson, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee for Garrett county; Bernard I. Gonder, State senator; Mrs. E. I. Baumgartner, president of the

New Classification System in Athletics To Revise Status

Under a new classification system recently adopted by the Maryland Public Secondary Schools Athletic association, Southern High school will be participating in Class A competition in district and state athletic contests.

The new plan calls for a fourth grouping to be known as double A (AA). Heretofore, all schools in the state were listed in three groups A, B and C.

The double A schools will include all schools having an enrollment of 500 boys or more in grades ten, eleven and twelve. There are twenty such schools in our state. Frederick and North Hagerstown are the only two high schools in this area to be found in this new classification.

Of the twenty-two schools in the Class A division, six are located in Western Maryland. They are South Hagerstown (479), Allegany (459), Fort Hill (455), Howard County (371), Westminster (298), Beall (268), and Southern Garrett (254). Southern is the smallest school in this classification as 250 is the dividing line.

A Class A, B, or C school has the option of electing to compete in the next higher classification.

School officials at Southern expressed their unanimous approval of the new classification system. "It has been felt for quite sometime that a change should be made," Dick Travis, athletic director, said. "The discrepancy between 250 boys and 1300 such as Kenwood High school was too great. Six of the double A schools which were formerly Class A schools have an enrollment of 1,000 or more boys".

1st Frost and 1st Snow In Same Week

The first killing frost and the first snowfall of the present season came during the same week this year. The frost was later than usual and the snow a little earlier than usual. It was just four days between the two.

The killing frost came last Friday morning and to make it emphatic there was a similar occurrence the following morning.

People awakened Monday morning to find a smattering of snow on the ground, which had followed a sharp turn after a rainy Sunday. Although about one-half inch fell, according to the government weather station at Weber's, south of town, it did not remain on the ground.

Snowfall up to an inch fell in the vicinity of Big Savage mountain and road crews were out for cindering on U. S. 219, beyond Grantsville. New Germany State park, south of Grantsville, reported the one-inch snowfall, while a half inch was reported on Little Savage. Winds were from 15 to 25 miles per hour.

Temperatures ranged from a low of 17 degrees, reported on Wednesday morning, to the forties.

Gas Production In Three Months Continues Drop

County Receives $14,364.95, More Than $2,000 Less Previous Report

Continuing to reflect a seasonal decline in gas usage, the quarterly report of production from the local field, received yesterday by the County Commissioners, showed that 802,651,000 cubic feet had been taken from the wells, compared to 917,946,000 for the past three months of the year. The report this week covers the period July 1 to September 30, and showed an average of almost 9 million cubic feet per day. The amount received for marketable gas $205,213.58.

The decrease was reflected in the amount of the check received from the gas companies by the County Commissioners as its share of the seven percent tax on marketable gas. The Commissioners received a check for $14,364.95, compared to $16,627.75 three months ago. Some checks for a 3 months' period have run as high as $28,000.

However, it brought the total tax money received for the year to $78,354.31. The first $50,000 in any one year goes toward liquidation of the school indebtedness. The next $25,000 goes toward expenses of the local hospital and any amount above $75,000 goes into a fund for new school buildings, repairs or additional new construction.

Last year the amount for the full year totaled $80,703.43, while the pervious year the total was $83,733.85.

Thirty-seven wells were listed as producing gas, one less than the number for the previous report. The Jasper Riley well was not listed.

Seventeen wells were listed under joint names of O. Eberly with 46.875 percent; Robert Eberly, 06.250 percent; William E. Snee, 45.31 percent, and L. N. Murray, 1.562 percent. These wells were again the biggest producers with the most productive being the Herman and Haslin well with 128,161,000 cubic feet. Other large producers were the Black and Frazee well with 116,422,000, Collier well with 102,265,000, Bowser with 96,470,000 and Mitchell Rush, with 66,353,000. The Norris K. Welch well, which was the area's first producer, is still in the running, supplying over 18,550,000 cubic feet during the quarter.

A percentage of the total received by the Commissioners goes to incorporated towns if a producing well is located within the corporate limits. The breakdown also showed that $5,745.98 of the check to the County Commissioners was from the purchaser's proportion of the tax, (2.8 percent) and $8,618.97 was from the producer's proportion of the tax (4.2 percent).

Since the first check for the tax on the marketable gas was received by the Commissioners in July, 1951, the county's governing body has received $524,274.57.

The complete report of the production by wells for the ninety-day period is shown in tabular form in today's issue.

State Motor Vehicle Men Hurt in Mishap

Two officials of the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles were hospitalized, one critically injured, in a two-vehicle collision Saturday night on the Glendale road, near Deep Creek Lake.

Admitted to the Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland were Raymond Owings Horn, 55, of Marriottsville, Howard county, and Carroll Eichelberger, 57, of Baltimore.

Horn was placed on the critical list after sustaining a fractured skull, chest injuries and lacerations of the forehead. He was unconscious when admitted to the hospital but had regained consciousness the next day and was said to be showing satisfactory progress.

His companion was reported in satisfactory condition. He sustained lacerations of the right eye and a fractured left shoulder.

Two brothers, Richard Lambert Bernard 22, of route 2, Swanton, and Roland Cecil Bernard, 31, of Canton, O., were also injured in the collision but did not require

Helicopter For Use State Police and Civilian Defense

A new piece of emergency equipment in the form of a helicopter was received by the State of Maryland at Pikesville.

Shirley Ewing, director of the Maryland Civil Defense agency, and Colonel Carey Jarman, superintendent, Maryland State Police, and members of their staffs were on hand to welcome Corporal Robert W. Jennings, pilot, and Sergeant Edward Zachman, mechanic, upon their arrival after a seven-day flight from California.

The cost of the three-place Hiller H-12E Helicopter, approximately $44,000, was shared equally by the State and Federal Government. It is primarily an emergency vehicle. Its characteristics are such as to make it extremely valuable in times of emergency. It can land in otherwise inaccessible places and pick up casualties. Its hovering capabilities make it extremely valuable for searching difficult areas and observing movements on the ground.

The helicopter will be under the operational control of the State Police. Corporal Robert W. Jennings, the pilot, is a graduate of the Army Aviation school where he qualified as both a fixed-wing and rotary-wing pilot.

Sergeant Zachman is the chief mechanic for the 29th Division Aviation company of the Maryland National Guard.

N. U. Bond Greeted By Nixon In Florida

Ninian U. Bond, of St. Petersburg, Fla., a former resident of this county had an unusual night of activities recently in that city.

It was the night a huge throng gave vice president Richard M. Nixon a mighty welcome to Florida.

Mr. Bond, a former Kentucky Republican state senator, now owns the Ponce de Leon and other hotels in that city.

The St. Petersburg Times of Wednesday, October 19, had the following to say:

"Wearing a big Nixon badge Senator Bond who will be 93 his next birthday, posed with Pat and Dick, at the hotel.

"Nixon presented him an autographed pen, " a present for your 94th birthday." Pat beamed on the spry old Kentuckian, who later walked to the field to cheer for the candidate."

Hoye Crest

On June 1st, an impressive cast metal marker was erected on the peak of the mountain forever to be known as Hoye Crest. It replaced a temporary wooden sign nailed to a tree in 1952 during appropriate ceremonies after the then Governor of Maryland, Theodore R. McKeldin, had by official proclamation named the mountain for Captain Charles E. Hoye, Founding Father of the Garrett County Historical Society.

The marker is of the standard pattern furnished by the Maryland Historical Society, many of which are in place in Garrett County, particularly along Route 40, the Old National Pike. In a disk at the top center is the Great Seal of Maryland, enameled in three colors, red, yellow, and black, against the aluminum-color ground. The inscription reads:

HOYE CREST
Highest Point in Maryland
Backbone Mountain
Garrett County
3360 Feet Above Sea Level
Named for Captain Charles E. Hoye
Founder of
The Garrett County Historical Society
Dedicated September 1st. 1952
Maryland Historical Society

Representing the GCHS at the erection of the marker were Paul B. Naylor, a past president, Dennis Rasche, and Elmer Upole. The latter, a Senior Forest Warder, brought two assistants, Philip Ferguson and George Moon. Mr. Naylor had been in correspondence with the Maryland Historical Society in connection with the marker during several years, and to him goes the credit of scoring a notable success for the GCHS.

The approach to the peak in Mr. Upole's heavily laden Jeep was difficult. Long abandoned logging trails were overgrown with saplings, some being two inches or more in diameter. These the Jeep bore down easily except on a few stretches where the ascent was very steep and the trail crooked. A winch and steel cable mounted on front were brought into play, bringing the Jeep to within 300 yards of the top. From there the heavy marker, 9 foot iron pole, bags of concrete, cans of water, and tools, were "toted" by Mr. Upole and his helpers. Thanks of the GCHS are due them for their clever engineering.

IN MARYLAND YOU PAY $1.00 TAX ON TEN GALLONS OF GASOLINE!

HOW DID YOU VOTE?

No matter how you voted, these facts on gasoline taxes are important to you:

GASOLINE TAXES UP 51% IN TEN YEARS

- In Maryland, car owners pay $1.00 tax on every 10 gallons of gasoline they buy!
- Gasoline taxes across the nation amount to a 50% sales tax—and that's five times as high as the tax rate on luxuries like diamonds and mink coats!
- Since World War II, there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone. This brought the Federal tax to 4 cents a gallon, in addition to the State tax of 6 cents a gallon!
- In the last ten years gasoline taxes have skyrocketed 51%—yet the price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period!
- Each year the average motor vehicle owner in this state pays $82 for gasoline taxes alone. That's just a few dollars less than the average week's pay for most people!

HIGHWAYS AND GASOLINE TAXES

Your gasoline retailer, naturally, favors construction of the roads that the motoring public needs. He believes in fair and reasonable taxation for this purpose but feels that taxes on gasoline have now reached unreasonably high levels. He also believes that all special taxes on the motorist should be used only for highway purposes. Yet last year, out of every automobile tax dollar collected by the Federal Government from highway users, more than 40 cents went for non-highway purposes. If these automotive tax revenues were dedicated for highway purposes, there would be no need for the latest increase in the federal gasoline tax.

The Gasoline You Buy Is Taxed Too HIGH!

See It Come True Friday At . . THE H-P STORES

THE MARXENS moved into their All-Gas home in Pittsburgh in June of '57. All of the major household jobs are done by modern, automatic gas appliances . . . cooling, heating, cooking, clothes drying, water heating, and the Marxens are enjoying the low fuel bills typical of All-Gas Homes.

"WE SAVE OVER $350* A YEAR IN OUR ALL-GAS HOUSE OF SAVINGS," SAY THE MARXENS

Amazed at low cost of central GAS cooling and heating

MRS. MARXEN PREFERS GAS COOKING because—as she puts it—"You don't get the exacting control with electric that you do with gas." Mrs. Marxen is always sure of perfect results with her modern built-in gas range with the Burner-with-a-Brain. Her kitchen walls and curtains stay bright and new because gas cooking is clean.

During three of the hottest summers and coldest winters in recent years, cooling and heating their entire 5 level, 6 room house with gas cost the Marxens only an average of $25 a month. "That's one good reason why we like our gas system best," says Mr. Marxen.

"And what comfort we've had!" adds Mrs. Marxen. "Every room is just the way we like it—without drafts. The house stays cleaner, too."

The Marxens are sold on gas appliances not only because they're economical, but because they assure safe, dependable operation with low upkeep. "What little service we've needed has been handled quickly, efficiently and courteously by the Gas Company," says Mr. Marxen.

You, too, can enjoy modern living with convenience and comfort as well as economy—by installing all gas appliances in your home.

For President and Vice President of the United States and

For Congress

For What It Is . . .

We are sure the people of the county will take the statements made by the Democratic big wigs at the rally on Monday for what they are. They're just a lot of political hokum. The statements persist but they are refuted daily by the Republican candidates.

It is difficult to believe a "lowering prestige" of this country abroad when the many victories in the United Nations have been so decisive.

Eisenhower has pictured the United States as the world's most powerful nation with a vigorous and expanding economy, and has warned that false fears and empty promises threatened peace and U. S. prosperity. We believe he is correct.

The Sun For Nixon - - -

The Baltimore Sun, in a front page editorial on Sunday, October 23, indorsed the candidacy of Richard M. Nixon for the Presidency.

The Sun cited some sharp differences in the candidates, one in labor, one in farm policy, in economic growth and the money and fiscal policy.

The Sun indicated this country needed big labor to offset big industry. But an excess of power on either side is destructive and said Kennedy's election would enlarge Big Labor's power to a one-sided and dangerous point.

The newspaper said, in speaking of the farm policy, that Nixon wished to bring back supply and demand as the main factors controlling production but that Kennedy proposes a "system of subsidies and artificial controls so elaborate that it would come close to putting Federal government in charge of every barnyard."

The newspaper pointed out that in the Democratic platform four years ago they promised to try to achieve for the country a $500 billion economy by 1960. If further pointed out that in 1960 we do have a $500 billion economy, under a Republican administration, indicating that the growth under Eisenhower had not been entirely wanting.

But Kennedy insists that it has been the wrong kind of growth with too much emphasis on the private sector and not enough on the public sector.

Mr. Kennedy, the paper said, would have the Government arrange and control the nation's growth. Mr. Nixon wants to accelerate economic growth by increasing the traditional strengths of a free economy, initiative and investment.

In another difference, Mr. Nixon would continue maintenance of the value of the dollar and avoid inflation. Mr. Kennedy rejects this. His promises fail entirely to show how the balanced budgets they claim they will have can be accomplished in view of the massive public spending programs that are indicated at the same time.

It concluded that the emphasis in Mr. Kennedy's domestic position in most fields is on centralized power on a much magnified scale. It declares Mr. Kennedy is headed in the wrong direction and Mr. Nixon by staying on course, is headed in the right direction.

Listen Americans!

... by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Harding College's annual Summer Seminar on American citizenship education for teachers recently ended. Men and women who are now teaching school this fall in many states throughout the nation attended. For the feature speech at their "graduation" banquet they chose a young man who is teaching in California, Jean Fleetwood, a graduate of Harding. He spoke of the grave threat of Communist domination of our nation and challenged his fellow teachers to teach "a positive appreciation" of the American way of life, and an understanding of the true nature of Socialism and Communism.

"First," he said, "let us examine the contents of our culture and what is happening to it.

"We find individuals as a basic pillar of our society. We find that in past years proud people were determined to make a place for themselves as they crossed our frontiers. Today, we find people with outstretched hands asking for government support and welfare. Have we lost our backbone?

"Religion has been a fundamental institution of our heritage. Today as a Christian nation we have one of the highest crime rates recorded in history. We spend almost as much for alcohol and tobacco as we do on education.

"Love for our fellow man is cherished as 'American.' But in the Korean War William Gallagher threw several of his buddies out in the snow where they froze to death because they smelled bad from dysentery. He was a fiend, but what about the other 40 Americans in that hut who quietly sat still as their buddies froze?

"Initiative, another pillar of our strength, is being sapped by welfare programs and heavy taxation.

"Patriotism has become something corny. Alger Hiss, an American, stole military information for Russia. How many people in Searcy, Arkansas, thought of our heritage on the Fourth of July? (In Little Rock, a newspaper poll found only 20 per cent of the citizens questioned knew what was being celebrated on July 4th.)

"Our economic system is being rapidly stifled by 'galloping' Socialism. More government ownership and control is indicated; just look around.

"The most basic part of our culture is government by the people. May I say that unless the apathetic people of the United States soon wake up we will have no government left — in the traditional sense. Yesterday, Mexico's legislature announced support of Castro, while Cuba is in internal turmoil caused by Communist influences. It seems appropriate to quote J. Edgar Hoover: 'Public indifference to this threat of Communism is tantamount to national suicide.'

"What can we do as teachers? In the next 12 years, this group will be able to influence 50,000 students. There is no way to estimate the good you can do if you return home and teach a positive appreciation of the American way of life emphasizing its basic functions. We are teachers and we must be proud to be teachers. With us lies the major hope for the future."

War Exercise Held

Pfc. John M. Slawter recently participated with other personnel from the 1st Cavalry Division in Exercise Trooper Turnout II, a three-day field problem in Korea.

The exercise, involving about 20,000 troops, stressed the division's ability to adapt to fast changing combat conditions. Training in defensive tactics was provided by an attack by a simulated aggressor force throughout a 220-square mile combat zone.

Slawter, a wire team chief in Headquarters Company of the division's 12th Cavalry, entered the Army in July, 1959, and arrived overseas the following December. He received basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slawter, of Aurora, and is a 1953 graduate of Aurora High school. Before entering the army, he was employed by the Ford Motor Company at Berea, O.

hospitalization. Richard Bernard suffered abrasions of the legs and head, while his brother, Roland, sustained abrasions of both legs and forehead. The brothers were treated at the Oakland hospital and released.

Tfc. Donald A. Tucker, of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, reported that the accident occurred at 5:30 p. m., on the Glendale road, three miles northeast of U. S. route 219.

Authorities said Richard Bernard was operating a 1950 model pickup truck southbound on the roadway, while Horn was driving a 1960 sedan northbound.

Police said they were advised that Bernard saw the Horn vehicle traveling towards him and pulled his truck off the right side of the highway. State police said as the Horn car came abreast of the Bernard truck the driver apparently lost control on a right hand curve and the rear end of the vehicle rammed into the stopped truck. Police said considerable damage was caused to the pick-up truck and that Horn's sedan was demolished.

Horn is employed as a judge for the Department of Motor Vehicles and presides at hearings in both Garrett and Allegany counties. Eichelberger, a sergeant of examiners, is always in attendance when members of the department give drivers' license tests in the county.

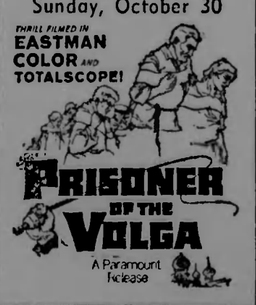
Prepare Bow Strings

According to the latest count over 1,750 bow and archery hunting stamps have been sold to [illegible] Vaughn, Director Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission. However, this does not mean that this number has been sold to the archers.

Nevertheless, as of October 1, the distributors reported the sale of 1,370 stamps to the bow and arrow hunters. "When the final tabulation is made we will know exactly how many archers hunt deer in the State," Vaughn said. "This information together with the total deer kill reported at our checking stations will give us pertinent data upon which to continue and improve our deer management techniques," he added.

Incidentally, the special bow and arrow season for Garrett, Allegany, and Washington Counties is November 1 through November 12.

A 10-year-old Tucker county youth was fatally wounded accidentally while squirrel hunting.



Other home economics instructors from high schools in the area of the West Maryland Power and Monongahela Power companies were invited. They returned to Oakland Saturday evening.

Cat-Scratch Fever

- Hard Beds
- Emotional Illness
- Menorrhagia

Q. A doctor recently told us that our youngster had "cat-scratch" fever. What in the world is that?

A. Cat-scratch fever is a relatively new disease, or at least has been recognized only during the last few years. Although the cat is looked upon as the carrier and a scratch the usual mode of transmission, the cause of the disease is a virus and not the cat. Typically, a person is scratched by a cat. Two to four weeks later a sore develops at the site of the scratch. Nearby glands swell and the victim develops a fever which lasts about 10 days. These and other symptoms gradually go away. Antibiotics are used in treatment of this disease but their value is questionable.

Q. Is a hard bed without a pillow best for small children?

A. Sleeping on a hard bed without a pillow is perfectly satisfactory for normal children. It is important that the bed not sag in the middle. If the child prefers, a single pillow may be used.

Q. What is the difference, if any, between mental and emotional illness?

A. Medically speaking, there is no difference. This distinction is most often made by non-professionals.

Q. I am 39 and have had a D and C. The diseases found were menorrhagia, uterine bleeding, and anemia. Is this always cancer? If so, does the D and C clear it up?

A. Let's clear up a few terms. Menorrhagia means excessive uterine bleeding. This condition (not a disease) produces anemia if blood loss is sufficiently severe. Menorrhagia may be a sign of late uterine cancer but the two are not directly related. D and C (dilatation and curettage) is frequently performed for menorrhagia but would be without value in management of uterine cancer.

Skeleton of a blight-killed chestnut tree on Hickory Ridge.

Skeleton in the Forest

By W. W. PRICE

You will find here and there in the fields and forests of Garrett County and the eastern United States the skeletons of the American chestnut tree. A few are still standing, such as the one we photographed on Hickory Ridge at Altamont, in the pasturefield on the Herman Schmidt farm. The living glory of this majestic tree once spread from Maine to Michigan and southward into Louisiana.

A fungus, endothia parasitica, as the botanist says, killed Castanea dentata. This infestation apparently came to the country with ship cargoes from the Orient and began about 1904 in New York City parks. From that point it swept inland and within twenty-five or thirty years had wiped out the chestnut forests, leaving skeletons to mock the efforts of scientists who were trying to find some method of controlling the blight and of saving the trees for which the parasite had a selective affinity. Efforts are now being made to crossbreed shoots of the American chestnut tree with European or Oriental varieties in hope of producing a blight resistant product. Let us hope they succeed.

In early summer the fields and woods used to burst into fragrant bloom from the chestnut trees. For an accurate description of the "spreading chestnut tree," as Longfellow accurately wrote in his poem, we go to another expert, Romeyn Beck Hough. Mr. Hough prepared his "Handbook of Trees", published in 1907, before the blight struck. He wrote: "When growing in the forests the Chestnut tree attains the height of 100 feet, with straight columnar trunk 3 or 4 feet in diameter vested in a grayish brown shallow-ridged bark. It is in the open fields, however, that it shows best its noble form and proportions. There it develops a very large, broad, or rounded head sometimes covering an area 100 feet across with massive branches and short sturdy trunk sometimes 8, 10 or even 12 feet in thickness.

"Its long handsome leaves always give it a peculiar charm, but its beauty is greatly enhanced in early summer when it puts on its clusters of golden catkins. These are succeeded in a few weeks by its hardly less conspicuous pale green clusters of fruit, the precious nature of which is indicated by the forbidding barricade of sharp spines which effectually protects it until ripe, and then, opening, cast it out to be eagerly coveted by both man and beast.

"Chestnut wood, a cubic foot of which when absolutely dry weighs 28.97 pounds, is very durable in contact with the soil and makes useful lumber for many purposes. It is also rich in tannin, which is extracted and used for tanning purposes."

In October, the chestnut burrs began to open, with the first frost and rain, their golden-brown harvest of nuts. Now the children and their mother hurried with bucket, basket and sack to gather this source of cash and trade goods. The first prime crop of chestnuts sometimes brought as high as 20 cents per pound. A retired railway mail clerk, Mr. Bruce Groves, remembers passenger trains delayed as much as an hour in this area because of the large shipments of chestnuts being loaded at various stations.

At the D. M. Dixon store at Swanton, where Joseph Welch, of Mountain Lake Park, worked as a boy, he remembers box car shipments of the nuts. The nuts were dumped upon floor of the box cars to a depth of about three feet. Such cars were also loaded with the nuts packed in burlap bags for shipment to eastern markets. With the supply so abundant, the store manager, Walter Welch, of Cumberland, had stabilized his trading price at 3 to 4 cents per pound. Mr. Welch remembers one shipper in this area who became moderately wealthy from trading in the fruit of a tree that is now only a memory.

We talked wih a retired lumber dealer, Mayor Mason, of Mountain Lake Park, who told us that the North Glade and Meadow Mountain areas of Garrett County produced fine stands of chestnut timber. He recalls how the blight came first as a mosslike growth, light yellow in color appearing on the butts and bark of the trees. Soon there would be a limb with its leaves dying and then the whole tree turned from life to death, good only for what lumber could be salvaged from it. The chestnut lumber was not considered of much value in early days. Thousands of the trees were cut down and burned to clear the ground for crops. Today we would have a fortune in "sound wormy chestnut lumber for panelling, beams and cabinets if we could find enough of the wood as went up in smoke. The high tannin content of the wood made it resistant to decay. It had an attractive grain pattern and could be finished easily for many purposes.

As a matter of fact, the American chestnut was split into fence posts and rails by the countless thousands. Mr. Aubrey Savage, native of Garrett County, remembers cutting one stand of chestnut and getting over six thousand posts from that less than four-acre plot. The tree was versatile and its loss

Among the skeletons and the ghosts of our chestnut groves move ghosts of the people we vanquished . . . the American Indian . . . who depended upon the harvest to make his life possible before the white man eventually brought the blight that destroyed the tree.

Fall Fertilization Of Alfalfa Discussed

The question often arises—can I apply fertilizer in the fall and get good yields of alfalfa. The answer is yes. Fertilizer test plots conducted by research workers at the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station showed that yields of alfalfa from fertilizer applied in the fall were equivalent to those obtained from spring fertilization. For example, in one of the tests 400 pounds per acre of an 0-20-20 fertilizer applied annually in the fall gave a yield of 3.64 tons per acre of hay. When the same amount of fertilizer was applied in the spring the yield was 3.62 tons. In this same test, the plot which received no fertilizer yielded only 2.76 tons per acre annually. These results were for a four-year period and showed that the time of application of the fertilizer appeared to have little effect on the total yield of alfalfa for the season.

Dr. James R. Miller, of the Agronomy Department stressed the importance of applying adequate fertilizer for top yields and profits from alfalfa. He recommended that 500 to 600 pounds per acre of 0-15-30 fertilizer containing borax be applied annually. It was pointed out that other analyses of fertilizers such as 0-10-20 and 0-18-36 can also be used.

If desired, dieldrin may be used with the fertilizer in fall or winter and thus control the alfalfa weevil, states Ted Bissell, Extension Entomologist. Such a mixture should be applied after last cutting and before new growth starts. One pound actual dieldrin per acre should be applied to each acre. For example, use 500 pounds of 0-15-30 fertilizer containing 4 pounds dieldrin per ton. Other fertilizer mixtures may be used as above, but the rate of dieldrin, 1 pound per acre, should be the same.

"I can't tell you how much the telephone meant to me for the last six weeks," writes Mrs. Long

MRS. CARROLL G. LONG, of Salisbury, arranging rides for Joanne and Mike while she was convalescing.

"My foot and leg have been in a cast for the past six weeks. As a result, the telephone has been all-important to me—chatting with friends to relieve the boredom of having to stay home; getting rides for the kids; calling my twin sister and friends to do errands and take me shopping."

Mrs. Long went on to say, "A telephone seems to be the No. 1 necessity to kids. (She has two, Mike 10 and Joanne 11½.) The time and peace of mind which the telephone saved us are worth much more than the money involved."

The comforting knowledge that your telephone is always ready to keep you in touch with all the world outside your home, can't be measured in money alone. And yet if you were to keep a telephone diary, you too would probably find your phone more than pays for itself in money saved, as well as in time and travel.

Mrs. Long's telephone diary shows the money her phone saved her in just two weeks—and the time and inference it saved her, and those who opened to chat or lend a hand.

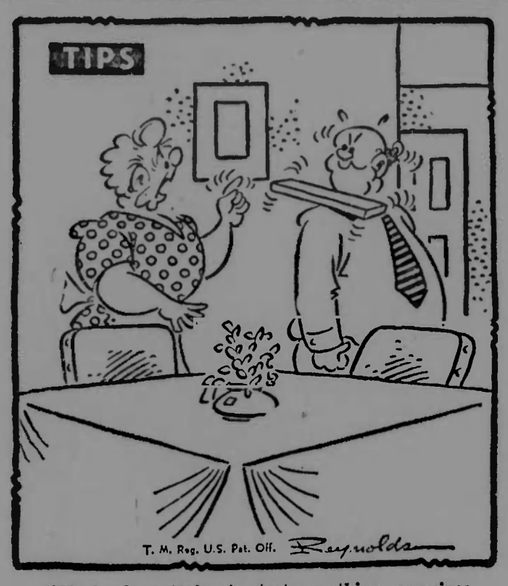
"Our Growing Edge"

MRS. MARTHA GLOTFELTY

Editorial writers and the National candidates

It is most interesting to read the editorial comment of some of our nation's newspapers concerning the national election.

The Philadelphia Inquirer says: This newspaper respects the Democratic candidates as men of honor and ability. But we believe that the state of the world today requires the leadership, in America, of men more broadly versed in foreign as well as domestic matters. It is disappointing that in his speeches Senator Kennedy has followed an almost wholly negative policy of doom and gloom. He regards this nation as drifting aimlessly, without purpose, a prey to economic and social woes, a ready target for military aggression. We do not believe that this is a true picture, nor that the nation agrees with his chronic downgrading of President Eisenhower. We believe new achievements in national welfare and security are within our nation's grasp, with the election of Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge as supported by the forward-looking Republican platform and a strongly united Republican Party.



The St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The greatest problem which the leader of the American people must face is the Communist threat of world domination, how to contain it now and how eventually to triumph over it. Unless this is solved, all other problems become academic. Of the two candidates, Richard Nixon is incomparably better qualified by experience, by maturity, by resolute qualities of heart and mind to lead our nation. The Globe Democrat unreservedly indorses Mr. Nixon. He is the best trained man ever to be a candidate for president. He and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge know and understand the Communist mind. They recognize this evil for what it is, and have faced it down with courage and dignity."

The Charleston, S. C. Evening Post: We unhesitatingly support Richard M. Nixon for President of the United States. It is our conviction that a victory for the Republican candidate will be to the best interests of the South and the nation as a whole. The Democratic party, as now constituted is in the hands of many radical blocs that parade under the mask of liberalism. They would deprive states, communities and individuals of rights intended to be reserved to them by the U. S. Constitution. A Kennedy victory would seat socialism in the saddle."

The Topeka Capital Journal says: "The Nixon Lodge ticket combines the experience of the best qualified, most thoroughly trained candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the U. S. We believe the majority of Kansas voters along with this newspaper will support them as the most effective team to continue this nation's leadership in the struggle for a lasting, realistic peace.

The Springfield Missouri News and Leader: It seems obvious to us that the voters are in a mood to favor the party whose nominees can best handle our nation's foreign relations - and it must be equally obvious that Nixon and Lodge form an excellent team for that job. We are firmly convinced that Mr. Nixon will make the better president. We are confident his qualities, never forgetting that precious ingredient of experience, are those of a man we need in the White House."

These constitute opinions of newspapers around the nation, of well informed men and women.

Is Your Name OTTO?

Otto, an old and honored surname, is practically of German origin. It was used originally as a personal name and is obtained from the Old German "odo" which signifies "rich". Its use as a surname stems from the fact that, when surnames came into vogue, it was often the practice for children to assume the personal name of their father as a hereditary surname which was handed down from generation to generation.

Among the patriots of Revolutionary days were Bodo Otto (1709-1787) and his son Bodo Otto Jr. (1748-1782) who were surgeons in the Continental Army. Both were born in Germany. The father died in Reading, Pennsylvania and the son died in Swedesboro, New Jersey from exposure in the service.

According to the "Pennsylvania German Pioneers", published by the Pennsylvania German Society in 1934 and listing the immigrant arrivals at the Port of Philadelphia from 1727 to 1808, Justus Otto arrived on the ship "Edinburgh" on September 5, 1741, Heinrich Otto came on the ship "Edinburgh" on October 2, 1753, and Bodo Otto arrived on the ship "Neptune" on October 7, 1755.

John E. Otto was a school trustee of the Sang Run district, Garrett County for the year ending May 1882.

Heinrich Friedrich Otto (1692-1739) was a noted German historian and jurist.

Ernst Otto (1804-1877) of Germany earned international recognition as a musical composer.

William Tod Otto (1816-1905) a great grandson of the aforementioned Bodo Otto, was professor of law at Indiana University and Assistant Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Lincoln. He served also as a reporter of the United States Supreme Court and died in Philadelphia in his ninetieth year.

Belle Otto is professor of chemistry at Goucher College, Baltimore.

Walter E. Otto is known widely in insurance circles as chairman of the board of directors, Michigan Mutual Liability Company, Detroit.

Louis Leslie Otto is professor of mechanical engineering at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

To Visit Friendsville Rotary Club On Monday

R. Paul Smith, president of the 735th district of Rotary International, in making his annual official visit to each of the 27 Rotary clubs in this district will be at the Friendsville Rotary club on Monday evening, October 31, it was announced by Dorsey Galand, president.

Mr. Smith will arrive after the meeting with Mr. Gnaral and John Capel, secretary and committee chairmen on administration and service activities.

Mr. Smith visited the Oakland club last Friday and also will visit the Grantsville club before he returns to his home in Hagerstown.

Driver Inexperience Caused Fatal Crash

The Interstate Commerce Commission said last Friday that driver inexperience and faculty equipment led to the fatal runaway of an acid-carrying truck near Luke on August 2.

The truck, transporting 2,500 gallons of muriatic acid and other chemicals, went out of control on the slope of Backbone mountain and finally struck two parked pulpwood trucks.

Thomas Lee Farmer, 21, Belle, W. Va., driver of the acid truck, and Glenn M. Sayder, 26, Levels, W. Va., one of the pulpwood drivers, were killed. The third driver, Olen McDonald, 33, Marysville, W. Va., was injured.

The ICC said the acid truck driver had been handling heavy commercial vehicles for only a short time and that when his truck started gaining momentum on the downgrade "he was unable to cope with the emergency situation."

Also, commission investigators reported the truck's brakes had failed and a break had occurred in a universal joint, so that it was impossible to use the engine for braking purposes.

The report added that the driver apparently had been on duty for more than 15 hours "and may have been seriously fatigued."

The acid truck was being operated for a Cleveland, Ohio, division of Dow Chemical company. The ICC said it will "take such action as appears warranted" in connection with what it termed the indicated violations of its safety regulations.

Scouts To Aid In Getting Out Votes

Nearly 2,500 Cub Scouts and Explorers of Potomac Council Boy Scouts of America, will join approximately five million members of this organization in their third GET-OUT-THE-VOTE campaign urging citizens to exercise their franchise on November 8.

Cubs, Scouts and Explorers in Garrett and Allegany counties and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy, and Grant counties in West Virginia, will hang Liberty Bell placards on doorknobs throughout the area. The distribution will take place Saturday, October 29, and householders will be asked to display the placards in their front windows until Election Day as a sign of their intention to vote.

The Get-Out-The-Vote campaign is a major feature of the Golden Jubilee Year of Scouting in America. As was the case in the previous Good Turns in 1952 and 1956, the Boy Scouts will conduct the campaign in cooperation with Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, Pa. It is strongly emphasized by Scouting officials that this nation-wide effort is to record as large a vote as possible, and is absolutely nonpartisan in concept and execution. Strict regulations have been set up for all participants to keep the project completely removed from the political atmosphere, and no other cards, posters or other material are to be distributed with the doorknob hangers. Each of the nearly one hundred Cub Packs, Scouts and Explorer Posts will be assigned a definite distribution area to avoid duplication.

Truck Driver Wins $10,884 Damage Suit

Robert Warnick, of Jennings, a truck driver for the Feldstein Iron and Metal company, on Tuesday was awarded a $10,884 verdict in a civil jury trial in the current term of the Allegany county circuit court in Cumberland.

The jury deliberated for about two hours and 10 minutes before returning the verdict.

Mr. Warnick had brought his suit against William Frank May of Williams road, Cumberland. Mr. May then filed a cross claim for $3,960 against the Feldstein Iron and Metal company. In this case the jury ruled that Mr. May was guilty of contributory negligence and could collect nothing.

The two damage suits grew out of a car-truck collision in Cumberland May 6, 1959.

Testimony revealed that Mr. Warnick was driving a Feldstein pickup truck along Bedford street, was traveling in the right lane and then gave a hand signal that he was preparing to make a left turn into Valentine street.

Mr. May, who was driving his automobile behind the Feldstein truck, said he was preparing to pass the truck as he was approaching the intersection. The car smashed into the side of the turning truck and both came to a stop on Valentine street.

Testimony showed the May car made a 65-foot skid mark to the point of impact. The verdict included $5,067 for personal injuries, $797 for hospital and medical expenses and $5,000 for past and future loss of earnings. The plaintiff must also turn over to the State Accident Fund $3,887, which is the amount he had received from the Workmen's Compensation commission. That will leave him a net verdict of $6,997.

Fumbles and two bad passes from center were particularly costly to the Southern Highlanders last Friday evening as they went down fighting against the Keyser Golden Tornado. The final score was 34 to 6.

Sophomore halfback Chuck Bradfield scored four touchdowns for Keyser and added two extra points to give the West Virginia school a one-sided victory in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

Keyser tallied first early in the contest after recovering a Southern fumble on the first play from scrimmage on the local's 28-yard line. Jim Craig's fumble had been costly.

Keyser added another six pointer in the second period. Bradfield pouching over from the four to cap a sustained drive from deep in their own territory. Southern had made extensive gains but again lost possession on a fumble. The visitors climaxed another drive by sending Wilt up the middle for nine yards and the third TD of the half. Wilt failed on the try for the extra point.

Bradfield added another score in the third period when he dashed across the line from five yards out. He racked up another touchdown in the final quarter on a nine-yard run and he also added the extra point.

Southern's lone score came when Ron Colaw raced 22 yards. Southern had taken possession of the ball on the 50-yard line and made a sustained drive for the TD. The drive was sparked by a pass to Colaw from Stuck.

Two of Keyser's touchdowns came shortly after two bad passes from center to Ron Colaw who was standing near the Southern goal line preparing to punt. The ball in both instances sailed over Colaw's head and Keyser took possession on downs within the 20 yard line. The visitors had been under-rated by sportswriters of the area.

Both teams now own 4-3 records but Keyser stands 2-1 in the PVC while Southern has a 2-2 record in the conference. Some 831 persons paid to see the contest, the third one under lights.

The Highlanders have no game scheduled for this weekend and will conclude their season at Petersburg on Friday, November 4.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Mine Picture Recalls Days of Prosperity

Several weeks ago, the old picture showed a crew of men at work in the Steyer section, testing for coal with a diamond drill rig. The group was later identified by readers who recalled the scene.

Today's photograph, a follow-up of the other, should also arouse recollections in those who remember when coal mining was a major industry in that section of the county, for this is one of several mines opened as a result of findings of the drilling crew.

The picture shows the Hill Top opening of a mine operated by the Potomac Coal company, the last of a succession of firms which engaged in mining near Steyer beginning in 1903 and continuing until 1928.

The first mine in the Steyer area was opened by the Datesman Coal company, which enjoyed unusual prosperity and at the peak of operations employed more than 150 men. To provide for their comfort, the company erected some 40 houses, a post office, telegraph office, saloon and other buildings.

During the years, the mines changed hands a number of times and included among the operators the Steyer Run Coal company, the Hay Creek Coal company, Whitman Coal company and the Potomac Coal company. Mining in the section came to an end in 1928, however, when a flood caused the shaft to cave in, burying between 40 and 50 loaded cars. Only a few were recovered before the mine was flooded.

Today's picture is another from the collection of Roney Arnold, who has loaned many of the old photographs published in this column.

Four H Club Elects

The 4-H club met last Thursday at the home of Debbie [illegible] present and were dressed in Halloween attire.

Officers elected were Debbie [illegible], president; Sharon [illegible], vice president; Nancy Bowser, secretary; Terri [illegible], treasurer; and Mr. Kerns, reporter.

Mrs. Edward Stull, assistant leader, gave a demonstration on Mix it or Match it, and explained the club books. The next meeting will be at the home of Nancy [illegible].

The Potomac Edison Coal company, Abercrombie Coal company, Whitman Coal company and the Potomac Coal company [illegible] section came to an end in 1928, however, when a flood caused the shaft to cave in, burying between 40 and 50 loaded cars. Only a few were recovered before the mine was flooded.

Today's picture is another from the collection of Roney Arnold, who has loaned many of the old photographs published in this column.

Southern Juniors Top Elkins 13-0

Southern Junior High gridders, paced by Jon Thayer, who accounted for both scores, defeated Elkins Junior High last Thursday afternoon at Oakland by the score of 13 to 0.

It was only the second loss in 50 starts for Elkins since 1955. Earlier in the campaign Southern battled Elkins to its first tie in 32 outings.

Thayer scooped up a fumble and [illegible] yards for Southern's first score in the opening period. In the third period Thayer scored from three yards out on an end run. Harold Moser, quarterback, added the extra point.

The Little Highlanders, coached by William Yates and Tom Kahn, now own a 2-0-1 record.

Playing for Southern were Brown, Kerns, Johnson, Perrine, Stewart, Stiles, Martin, Moser, Epperson, Denaman and Thayer. Substitutes were Powers, Friend, [illegible], Teets, Lohr, Gibson, Black and Trickett.

Southern scored 12 first downs rushing compared to 4 for Elkins. Elkins had one first down by passing and gained 14 yards.

Southern had six penalties compared to 2 for Elkins, losing 30 yards compared to 10. Southern gained 211 yards in rushing compared to 100 for Elkins.

WILLARD AND CALLIS

I call Bruce my combination angel-terror. Soon he will be four, and he is a fascinating mixture of mischief and goodness.

At bedtime, I always tiptoe into his room to be sure he's covered. Then it is that I am struck by the innocence of his face in sleep. Then it is that I realize how helpless is this small dynamo, who plunges with such boundless energy about our house and yard all day. Then it is that I am struck by the awesomeness of my responsibility.

I realize it is entirely up to me to see that Bruce learns right from wrong, to see that he grows into the sort of man who will be a credit to his family, his community, and his country. I must teach him to keep a steady heart and a level head, to resist the many temptations that will be strewn in his path, to hold honor and truth and integrity high.

When I think of my task, I send a small and special prayer to God to aid me. And I thank God for his Church on earth which, for years to come, will be helping me, again and again, in making my small mischief into a man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Responding to God

Lesson for October 30, 1960

GOD is to be believed in, trusted, adored. This is true, but not the whole truth. If the faith and trust and adoration stop right there, if they never lead to anything else, then they are no longer what they ought to be. A certain man used to go on a binge periodically, and at the height of one (or the bottom of it!) used to send his wife a large box of roses with an adoring note. He may have meant it; but he was a bad husband. His "adoration" of his wife made no real difference with his life. He was the same booze-bound after his marriage as before, just the same irresponsible play-boy as always. On the bank of a southern river there is a kind of concrete wall, several yards long but not connected with any kind of building. That wall was originally intended to support an end of a bridge; but the bridge was never built, so the concrete abutment stands there, in the way of the farmer who plows that riverside field. So "faith" in God, if it leads to nothing, is like that bridgeless, only a nuisance. As James put it, faith without works is dead.

Dr. Foreman

Response

The life of the Christian is not, so to speak, something which the Christian himself starts and keeps going by himself. It is the teaching of the Bible from beginning to end, that the right life is a life of response. God takes the initiative; we follow his lead. God invites, we accept. God speaks, we answer. Someone has said that the single force back of a Christian's life is gratitude. Some people get that backwards. Their picture of the Christian life is: first man does something fine that God notices; second, God is grateful to the man for the fine thing he has done; third, God showers blessings on the man by way of thanks to him. No, it is actually the other way around. First, God does so much for a man (especially through Christ's sacrificial life and death) that the man notices this; second, the man is grateful to God for his inexpressible gifts; third, the man offers God his life in service, not at all by way of rewarding God, not in the least as laying a claim on God, but out of love and a thankful heart.

The first way this response of man will show, is in his sense of responsibility. He recognizes God as the director and guide of his life, he thinks first of all not "What will people think of me?" but "What will God think of me?" (This does not come suddenly, it is a habit of mind that has to be learned.) Martin Niemoeller, a German minister who had been a naval officer, explained how it was that he could have "bucked" the all-powerful Hitler and so risked death. "It was simple," Niemoeller said afterwards. "I had a higher Fuehrer than Hitler." That is responsibility, Christian responsibility, taking orders from God first, above all others.

As a sense of responsibility grows, character grows with it. A man does not acquire character by thinking about it. The best way to become a Christian character is not to set aside certain times each week for practice, as you might practice baseball or chess.

Responsibility and Service

In Old Testament times, people made sacrifices by destroying the thing they sacrificed, or at least by withdrawing it from ordinary use. Paul sets out (in Romans 12) the new Christian idea. We understand now that to sacrifice something to God means to put it to use for him. When Paul spoke of our bodies as a "living sacrifice," no doubt some of the Christians at Rome may have wondered if he could mean human sacrifices on altars. But of course he did not. Anyone who will take time to read Romans 12 can see how down-to-earth all this is. Paul does not concentrate the reader's mind on great crises, extraordinary one-in-a-lifetime opportunities for heroism and martyrdom. He speaks of the ordinary everyday wear and tear of living with other people. Do you love and adore God? Then show you mean it by the Christian way you live with other people.

LUTHERANS BELIEVE...

Good works are necessary.

They are necessary because they express the Christian faith. They do not earn merit in God's sight, nor gain heaven.

How come?

Well, a Christian is a Christ-ian, or a Christ follower, or a "little Christ."

So, the Christian must follow in Christ's steps—loving, feeding, healing.

These are good works.

These works reveal the love of God through His people; these works lead people to Him; these works are a fulfillment of Christ's statement that His followers would do greater works than He did.

Good works come after faith. They grow out of faith.

A person who has faith in Jesus Christ simply can't help doing good works, in order that Christ might be shared with the world. Faith without works is dead.

An excellent slogan for the Christian might be HAVE FAITH—MUST WORK.

Teen Club News

Hallowe'en is nigh, big parade and street carnival on Thursday night and on Friday night at Teen Club will be a costume ball and heres hoping that everyone turns out in some kind of make up. There will be four good prizes for the best costumes, one each for individuals and two will go to the best or most original costumes being worn by a couple. The prizes will be free passes to Teen Club for a whole year. Had quite a few in from Keyser after the game last week and they certainly did like the club, said they wished that there was one like it down there. It's nice to hear these compliments from visitors. Betty Hinebaugh did a bang up job at being DJ last week so come on you people and sign up and see how you can do spinning the platters for a nevening. Haven't had any request for records lately so if you all want'em you will have to let me know what they are so I can get them. Still looking for nice pictures of stars, personal pictures of what have you to make up the nice big billboard. Any ideas for different activities at the club will be greatly appreciated also. Crowds are increasing and here's hoping they keep on. New registration will take place in a couple of weeks and new cards will be out. The reason for this is for insurance purposes. Don't forget to dress up on Friday night. But if you don't care to don't stay away, we want you there anyhow, every Friday night.

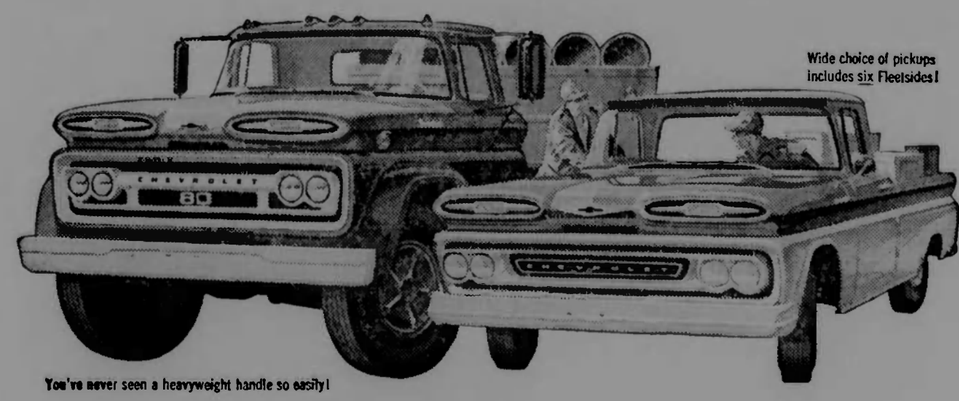
NOW FOR '61...

2 TOTALLY DIFFERENT TYPES OF CHEVY TRUCKS!

Rampside—roll your loads in and out. Nothing to lift!
Corvan—side loading height is only 14" from the ground!



1. REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's—THE TRUCKS THAT BEGAN WITH 4 WHEELS AND A FRESH IDEA!

That Rampside model you see is nearly two feet shorter than a conventional pickup. Yet it has over 20 cu. ft. more capacity. The Corvair 95 panel (Corvan) offers 191 cu. ft. of the most accessible load space you ever saw. Think of up to 1,900 pounds of whatever you haul riding on a highly maneuverable, light handling 95-inch wheelbase. That'll give you an idea of Corvair 95 efficiency. This is a beauty. Has 4-wheel independent suspension. An Integral body-frame build. Exceptional comfort and visibility. And a thrifty air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repairs. You've never seen trucks like these before!

2. TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS—WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE!

Once around the block in this '61 and you'll never be satisfied with a front-axle truck again. The difference is that noticeable. You actually feel the advantages of independent front suspension in the almost total absence of I-beam shimmy and wheel fight. The driver rides easy, the load's better protected, tires take less abuse, the whole truck is subjected to far less damaging road shock and vibration. You find you can move faster over rough trails and off the road to get more done in a day. Efficiency goes up. Profits follow. Stop by your dealer's and look over the whole line—both types of Chevy trucks.

Iraqi Dam Spells Progress

Iraq's Darabandkhan Dam which is now under construction 45 miles southwest of Sulaimania, while not as ambitious a project as the UAR's High Dam at Aswan, is certainly indicative of the progress and development in which the entire Arab world is presently engaged.

The new Iraqi dam when completed will be 442.91 feet high and 1,558.39 feet in length. More than 5 million cubic yards of construction material will be consumed in the project. The installation of the bases and supports for the dam will require the removal of about 5 million cubic yards of earth as well.

The reservoir which will be formed by the dam will encompass an area of some 80 square miles and will have a total capacity enabling it to store more than 3.5 billion cubic yards of water.

The hydroelectric plant which is being built in conjunction with the dam will be capable of producing 112,000 kilowatts of electricity annually for use in Iraqi industry and to light homes inexpensively.

The project which will cost more than $24 million is scheduled for completion during 1960.

By Dale Ellis

Saturday morning the Senior Future Homemakers of America and the eighth and ninth grade members will motor to Flintstone to attend a regional home economics meeting. Mrs. Elizabeth Randol, Mrs. Mildred Meyers, and Miss Catherine Harvey will accompany them.

Southern will have a part in the program with duet songs and Rita DeWitt participating. The group of approximately sixty members will leave Oakland at 7 a.m. and return at 5 p.m.

Harvest Rustic Dance

Southern's second annual Harvest Rustic Hop will be held in the gymnasium Saturday night from 8 to 11 o'clock. It is being sponsored by the Senior High Band Majorettes.

Prices are 35 cents stag and 50 cents drag with refreshments on sale. Tennis shoes will be permissible but no street shoes will be allowed on the floor.

Tops in records will be played with several dance contests, cake walks, and a surprise cake will be given away.

Sports News

An added feature on the sport schedule this year will be wrestling coached by Mr. Jack Lear. This program gets under way approximately two weeks after the football season is finished, according to Mr. Dick Travis, Athletic Director.

Maryland State Athletic Laws allow twelve weight classes in regard to wrestling. School's tentative schedule includes Keyser, Romney, Hancock, University High of Morgantown, Kingwood, and several schools throughout the Pennsylvania area.

Southern's basketball tournament play has been changed due to the adding of a Double A classification system this year. North Hagerstown and Frederick have moved to this class, states Mr. Dick Travis, Athletic Director.

When a high school has 499 to 1,209 boys in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades they can consider moving up to this classification.

Student Council Meets

Student Council officers and representatives met Tuesday, third period, for their first meeting of the school year. Dick Stuck is the president; Jim Craig, vice president; Linda Teets secretary, Barbara Rice, treasurer and Dale Ellis assistant treasurer. Miss Ana Dillard is the faculty advisor.

Committees are being set up by the officers, representatives, and the faculty advisor. The committees are Elections, Finance, Fire Drill, Handbook, Point, and Social.

Three other officers, the president, and the advisor will attend a meeting at Bruce High School on November 12.

Representatives are Dennis Sanders, Barbara George, Carol Campbell, Joyce Sisler, Roberta DeWitt, Jeannie Foley, Jack Jones, Kathy Gonder, Cindy White, Sally Buchanan, Sharon Godwin, Kathy Campbell, Charles Teets, Anne Gibson, and John Sanders.

Darlene Frazee was the high salesman of the magazine campaign on Tuesday with $45. Total sales of the campaign thus far have amounted to $1383 with the high cost grade being the seventh with $345. 7C is the top homeroom of the campaign with $255.

Try Our Want Ads—They Pay

THE

WEEKLY SERMON
by
Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

WANTED

1. A Gospel that will at the same time comfort giddy worldlings and true saints.
2. Preachers and evangelists who will get men converted and into Heaven without "hurting anybody's feelings" or awakening any opposition.
3. A Holiness that will permit its possessors to eat, drink, dress and live "Just as other folks do" and at the same time please God and stand the test of His word, death, judgement and eternity.

A large sum of money will be given anyone who will supply the above wants. Many have tried to satisfy them and have been paid large salaries for their services but in every instance, they finally failed. Address Mr. Awakened Professor Empty Professing Villa, Worldliness Street, Formality."

The above article clipped from "Grace and Truth" is altogether too true to be very funny. Many people are looking for "Bargain Counter" Christianity which will permit them to continue their selfish lustfull, sinful life and still be on good terms wth God. Let not our hearts deceive us into thinking that God has such a plan! Those who become Christians are fore ordained to walk in righteousness (Eph. 2:10). We cannot serve God and Satan at the same time. The world—the flesh and the devil on one side — Christ and His righteousness on the other. Which are you choosing?

The present business location was built in 1918 after the former site burned in the Spring of the same year.

Barbershop Quartet Jamboree Planned

The Oakland Chapter of the SPEBSQSA, Inc., acting as sponsor a Barbershop Quartet Jamboree, an evening devoted to fellowship and close harmony, to be held in the Oakland Fire Hall on Friday evening, November 4, at 8 o'clock. An open invitation is extended to all who enjoy the singing of the old songs in close harmony. The gathering will be sweated by members from the Fairmont, Kingwood and Uniontown Chapters of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., and several visiting quartets are expected to be there as well as the local Lake Lawn Four and the Mountaineers quartets.

An evening of singing is planned, with members to be sung by the entire gathering, by the members of the chapters in combined chorus and by the quartets present, as well as just plain harmonizing by everyone so inclined. "Our first Jamboree, back in June, was such a great success", according to Sandy Douglass, president of the Oakland Chapter, "that we are trying it again. We want to make this the best evening of song Oakland has ever known. And if the wife have any reservations about a clean and relaxing hobby barbershop quartet singing can be for their men, here is their chance to join us to see for themselves. They will be more than welcome to add their voices to ours."

Barbershop quartet singing can be defined briefly as vocal harmony produced by four voices, unaccompanied, in which there generally is at least one chord, sometimes several, for every melody note, with emphasis on the old-fashioned "sweet" harmony. Mr. Douglass recalled a little history.

The modern movement started in Tulsa Oklahoma, in 1938 when two men who loved singing, Owen C. Cash and Rupert Hall, rebelling against the rapid tempo and regimentation of modern living, sent the following letter to their friends:

"In this age of dictators and government control of everything, about the only privilege guaranteed by the Bill of Rights not in some way supervised or directed is the order of barbershop quartet singing. Without a doubt, we still have the right of peaceable assembly which I am advised by competent legal authority includes quartet singing. The writers have for a long time thought that something should be done to encourage the enjoyment of this last remaining vestige of human liberty. Therefore, we have decided to hold a sing-fest on the roof of the Tulsa Club on Monday, April 11th, 1938, at 6:30 p. m."

A story reporting the meeting was published in the local papers and the wire services picked it up. In a matter of weeks, chapters were springing up all over the Middle West. The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America was on its way. Today its international membership roster numbers some 25,000 men from every station in life. Owen Cash

Mathias Seeks Votes Of Every Citizen

Charles "Mac" Mathias, Republican candidate for Congress from Maryland's Sixth District, today welcomed the support of all honest patriotic Sixth District voters—regardless of party affiliation—now being scorned and rejected by my opponent."

"According to published newspaper reports, my opponent doesn't seem to care about the voters in Allegany County (Washington News, October 18, 1960); his supporters are brushing off what they term 'conservative' Democrats (Washington Star, October 8, 1960)." Mathias told the Frostburg Republican Women's Club in Frostburg, Maryland today, October 19, 1960. "Does this mean that he ignores these same people in pursuit of his Congressional duties?"

Mathias said "the vote is a precious privilege given every citizen in our nation to help him determine how and by whom he wishes to be represented in his government. I respect each individual vote as a personal endorsement of me as a candidate for Congress.

"I have been seeking this endorsement by the Sixth District voters since March. Today and every day I will ask for the vote of every single person in this District who wants to be presented by a Congressman who will vote 'Yes' or 'No' on legislation; who will weigh value received for money spent; people who regardless of party labels demand an impartial representative favoring no special interest group, but is concerned only with the welfare of the people of the Sixth District and the nation."

"As a candidate for political office, I believe the choice is up to the people. It is they who by their votes accept or reject candidates. I want and ask for the vote of every single voter in these five counties of Western Maryland."

had unwittingly struck a chord which had found response in the hearts and memories of thousands of men across the continent, Mr. Douglass concluded.

279 Garrett Boat Owners Have Permits

Some 46621 boats using the waters of Maryland hold valid certificates of number as of September 30th, 1960, under the new State Act, it was revealed today by William B. Matthews, Jr., Director of Boating and Recreation Division of the Department of Tidewater Fisheries, as he released the Quarterly Report which has just been sent to the United States Coast Guard.

Of the boats registered in Maryland, 14,668 contained inboard engines; 31,522 are propelled by outboard motors; 219 are pure sail boats; and the propulsion of 212 is unknown. Under the State Boat Act all vessel principally using the waters of Maryland must be registered and numbered if they are propelled by an engine of more than 7½ horsepower, or if propelled by sail alone if the boat is 25 feet or over in length overall. Certificates have been issued to 279 boat owners in Garrett County.

Of the total number of motor boats registered, 19,263 are under 16 feet, 19,155 from 16 feet to less than 26 feet, 6,782 are from 26 feet to less than 40 feet, 979 are over 39 feet, and 14 are of unknown size. A further breakdown of these figures shows that 38,418, or 83% of these boats are less than 26 feet in length, while only 7,661, or 17% are over 26 feet.

Maryand Memo

By JOHN MARSHALL BUTLER

Boy Scouts and American flags go together like hot dogs and marshmallows, and it was my happy privilege recently to have a 50-star flag flown over the Capitol here in Washington for Troop 201 of Brunswick, Ga. I have been informed by Scoutmaster Wesley Sayre, son of Raymond W. Sayre of Baltimore, that the boys in Brunswick "were just a bit brash-taken."

After pointing out that as far as he knew, his troop is the only one in Georgia to have a 50-star flag, Scoutmaster Sayre added, "Troop 201 is noted for being first and I guess we are still out in front."

A flag can be flown over the Capitol for any Maryland scout troop, veterans post, chamber of commerce or just plain citizen if they will send in their request with a check made payable to Keeper of the Stationery for $3.50 for a 3x5 flag or $6.50 for a 5x8 flag.

Maryland has been the scene of several skirmishes in the current Presidential battle. Vice President Nixon began his campaign with a send-off at Friendship International Airport. Senator Kennedy has visited the State twice with excursions into the environs of Baltimore and Washington. Senator Johnson made quick trips to Western Maryland and the Eastern Shore while Ambassador Lodge stumped Prince George's and Montgomery Counties recently and is coming back to the Free State a second time.

Maryland is clearly not being taken for granted by either Party!

And none of us should take our responsibility to vote this November 8 lightly.

I have been disturbed by recent indications that some are not going to vote at all. The Nation Magazine on the Left and National Review on the Right of the political spectrum have declined to endorse either Presidential candidate. I consider such an attitude not only wrong but dangerous.

You can't make your presence felt by staying home. You can't make your voice heard by remaining silent. In 1956 only 60 percent of the electorate went to the polls and I would hate that Marylanders would not contribute to a similarly sorry record this year.

Abstention strikes at the very heart of our two-party system. If continued over several elections, the practice of not voting would result I believe, in the formation of splinter parties in the profusion so prevalent in Europe.

In 1970 or 1975, for example, the American voter might be offered a choice between the Democratic and Republican Parties as well as the Liberal Party, the Conservative Party, the Conservative Liberal Party and perhaps the Liberal Moderate Conservative Party.

On November 8 I urge each and every one of you to vote for the man of your choice or, at the least, to vote against the man who is not your choice, but nevertheless vote. I don't feel I am being unnecessarily dramatic when I say that the future of all of us may depend upon your exercising this most basic of all American rights.

Hallowe'en can be fun, but danger often lurks in the shadows on this mystical night. The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission cautions young and old alike to beware of that black magic that steals across streets and highways at early dusk—shrouding familiar objects in darkness—casting deceptive shadows across the motorists' and pedestrians' paths—luring them to death.

Hallowe'en Costumes of youngsters often are dark in color. Masks sometimes obstruct vision. Add to this the natural excitement of children during this holiday time, and you have a potentially dangerous situation.

Enjoy this holiday in a safe and sane manner— "Slow Down At Sundown."

THE COUNTRY-PULPIT

WEEKLY SERMON by Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop

IDOLATRY FORBIDDEN

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me." This is the way the first commandment reads. We recognize immediately that gross idolatry is hereby forbidden. The fashioning of gods out of gold, silver or any other materials is morally wrong. No person in heaven or on earth is to be worshipped. Now idolatry is not limited to this as we see in Phillipians 3:19 "Whose God is their belly"; that is those who put their fleshly appetites first are guilty of idolatry. The inordinate affection and care for things of this world is also idolatry. Any thing that robs God of His glory, worship, place in our affections is idolatry. From this we can see that idolatry is not as foreign to us here in this country as we suppose. The gods of self, gods of luxury, gods of pleasure are prominent gods in pagan America. When we seek to please ourselves rather than to please God then we are making a god out of self. When people rob God and His Church to provide luxuries for themselves, then luxury has the place of God in their lives. When our pleasure comes first, then pleasure is our God. God should come first in your life—does He?

Democratic Rally

Federation of Democratic Women's clubs of Garrett county, and other party workers including members of the House of Delegates and the County Commissioners.

Mr. Hutson pointed to the efforts of his committee and the women's organization in enrolling Democratic voters, and stated that within past years Garrett county has changed from "approximately three to one Republican to about five to three."

Mr. Finan's remarks dealt in the main with economic problems particularly in the Baltimore area, where he described unemployment, especially in the rail and steel industries, as an important factor in the campaign. Other speakers, including Mr. Maloney, affirmed his observation and cited what they called the "lowering prestige" of the United States in foreign relations as reasons for supporting the Kennedy-Johnson presidential ticket.

Principal address was delivered by Governor Tawes. He dwelt at length on the advantage of having a Democratic national administration to work with himself and the Maryland legislature.

He stressed the importance of roads and highways as a means of developing the state and declared that had a Democratic administration been in power in Washington when the Federal Interstate Highway system was planned, Route 40 through Western Maryland would have been included, instead of the route veering north at Hancock into Pennsylvania.

Goldstein also stressed the state-federal party relationship.

The dinner, which was the last county-wide activity planned before the election November 8, was arranged jointly by the Democratic State Central committee and the Democratic Women's club.

400 Hear Hafer

County members of the State Legislature with the help of the State's Attorney, study the Garrett County laws with the idea of repealing those which are definitely obsolete and out of date.

Asks Study of Candidates

Noah Beefauver, president of the Maryland Farm Bureau advised the membership to study the records and ideals of candidates for public office and called special attention to the fact that "Foley has failed to support all Farm Bureau requests."

He mentioned also that "Mr. Foley seems to take pride in the fact that he has been classed in a group of 'famous spenders.' "

Hear John Hafer

Approximately 400 people attending the banquet and program listened to a challenging speech of John Hafer, Cumberland, as he warned of the serious impending threat of Communism. Mr. Hafer has traveled in Russia and other European countries. Although Mr. Hafer said he did not think there was immediate danger of military action, he informed his audience that almost one half of the population of the world today is under the heel or influence of Communism and that Communists are "after every free country."

Mr. Hafer proclaimed that "there are several things we might do to save our country before it is too late." He listed these in seven points:

1. Give an honest day's work.
2. Practice saving thrift of our forefathers.
3. Avoid excessive personal debt.
4. Work toward reducing the national debt.
5. Stop pricing ourselves out of jobs and out of the market.
6. Get a better understanding of the evils of Communism.
7. Be always alert to infiltration of Communists into educational systems, public welfare agencies, labor unions, churches and government offices.

His closing remark was "O God, that we could only know it for what it is."

Gets Suspended Sentence

Roy E. Arbogast received a suspended sentence in the Trial Magistrate's court on October 21, by Robert M. Maroney, trial magistrate.

Arbogast was charged with removing from the state a 1950 Nash automobile without the consent of the vendor, with intent to defraud. The charge was brought by Merle L. Willard.

He pleaded guilty before Mr. Maroney and was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail, but the sentence was suspended upon condition he make full restitution within a period of six months.

New Post Office

lined by Mr. Landry.

Locally, he had this to say: "Those of us present today must share this spirit of achievement because it is local enterprise, coupled with the initiative of your Postmaster and the cooperation of your regional postal authorities, which have made possible this modern facility.

"And this new post office, with its thoroughly modern equipment, is but one of 12,000 such post offices either already built, in the process or planned to be built under the Postmaster General's modernization program.

"The equipment installed in this post office is designed to handle the mail volume anticipated 10 years hence and the facility itself is so designed as to permit expansion beyond even that capacity. And all of the many improvements briefly discussed here today have but a single objective: next day delivery of letter mail anywhere in the United States.

"Your new post office, over which will proudly fly the flag of our country, is a vital part and pertinent parcel of the entire projection of faith your Federal Government has in the future growth and prosperity of this community and of your great State.

"The post office department is proud and thankful to have been able to play a part in bringing this new facility to you. It is now my high honor and privilege to declare this new building formally dedicated to the service of all mankind."

Lewis R. Jones served as chairman of the program. He was a member of the committee from the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club which sponsored the affair. The Southern High school senior band furnished music and the Lake Lynn four sang several selections.

An open house followed, in charge of the ladies of the Women's Civic club of Mt. Lake Park.

The Mt. Lake Park post office was established on May 15, 1892.

Crossroads . . .

The U. S. News and World Report very appropriately and very simply summed up the character of the standards of the two presidential candidates in its editorial this week. It termed America at the crossroads. One road leads to more intervention by the Federal government in management and control of business enterprise.

The other road continues the course of free enterprise.

Senator Kennedy has denounced the dominance of free enterprise. His campaigners urge that the government shall become the master of the destiny of our business enterprises. They advocate an unbalanced budget if that is necessary to finance social reforms. No matter what the cost and no matter how high the taxes are what they proclaim.

The weekly magazine felt that the American people, if not misled by false prophets and misguided crusaders would not vote to destroy individual liberty as the Communists have done. We don't believe they will either.

The political refrain of the New Deal days already is being enthusiastically chanted in the Kennedy camp. If Senator Kennedy is elected, the editor of U. S. News feels it will not be his views that will be reflected, but the views of powerful labor union bosses, the liberal bloc and groups ready to trust Khrushchev and his Communist allies on disarmament and nuclear tests.

It is our hope that citizens will vote for the candidate who has a strong purpose and careful judgment. It is essential to keep a high level of national defense and of state and local public services. It is equally essential to avoid excessive government spending which would lead to economic weakness through higher debt, heavier taxes and more inflation. We believe Vice-President Nixon has that strong purpose and mature judgment. He is strong for private enterprise and initiative.

We believe he will make the best president by far.

So give him and Henry Cabot Lodge your vote and support on next Tuesday. And give him an additional Republican in Congress to work with efficiently, by voting for Charles McC. Mathias for our representative.

Jury Expected To Get Bus-Train Suits By Noon

Testimony Completed Yesterday Afternoon; Arguments Set This Morning

The jury is expected to have for deliberation the two damage suits totaling $200,000 filed in behalf of two of the injured survivors of the school bus-train tragedy at Mt. Lake Park crossing last September 10, some time today, after a three and one-half day trial.

The two cases were consolidated by agreement of counsel for all the parties concerned.

Separate suits for $100,000 have been filed against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Leroy Campbell the driver of the school bus hit by an eastbound passenger train, The Diplomat, in which seven persons were killed.

The plaintiffs are Sandra Jean Patton, 14, through her father, James Patton, and Mary Jane Lee, 17, through her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Lee all of Deer Park. A sister of Mary Jane Lee, Shirley Ann Lee, was among those killed.

Miss Lee, according to suit filed by her attorneys, Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Oakland, and John F. Fox, suffered five spinus fractures and a blow on the head that caused a hematoma. Miss Patton, the suits declare, received a fractured back and as a result has received permanent injuries.

The railroad is represented by Walter W. Dawson, Oakland, and Stuart Bushong, Hagerstown. Representing Campbell is William Somerville, Towson attorney, and Lewis Jones, Oakland.

Testifying Monday were Sandra's father, a witness to the accident, D. A. Tucker, who presented photographs of the scene of the accident; R. W. Morrow, who also presented photographs; Robert Wilson, engineer, and Dr. Joseph Al-

Five Are Injured In County Wrecks

Five persons were injured in two separate auto accidents in and near Oakland Friday and Saturday, with three of the victims being admitted to Garrett County Memorial hospital in Oakland.

Saturday in a one-car mishap two miles north of Oakland on route 219, Charles Joseph Kitzmiller, 21, route 1, Oakland, was thrown from his auto.

Tfc. D. A. Tucker, who investigated, said Kitzmiller apparently lost control of his auto and it ran off the east side of the highway. The driver, who was alone, was thrown to the roadway. He was admitted to the hospital for treatment of multiple lacerations, contusion and abrasions.

Four persons were hurt Friday at the intersection of State route 35 and U. S. route 219, at Cee-Dee Tavern, at the eastern edge of Oakland.

A car operated by Mrs. Ruth Shipley Turney, Mt. Lake Park, proceeding west on State route 35, Oak street, was struck by an auto operated by Charles Everett Kerns, Detroit, Mich., heading north on 219. Tfc. Tucker said the collision occurred because Kerns failed to grant the right of way.

Mrs. Turney was not injured, but three others in her car were. Mrs. Carrie C. Shipley, 67, Mt. Lake Park, was admitted to the hospital with fractured ribs and collar bone and abrasions of both knees. Mrs. Turney's two daughters, Linda Lee, 14, and Beverly Sue, 11, were treated for lacerations and abrasions and released.

Kerns was admitted to the hospital with fractured ribs, contusions and abrasions.

Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, will begin its fall initiatory activity Friday evening when the rank of Page will be conferred on a class of candidates. Meetings begin at 7:30 p. m.

On Court House Hill

County's Only Execution For Murder Took Place 83 Years Ago This Month

By Wilbur W. Close

On May 15, 1883, John Smith paid Josiah Harden five cents for repairing his shoes. Six months later, these same shoes carried Smith to a gallows on a hill overlooking Oakland, where he became the first (and only) person to be executed in this county. For Smith, you see, had murdered his shoemaker.

From court records, newspaper clippings and recollections of older residents who heard the tale from their fathers, the story of the county's first murder, and the subsequent execution of the criminal, can be pieced together to form an unusual chapter in local history.

The hanging took place 77 years ago this month, on November 16, 1883, on a specially built scaffold in the rear of the old court house on Fourth street, now the site of the Board of Education offices, formerly Oakland High school.

Smith, the condemned man, was a Negro laborer on the West Virginia Central and Pittsburgh Railroad, which was under construction near Elkins. His victim was Josiah Harden, a white shoemaker of this county.

The story begins between six and seven p. m. on May 15. Smith, it was testified, had been drinking and making threats against various persons, including Harden. At that time, he went to Harden's home and remained until about eight o'clock, conversing with various members of the family. While there, he paid Harden five cents for mending his shoes and left the home but not the vicinity.

As the Harden family prepared to retire, two shots were fired through a window in quick succession, striking Harden in the shoulder. He jumped up, shook his hand, felt his shoulder and said "Don't do that, Smith; don't do

Four County Men Drown In Cheat River On Monday

Five Sawmill Workers Are Victims Of Boating Accident Near Parsons

Five sawmill employes, including four men from this county, were drowned Monday afternoon when their outboard motorboat swamped as they were crossing Cheat River in Tucker county, W. Va., on their way home from work. Two of the men were brothers.

West Virginia State Trooper A. J. Wade identified the men as:

Clarence Arthur Uphold, 60, Friendsville.

Floyd Ray Frazee, 26, Crellin, formerly of Friendsville.

Kenneth Cassidy, Red House.

Gerald Cassidy, Red House.

Vernon Grover, 39, Rowlesburg.

Trooper Wade said the front of the small aluminum boat apparently filled with water and swamped about midstream as the group was returning to their automobiles, parked along West Virginia route 72 on the opposite side of the river from the sawmill. Two men in the boat were saved. Martin Gump, 29, Rowlesburg, clung to the side of the 14-foot boat which did not sink, and was rescued when he was tossed a rope line from shore. Danny Richard Uphold, Rowlesburg, was able to swim to shore.

The accident occurred about 2:45 p. m., at Hannahsville, W. Va., about midway between Rowlesburg and St. George.

Members of the Rowlesburg, Westover, Parsons and Kingwood fire companies rushed to the scene and dragged the river. The body of Uphold was recovered near where the boat swamped about a half hour later. The last body, that of Gerald Cassidy, was brought to the surface at 7:20 p. m. nearly five hours after the accident.

The drownings happened in 12 to 15 feet of water where authorities said the river was rather swift. The victims were heavily clothed, many with overalls over their regular clothing. All wore heavy leather boots and one man reportedly had a number of tools in his pockets.

Trooper Wade said the men had been working at the sawmill owned by Edward and Donald Frazee and Ward Sisler, all of Friendsville. They made it a daily practice to cross the river going to and from work, as there were no bridges nearby. Some of the workers often waded across the river several hundred feet upstream where it was shallow. The boat, however, was placed at the disposal of those who wished to use it. Trooper Wade said two of the men had crossed the river in the boat when the other five called to them. They returned and all seven got into the craft.

Danny Uphold, one of the survivors, told Wade the group was halfway across the river when he noticed water coming in the front of the boat. He said he then jumped out of the boat and swam to shore. The men had quit work early at the mill because a day-long rain made the timber too wet to cut.

Trick Or Treat Brings $183 For UNICEF

The "Trick or Treat" for UNICEF, yielded $183 in the Oakland area, it was reported by the United Church Women of the Oakland community, sponsor of the event.

The solicitation was made in Oakland, Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn on Monday evening, October 31.

The churches and sponsors of the young people participating were Mt. Lake Baptist church, Rev. Luke Walter; Ev. United Brethren church, Loch Lynn, Mrs. Walter Campbell; Oak Park church of the Brethren, Oakland, Rev. Edward Wenger and Mrs. Harold Gnegy; St. Paul's Methodist church, Oakland, Rev. Charles Godwin and Earl Clark; Mt. Lake Park Methodist, Rev. James Remley and Elwood Groves.

Weather Is Mixed

Weather during the past week has been somewhat mixed, as is usual at this time of the year.

Saturday and Sunday were fair and warm with rain falling Monday, and the temperature dropping on Tuesday. Wednesday began as windy and cloudy and cool, with rain falling in late afternoon and continuing through part of the night. It was considerably cooler this morning and continued cool.

Education Board Is Seeking Sums For Salaries, Other Items

An additional sum for the gym floor at Northern High, money for boiler insurance, school bus shelters, and additional salaries for school teachers are among the items to be requested by the Board of Education from the Board of County Commissioners. The proposed budget of the School board is usually presented to the Commissioners the latter part of the year.

These sums were discussed at a meeting of the School Board which was held Tuesday instead of the regular meeting date which falls on election day. The needs were for items over and above those requested last year.

Specifically the items included the following:

Salary for part-time music teacher at Grantsville, Accident and route 40. The teacher works three days weekly, but it was explained that her assignment is in excess of the state minimum, meaning that salary must come from county sources if this part of the elementary music program is to be maintained.

About $7,000 will be needed to be added to the $8,000 appropriated last year to replace the gym floor at Northern school. This project is scheduled for completion next summer.

About $12,000 will be needed for

Turkey Kills Will Reach At Least 88

The number of turkey kills reported in the county during the season just closed has reached 78 and Harold Harmon, in charge of game management for the Game and Inland Fish commission, said at least ten more would be tallied from reports made of local kills in Allegany and Washington counties. Kills are to be reported within 24 hours but they don't necessarily have to be reported in the county in which they are killed.

The kills reported since last week include:

At Sheriff's office in Oakland: Jack Michaels, Kitzmiller, 8-lb. hen; Don Uphole, Oakland, 10-lb hen; Paul Rodeheaver, Deer Park, 15-lb. hen; George Edgar, Oakland, 19-lb. tom; James Clark, Jr., Kitzmiller, 12½-lb. hen; Carlton Shillingburg, Deer Park, 8-lb. hen; John Bowser, Accident, 10-lb. tom; H. H. Fox, Oakland, 11½-lb. tom; Willard Ringer, Oakland, 13-lb. tom. Kills were made at Mt. Nebo, Negro mountain, Potomac State forest, Hubbard, Herrington Manor and Walman.

Bow-Arrow Season

The bow and arrow for deer arrived November 1 and will continue until November 12, inclusive. Either sex may be taken. Hunters need a special bow and arrow stamp in addition to their regular hunting licenses. Reporting stations are at Storey's, Mellenry; Yough Motor, Friendsville; Edwards garage, Grantsville, and Carroll's Sport Shop, Oakland.

Barbershoppers Plan Quartet Jamboree

The Oakland Chaper of the SPEBSQSA, Inc., is sponsoring a Barbershop Quartet Jamboree at the Oakland Fire hall on Friday evening, November 4, at 8 o'clock.

An invitation is extended to all who enjoy singing to participate.

Several visiting quartets are expected. The event is similar to one held last year.

Hallowe'en Is Quiet

Hallowe'en passed rather quietly in the Oakland area. There was very little soaping of windows and as far as is known, no bus stop shelters were overturned.

Since the responsibility of the care of the bus stops is placed upon the citizens rather than the Board of Education, the tendency to up-end them has declined.

One piece of vandalism was reported. One or more persons did remove a small tombstone from the cemetery Monday night and took it to Southern High school.

Final Game Of Season

Southern High Highlanders will play their final game of the 1960 season tomorrow afternoon at Petersburg. The game will get underway at 2 o'clock. Both the Highlanders and Petershurg Vikings have been defeated by the Golden Tornado of Keyser High, and the contest should be a close one.

Voters To Ballot Tuesday, Nov. 8

Voters will go to the polls on Tuesday, November 8th, to select electors for president and vice-president of the United States, to elect a Congressman from the Sixth Congressional district, and to give their opinion on fifteen constitutional amendments and one referendum question.

Candidates for the presidential race are Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, for the Republican ticket; and John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson for the Democratic ticket. There are no candiates this year for the Socialist, Progressive or other parties.

Charles McC. Mathias is the Republican candidate for Congress and opposing him is the Democratic incumbent, John R. Foley.

There are 9,484 citizens of the county eligible to vote in the coming general election and it was predicted that a bigger percentage than usual would find their way to the voting booth. Qualified voters will cast their ballots in one of the 20 voting precincts, depending upon where they are registered.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. The results of the election should be known in the county within a two to three-hour period, the trend nationally will be a foregone conclusion by that time.

Although the amendments to be voted on have been published in this newspaper and many other newspapers throughout Maryland for the past week and will appear once again this week, the voters claim they are not well understood.

A copy of the official ballot also will appear in The Republican this week, with the names of the candidates to be voted on and the constitutional amendments and referendum to be decided.

Of greatest interest among voters in Western Maryland are questions 13 and 14, which have to do with providing that land actively devoted to farm and agricultural use shall be assessed on the basis of such use and shall not be assessed as if subdivided. The Garrett County Farm Bureau has urged that people vote in favor of these two amendments.

Most of the other amendments have no direct bearing on residents of this section of Maryland.

There is a constiutional amendment which proposes granting authority to the Board of Public Works to authorize and direct the state treasurer to borrow in the name of the state in anticipation of collection of taxes, sums necessary to meet temporary treasury deficiencies.

Another amendment proposes that upon veto of any bill by the governor, such vetoted bill shall not be returned to the General Assembly when a new General Assembly has been elected and sworn since passage of the vetoed bill.

The order of succession in the event of a vacancy in the office of governor is covered in another amendment. Voters will also decide on an amendment which proposes two additional judges for the Court of Appeals of Maryland.

A referendum on an act which proposes the approval, confirmation and ratification on the part of Maryland of a compact entered into by the state and commonwealth of Virginia relating to the fishery resources of the Potomac river and conservation and control thereof. Both Democratic and Republican officials have spoken out against this proposed referendum question.

Teachers Plan Banquet

Plans for the annual banquet of the Garrett County Teachers association were discussed at a meeting of the group at Northern High school on Monday evening.

The dinner is set for Tuesday evening, November 15, and will be held at the Southern High school cafeteria, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Speaker is to be Cornelius Gisriel, a former teacher in Oakland High school and the husband of the former Miss Rose Rice, of Oakland. Mr. Gisriel is at present principal of Dundalk High school and is the new president of the Maryland State Teachers' association.

Open Election Day

The Garrett County Health department will remain open on election day, Tuesday, November 8, Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer, said the scheduled clinics would be held.

FFBL WINNERS—Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Glotfelty, of Accident, last week were declared winners of the Garrett County Farming for Better Living program for 1960. The Glotfelty family is the thirteenth to be selected during the years the program has been in effect here. (Story on this page.)

Howard Naylor Elected Head of West Md. Ski Club

Howard Naylor of Oakland, was named president of the Western Maryland Ski club Sunday when members met on a warm and sunny afternoon at the ski lodge at Marsh Mountain, at McHenry.

Mrs. Charity Hinebaugh was named vice president. She also resides in Oakland. Miss Elaine Jenkins, Swanton, was elected secretary; and Miss Dolores Ehrich, Cumberland, treasurer.

The program for the coming winter season was set up by the approximately 50 skiing enthusiasts of the area who attended.

Beginning November 15 a first aid course for all patrolmen will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The six sessions will be taught by a qualified instructor. Classes each night will be for a three-hour period.

From December 27 to January 1, junior skiers will learn racing techniques as a school will be in session at Laurel Mountain, in Ligonier, Pa.

Committees for other courses will be set up when racing officials will get briefing. Classification tests will also be held and the ability of skiers will be realized.

The slope management has improved facilities in recent months and has added a first aid room which is fully equipped. About 200 pairs of skis and boots will be available for rent this winter. A committee meeting is scheduled next week to make additional plans for the approaching season.

Boy Scout Drive For Funds Begins

With a theme of "Help Rebuild and Expand Scouting in Garrett County," the Deep Creek District of the Potomac Council, will institute its annual financial drive November 13 to 26 it was announced last night by W. Kenneth Johns, district chairman.

A meeting was held last evening with Wesley Schaible, district finance chairman, John Forman, George Stuck, William W. Nace, Maurice Brookhart, Ralph Fauber, Henry McComas, Foster Riggs and Mr. Johns from Oakland, attending. James Worden, council finance chairman, of Cumberland, and Charles Newman, scout field executive, Frostburg, also attended.

The Deep Creek district goal is $1,459, as its share of the overall budget of the council of $34,183.

Mr. Worden pointed out that the cost per boy in the council was listed at $10.92 per boy, one of the lowest of the seven councils in the area, and that an effort was being made to operate the 1960 budget on a basis of $10.60 per boy.

He outlined the growth of scouting in the council. In 1951 there were 53 unit with 1,286 boys, making 453 advancements. Last year there were 98 units with 2,519 boys, who made 2,059 advancements. Also in 1951 there were 425 adults compared to 929 in 1959.

Mr. Johns announced there would be a meeting of workers next Thursday evening, November 10, at Southern High school, at 8 p. m.

Injured in Mine

Herman Burns, 22, of Thomas, W. Va., was brought to the Garrett County Memorial hospital last evening, after sustaining injuries in a mine cave-in at the Little Joe Coal company in Bayard, W. Va.

He was treated at the emergency room of the hospital and then transferred to the West Virginia Medical center at Morgantown. The extent of his injuries was not listed at the local hospital.

Escaped Convicts Are Recaptured

Garrett county authorities were instrumental in the capture Sunday of two escapees from Hopemont Sanitarium at Terra Alta.

The two convicts were the last of four who escaped last Friday night from the institution by using a saw blade to file their way to freedom.

Sheriff James F. Frantz identified the criminals as Mack Coleman, 33, serving a life sentence for breaking and entering and armed robbery; and Truman Rice, 32, serving life for the same offense.

Frantz said he was alerted about 1 a. m., Sunday. He and Deputy Wayne Wilt seached the area around Hutton. A resident of the area near "88" bridge, west of town, told of observing two suspicious men at 11 a. m. Sunday. Bloodhounds were loosed from the Hopemont sanitarium and the two escapees were located soon thereafter. Coleman and Rice were in a wooded area and offered no resistance.

Assisting in the search were Tfc. Donald A. Tucker, Chief of Police Henry Arnold, Oakland, and Officer Hobart Shillingburg, Oakland, and a detachment of officers from the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville.

Detained in the county jail, they were returned to Hopemont Monday after they waived extradition. The two other escapees were recaptured in Preston county, one at a road block and one on the Aurora pike.

Frantz said the two caught here were headed for Pittsburgh but apparently became lost in the woods.

Trailer Burns

The trailer owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips, of Gormania, W. Va., was completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin some days ago.

The trailer was located along U. S. route 50, at Fort Pendleton. The Gorman fire company responded. Most of the contents of the trailer were destroyed by the flames.

Absentee Ballots Total Is Now 172

Absentee ballots continued to mount during the past week. The total now stands at 83 military ballots and 79 civilian ballots.

Miss Julia A. Rowan, clerk to the Board of Supervisors of Elections, said additional military ballots still may be received.

In previous years there rarely has been over 35 absentee ballots. The ballots will remain sealed until the official count is made two days following the election.

R. O. Glotfelty Family Judged F.F.B.L Winner

Is Thirteenth Family Declared Winner Of Farm Improvement Program

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Glotfelty, Accident, were declared the winners in the Garrett county Farming For Better Living contest for this year at the annual banquet held last Friday night in the Southern High School cafeteria in Oakland. The thirty-eight year old farmer and his wife operate a 165 acre dairy farm in the Bittinger community. All seventy of the farm families enrolled in this year's contest completed their project report, and the most of them were at the banquet as guests of the sponsors. A total of 167 people were present.

Dr. George A. Stevens, farm management specialist for the Unversity of Maryland, discussed the importance of agriculture in the nation, state, and Garrett county, and projected the future of the industry for the next fifteen years. He pointed out that agricultural production was up sharply over the past ten years yet fewer people were in the farm production picture. He predicted larger farms, fewer farmers, and an even greater production to meet the needs of our predicted increase in our population during the next decade.

Awards to the winning family were presented by Earl Wise, vice-chairman of the Garrett county Farming For Better Living Council, and L. Bush Swisher, Farming For Better Living project director. The family received a merchandise gift and a purple ribbon, and will receive further awards at the regional Farming For Better Living "Round-Up" in Morgantown on December 9. Howard Riggs, chairman of the prize committee, presented merchandise awards to each of the 70 families in the program. Over one hundred Garrett county businesss contributed cash and merchandise to make the banquet and the awards possible. Singing by the group was led by Mrs. Gerald Glotfelty, wife of the 1958 winning family, and Mr. Swisher served as toastmaster in the absence of Lowell Loomis, Farming For Better Living Council Chairman, who was called out of town on business. The Rev. William Ernest Fox, pastor of the St. Mark's Lutheran Church, gave the Effort Being Made To Give Assistance To Retarded Children

Parents and other individuals interested in finding out how retarded children can be helped are invited to Center Street School, Oakland, at 8 o'clock Friday night, November 4.

A committee, headed by Mrs. William E. Naylor, Oakland, as acting chairman, has called the meeting with the purpose of organizing as association to serve the needs of mentally retarded children and adults in this area.

Fern L. Smith, membership chairman of the Maryland Society for Mentally Retarded Children will be present on Friday night to help organize the group. Guest speaker will be G. J. Thompson, Jr. President of the Maryland Society for Mentally Retarded Children. A film will be shown followed by a question and answer period.

Garrett County as yet has no organization designed to provide a training program for its retarded children. Inviting physicians, teachers, ministers and others to join the parents and friends of retarded individuals, Mrs. Naylor reports that similar groups exist in more than 700 cities and smaller communities in the United States. They are working to provide educational, training and recreational facilities in their communities for the nation's five million mentally retarded. Mental Retardation occurs in three out of every hundred births.

Today we know that institutional environments are not the most desirable, or even practical, solution to the problems, states Mrs. Naylor. A child given a community environment with public acceptance and adequate training can lead a richer and more self-sufficient life than was ever thought possible.

Persons interested in promoting this program in the county are being urged to attend.

Mrs. Ann Manges Swartz, wife of G. Edward Swartz, of York, Pa., died Saturday, October 29, following a heart attack.

Mrs. Swartz was a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Manges, and had resided for a number of years in Oakland. Her father served St. Mark's Lutheran church from April 1, 1903 until October 1, 1913, until he retired, and then remained in Oakland until sometime in early 1914.

Mrs. Swartz was known widely in this area at the time of her residence here because of her interest in home talent plays. These she produced not only in Oakland but in many other towns.

Surviving besides her husband, are two brothers, the Rev. Dr. Lewis C. Manges, Harrisburg, Pa., and the Rev. Dr. Edmund L. Manges, Gettysburg.

His entire life was spent on the farm on which he passed away. He was a lifelong member of the Hoyes Methodist church filling the office of treasurer and church trustee until his death. He also was a member of the men's brotherhood of the church, charter member of the Woodmen of the World, Camp 45, Friendsville, Farming for Better Living and the Garrett County Farm Bureau.

Funeral services were conducted October 24 at 2 o'clock from the Hoyes Methodist church by Rev. Curtis Savage and Rev. Hiram Short. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Gas Company Plans Operational Changes

Supervision of the distribution properties of Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co.'s West Virginia operations have been transferred from Cumberland to Wheeling, Vice-President G. E. Wilson announced today.

The operational move was made to pave the way for the formation of Columbia Gas of Maryland, Inc., on Jan. 1, 1961, the official said. Columbia Gas of Md., will include only C. & A.'s present retail sales and service operations in Maryland.

All C. & A. local managers and offices in West Virginia—serving some 17,000 customers—will remain under the supervision of Elkins Area Manager J. E. Batdorf. He, in turn, will report to C. M. Taylor, Wheeling district manager for Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. Manufacturers and C. & A. are sister companies in the Pittsburgh Group Companies of Columbia Gas System.

C. & A. District Manager C. C. Robbins, Cumberland, will continue to direct the company's Maryland operations, Wilson said.

Federal narcotics agents said small fields on Eastern Shore were possibly being used to grow marihuana for distribution.

Defendant Favored In Damage Suit

A verdict for the defendant was reached last Thursday afternoon by a petit jury which deliberated half an hour in Allegany county circuit court after hearing testimony in a damage suit filed by a Cumberland man who was burned in a cabin on Deep Creek Lake.

Garnett W. Davis, plaintiff, filed the $20,000 damage suit against William Bauer, Deep Creek Lake, owner of the cabin where Davis was burned while attempting to start a fire in the fireplace two and one half years ago.

Davis testified that on May 3, 1958, he rented a cabin from Bauer and the following day attempted to start a fire but it apparently did not catch.

Two and one half hours later he said, he poured from a bottle marked motor boat oil, on the logs. A hot ember ignited the fluid, which turned out not to be oil, but of a highly flammable nature such as gasoline, he declared. Davis said he was treated first at Garrett County Memorial hospital, Oakland, and then entered Memorial hospital in Cumberland the following day where he was admitted for ten days. He returned in July for skin grafts on his right leg.

He listed medical expenses of $851.19 and said he could not work for six months at the Queen City Neon company, of which he is president and principal salesman.

Dr. Wiley M. Faw, Jr., testified that Davis suffered first, second and third degree burns of the hands and second and third degree burns of the right leg.

The plaintiff charged Bauer with negligence in having the highly flammable liquid in a bottle not properly marked.

Jailed For Bad Check

Jesse Doss was scheduled to be released from the county jail yesterday after serving a fifteen day sentence for issuing a worthless check in June.

He was arrested recently and given a hearing October 19 before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney. He pleaded guilty to the charge of passing a worthless check of $15 at Brownell's Store, written on the Garrett National Bank which had been returned marked "insufficient funds." Magistrate Maroney also fined him $50 and costs but suspended the fine and costs.

Reminds Drivers On Getting New Licenses

Drivers whose last names begin with T, U, V, W, X, Y and Z were reminded by John R. Jewell, commissioner of motor vehicles, that all applications for re-registration of their licenses were mailed out a month ago, and if they have not been received, or have been mislaid, the department should be notified at once in writing, giving your full name, correct address and number of your present license.

He also advised drivers in this group that their present licenses expire on December 31, 1960, and all drivers in this, and other groups who do not have a black and white license, must obtain their new licenses before that date, and the present re-registration will end.

If any driver in any name group has not received his black and white photostat license, he should write the department at once to ascertain whether or not he is eligible to apply, and if he was out of the state during the time of his re-registration, he should state this fact. No black and white licenses will be issued after December 31, 1960.

Using Mailboxes For Democratic Literature...

Children were busy on All Saints day, Tuesday, November 1, in distributing Democratic literature, a "Democratic Fact Book," to many places in Oakland. They were being placed in mail boxes of individual property owners.

The placing of any type of literature in mail boxes is against the postal regulations. Defying postal regulations is not new to Mr. John Foley. He was called to task for misusing his franking privilege as a Congressman just two weeks ago. Whether or not the All Saints Day distribution was under his supervision or not, is not known.

varez, who testified that both children were permanently injured in the accident.

Tuesday the two young girls took the stand and gave accounts of the accident. They were hospitalized about 13 days and were in body casts for about three months. Both are still receiving treatment.

Also testifying were Roy Dixon, 13, Deer Park, who escaped from the bus unhurt; C. C. Mason, mayor of Mt. Lake Park, a witness to the accident; Glenn T. Randol, another witness; and Earl George, retired B. and O. Engineer. Randol and Mason said the train was traveling between 35 and 45 miles per hour.

The plaintiff also cross examined the bus driver.

Following the testimony for the plaintiffs was completed early in the afternoon counsel for the railroad and bus driver offered prayers to take the case from the jury and sought a direct verdict in their favor. This was refused by Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley.

Witnesses for the railroad were then called and included Clinton Shrout, telegraph operator at the B. and O. tower, engineer Otto Droege, who was at the throttle. He testified he blew the whistle and attempted to estimate the point where he went into emergency braking. Edgar L. Hollen, fireman, corroborated the engineer's testimony. John Wilson, maintenance foreman, also testified.

A number of railroad employes took the stand Wednesday concerning the speed of the train and speed tape from the Diesel locomotive.

R. W. Anuszkwicz, resident engineer, testified that a check of the tape indicated the brakes were applied about 855 feet from the crossing. The signal tripper for the crossing lights is 2,250 feet from the crossing.

W. A. Murray, machinist, and W. G. Watson, general locomotive foreman, testified they tested the brakes on the lead locomotive when the Diplomat arrived in Keyser that day and said the brakes were working all right.

Edward Morris, 36, of Bayard, testified he was waiting for a ride into Oakland and was seated on the station platform. He said he saw the bus start and stall after two or three jerking movements. He first ran up the tracks in an attempt to flag the train but then returned to the crossing. He said he saw Campbell pulling children from the doorway of the bus and shoving them away from the tracks. The train stopped after striking the bus with the two last coaches yet to reach the crossing.

Howard K. McIntyre, flagman, testified that on two occasions the air brakes had been tested on the train, once at Blazer and once at Terra Alta. They were working at that time.

Various other railroad personnel testified yesterday on technical points in connection with the speed recording tape.

All testimony was completed in late afternoon and arguments were scheduled to be heard in court this morning, after which the jury would retire for its deliberations.

Yesterday afternoon's session was featured by a conflict in testimony between the story of the accident as a Baltimore newspaperman said it was related to him and the B. and O. telegraph operator, who denied that he had given the version of the accident as related by the newspaperman.

Wilson Auld, reporter, was called to testify about the story he wrote about the accident from a phone conversation he had with Clinton Shrout, telegraph operator, explaining the accident.

Mr. Shrout reaffirmed the testimony that he had given in the case Tuesday and denied having given the version stated by the newspaperman.

Driver Is Blamed

In his opening remarks on Monday Attorney Hamill said the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, failed to open the emergency door and became panicky and in a state of shock when the bus stalled on the crossing.

Hamill said Campbell got out of the bus and tried to wave down the train, then again entered the bus and tried to get the children to leave. He also brought out that the engineer was near 70 years of age and that the train was traveling at top speed near when the crash occurred. Hamill declared there was ample time for the train to stop.

Mr. Dawson told the jury that the train was operated on standard time while the school bus was on daylight time. Dawson also took occasion to blame Campbell for failing to stop and look and listen before driving onto the tracks. Dawson said it was not so much a question of what Campbell did but what he didn't do. Jones said the bus was in good mechanical condition and that there was no reason why it should have stalled.

Five other cases have been docketed in behalf of other injured children. Two of the death cases have been settled out of court.

Education Board

boiler insurance. No such such insurance has been carried up to this time. Willard Hawkins, county superintendent, said the board felt that such insurance provided a safeguard that was long overdue.

The need for at least $1,000 to replace some school bus shelters now fully deteriorated. Construction and delivery cost of each shelter runs between $50 and $75. Parents protect and maintain these shelters once they are provided.

Money is needed, Hawkins said, to provide a new furnace at Friendsville. The old furnace has been condemned by boiler inspectors. Cost will be $3,000 to $4,000. Next in line for replacement is one at the Grantsville school.

The board must also ask for whatever funds necessary to meet the present salary commitments for the year.

The school board also agreed to ask for an additional $100 per teacher to be added to the salary scale, beginning September 1, 1961. This would cost $6,500 September, 1961, to January 1, 1962, and $19,000 for the 1962 calendar year.

Mr. Hawkins said this request would be withdrawn if the state teacher salary scale is improved at the next session of the legislature. The county salary scale remains lowest in the state.

He explained that last year the county provided $113,700 above the minimum program for schools. The needs this year call for a net increase of about $26,000 over last year's budget, an increase of less than 2 percent of the present current operational budget.

Other Items of Business

Among other items of business transacted:

Bids for boiler insurance submitted by three insurance agencies with contract awarded to Kemper Insurance, low bidder, for three year period pending approval of forthcoming budget.

The Board voted not to commit itself relative to proposals of the Warfield commission to place State Teachers colleges under control of the University of Maryland and to expand them into liberal arts colleges. The board agreed to hear both sides of the question.

Robert Martin, county transportation, reported he was surveying all bus routes for mileage accuracy, safety measures and efficiency.

To Speak Here

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., state superintendent of schools, will be guest speaker at the third annual lay education conference, to be held at the Dennett Road school on December 5. The meeting is to center around a discussion of the implications of the recommendations of the Warfield commission.

The board went on record disapproving some fund raising activities in the schools, especially door to door selling drives. Mr Hawkins said he was engaged in a study of the need for such fund raising activities, with the hope if there is a valid need that it could be placed in future school board budgets in order that all school selling projects may be eliminated.

A group of patrons of the Bloomington school requested an interview relative to the possibility of adding an all-purpose room to their school. November 21 was set as date for the meeting. Mr. Hawkins said the board has had such a project in mind, pending an enrollment growth there.

Final payment to Lawrence Hardesty, contractor for the Red House school addition, was approved in the amount of $8,290.32.

The third publication of "Our Garrett County Schools," depicting a decade of progress in education in the county has gone into every home. Mr. Hawkins said he had received favorable comments on the publication.

Mr. Hawkins plans to attend the State PTA conference in Baltimore. Accompanying him will be Miss Roberta Cogley, Southern High instructor; Mrs. Mary Martin, school patron, Mt. Lake Park, who will represent Southern High school; Mrs. Wayne Friend, representing the Friendsville PTA. Miss Cogley was selected by the state PTA program committee to serve on a panel discussion Thursday and Friday afternoon. Dr. John H Furbay, director of air world education, will be a speaker. General theme is "Quality Education; Everyone's Obligation."

Gas is the most modern heat for your home. Ask any builder.

Only a gas heating system gives you so many common-sense reasons for selecting it for your home. A home heated by gas is healthier. It needn't be as tightly sealed as an electrically heated home. Therefore, gas heated homes never become stuffy with stale air that can't escape to be replaced with fresh outside air. A modern gas heating system makes provision for adding whole house air conditioning with a minimum of added expense. The very latest electrical resistance heating system does not; it can't be adapted for central air conditioning. And just one thermostat is needed to control the temperature in a home heated with gas.

Ask any builder. He'll tell you modern gas heat is best for your home. Only a gas flame gives you so many exclusive home heating benefits.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:
Better Health Through Knowledge
Wind Instruments And Asthma

• Outgrowing Epilepsy
• Crooked Teeth
• Dyslexia
Q. Would the playing of wind instruments make asthma worse?
A. The playing of a wind instrument by a sufferer of asthma may increase the tendency to over-distention of the lungs and in this way be harmful. There seems little doubt that the playing of such instruments is more difficult for a person with asthma than for a normal person, and there are times when an asthmatic could not play a wind instrument at all.
Q. Do children ever "outgrow" epilepsy?
A. By "outgrow" we presume you mean complete disappearance of seizures with increasing age. Doctors can never be positive about this in any form of epilepsy but "fever convulsions" and petit mal (literally, "little illness") epilepsy in childhood often subside so that seizures in adulthood are rare. However, the same is not necessarily true of other types of epilepsy.
Q. At what age should a child's teeth be straightened?
A. In general, tooth straightening is easier and more successful when started before the teens.
Q. You had an interesting article about "Why Johnny Can't Read." What about one on "Why Johnny Can't Spell" or "Why Johnny Can't Write"?
A. Difficulty in learning to spell or write may be due to dyslexia, a specific language difficulty. Doctors don't know why some brains can't store spelling and writing knowledge, but it is not necessarily due to lack of basic intelligence. Dyslexia, which is something like stuttering on paper, affects roughly one student in ten. There seems to be no cure beyond trying new methods of teaching.

Urge School Visit For Education Week

Kenneth Johns, principal of Southern High school, today issued a special invitation to parents and other interested citizens to visit Southern High school during the annual celebration of American Education Week.

"Though we are delighted to have parents visit us any time during the week, Veterans' Day, Friday, November 11, has been set aside as a special visitors day," he said. "It is hoped that many citizens will avail themselves of this special invitation," Mr. Johns concluded.

American Education Week grew out of the revelation during World War I, that a shocking percentage of the American people were illiterate and physically unfit. Representatives of the National Education Association and the newly formed American Legion discussed this problem, and their talks led to the observance in 1921, of the first American Education week. Since then, many civic and professional organizations are helping to finance and promote this most important event of the school year.

Willard Elliott, president of the Southern High School P-TA also urged parents and citizens to take full advantage of the school's invitation. "Good schools are the responsibility of parents. At Southern, we have a well qualified staff, adequate teaching aids and a good building for our boys and girls. As parents, we owe it to ourselves and to our children to see first hand the accomplishments being carried out at Southern."

Pictures Out Of The Past

School Group at Meadow Mountain In 1912 Is Shown

In previous issues, pictures of school groups of former years have provided considerable interest for readers who identify themselves or former classmates. Today, another is published, and while the school and the date are known, the names of most of those shown are lacking.

Mrs. Jesse Woods, of Altamont, who describes herself as a faithful follower of the old picture series, supplied the photograph. She said it is of the Meadow Mountain pupils, and was taken in 1912.

Mrs. Woods said the teacher of the group, who is shown to the right center of the rear row, was Miss Virgie McGettigan. What reader can supply identification for the entire group?

Request Information

The Republican has secured several interesting photographs of the town of Bayard and surrounding area, taken before 1900, but information to accompany their publication is lacking.

One in particular is of more than usual interest, and shows the smoking aftermath of a fire which leveled much of the business section of the town. The date given on the photograph is October 9, 1895.

Can any reader recall details of this fire, which apparently caused considerable damage to the community?

Retirement Dinner Is Held For T. L. Coberly

A banquet dinner was given October 29th at 6 o'clock, at the community hall for T. L. Coberly, of Cumberland by the Teen Club and its leaders of Ryan's Glade. Mr. Coberly retired from active duty with the Western Maryland Railway October 31st. He has been supervisor of his division for the past 14 years and has served over 30 years with the Company.

A cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Edward Steyer with a miniature engine and railroad track was presented to Mr. Coberly. She too was given a cake, presented to her by Mr and Mrs. Lester Loughry. Mrs. Gerald Moorehead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loughry, made the presentation.

Rev. James Remley, Mt. Lake charge, gave the opening address, followed by a talk by Mr. Coberly and several of his employees.

Local Woman Writes Article on Orchids

An article on "How I Grow Orchids at Home," appeared in the October issue of the American Orchid Society Bulletin, written by Mrs. Florence P. Maurer, of Oakland.

The four-page story appeared along with several views of the orchid room in the Aza Stanton home on North Third street, where Mrs. Maurer resides with her nephew.

Mrs. Maurer said the "orchid bug" first hit her when she visited the Orchid Jungle while on a Florida vacation. A starter collection by Mr. Stanton for her birthday was all she needed.

Mrs. Maurer explains how her hobby expanded and how they constructed a special room to house all the plants which she now owns. Her collection at present numbers about 100 plants, mostly Cattleyas, with three Phalaenopsis, one Cypripedium, two Cymbidiums and one Epidendrum.

Mrs. Maurer declares that orchids "are the most interesting and rewarding plants I know and require less attention than most house plants." Her orchid room has been visited by many people, not only of Oakland but the surrounding area.

Is Queen's Attendant

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's hard for grownups to grasp what it means to be a child today! We grew up yesterday. The planes and radios which had startled our parents were commonplace to us. Television and jets we could take in stride. But Space! Who among us expected to live in a Buck Rogers era?

Yet to our youngsters nothing seems more natural than man's invasion of the universe. Everything that went before was preparation. We are ready to blast off. And the man who will establish our first colony on Mars is probably training for his mission in a sixth grade classroom . . .

Was there ever a time when religious, moral and spiritual development were more essential to our youth? The Truth man will cherish on Earth, and carry with him among the stars, is being taught every Sunday in our churches. Is your child . . . and the home in which he is growing up . . . FIT FOR THE AGE?

Facing My Sin

Lesson for November 6, 1960

IT IS NOT necessary to be "fit" before being in touch with God. God is always in touch with all he has made. The trouble is, being in touch with God may not be a happy experience at all.

Consider the case of the poet who wrote the 32nd Psalm. He begins his poem by rejoicing in the happiness of a man who has had his sins forgiven. The forgiving touch of God does indeed bring joy to the heart. But the sense of God's presence had not always been a delight. (We can assume that poet is talking about his own perience, not some other per

God Has a Heavy Hand

He writes: "Day and night thy (God's) hand was heavy upon me." He suffered not only spiritual depression, but he had been physically worn-down too. Doctors today will tell you about 'psychosomatic" ailments; that is, troubles which begin in the mind but which affect muscles and nerves and bones. Every hospital has patients who would not need to be there if they could come to terms with themselves and their problems. Ministers and hospital chaplains and psychiatrists know that often the only cure for an illness is not miracle-pills or an operation, but (so to speak) an operation on the soul. This is a modern re-discovery of what the Psalmist knew long ago, that a guilty conscience can actually bring on a fever and make a man lose weight and strength. God is in touch with sinners; but his touch is not to them a tender one.

Turning-point

The turning-point in that poet's experience came at the point where he "declared his sin,"—when he broke down and confessed. There is no mention here of any "Confessor" who stood in the place of God. The sinner faced his God directly. He made his confession at first hand.

Much is said about a forgiving God. He is even thought of as a kind of gigantic forgiving-machine, with pardons rolling out like newspapers from a printing-press. Not at all. God's forgiveness is never in the Bible said to be automatic. There are conditions. The main condition is certainly not to get a great deal better, or even a little better, before God will consent to do anything for you. That's hardly possible. The condition is that you face your self, your actual sinful selfish mean self, get a good look and be ashamed. The condition is that you realize you cannot forgive yourself, you don't need to and it will do you no good. What you need is forgiveness from a higher source, nothing short of God.

On God's Way

After God has forgiven, then what? Do I sit down happily and contemplate his grace? Do I take up my time with hallelujahs? Do I spend the rest of my life writing songs about God's forgiving love? Not so. It is true, the experience of relief, release and rejoicing, that overwhelms one who has repented and confessed, has inspired many another forgiven sinner, and not only the author of Psalm 32, to write poetry describing his great experience. But most of life is not poem-writing. Life for the forgiven man is like a road. it stretches out into the future, and it is not always clear daylight on that highway. Confusing shadows lie across it, a man needs guidance. That is the point of verses 8 and 9 of Psalm 32. The forgiven man is in touch with God in a new way: the Lord is his guide. He had been like a fractious mule, pulling away from God all the time, and feeling sore from the bit pulled tight. Now God tells him to be a man, not a mule any longer, a man, not a beast, a man who can follow directions, a man who has his ear and mind open to the wise counsel of God. There is something more than wisdom on the way of God: there is love. A less than loving God is not going to be a forgiving God. And so the forgiven man looks back and realizes that God's once heavy hand lay on him not to destroy him but to draw him into God's true way.

Boyd Payton's Plea For Clemency Is Denied

Governor Luther Hodges of North Carolina denied executive clemency for Carolinas union leader Boyd F. Payton and seven others convicted of conspiring to dynamite facilities at a struck cotton mill.

Payton and others, including two TWUA staff aides, were convicted of conspiring to dynamite installations at the Henderson Clinton mills during a long and bitter strike last year. Payton, 54, was sentenced to six to 10 years. Two others got the same. Four others were given five to seven-year terms. An eighth member got one to three years.

Payton was a former resident of Mt. Lake Park and in the 1920's attended Oakland High school.

The men had been free under bond while attorneys fought the case in the courts. His term was scheduled to begin today.

The forecasters are seeing little shift in Congress after the election.

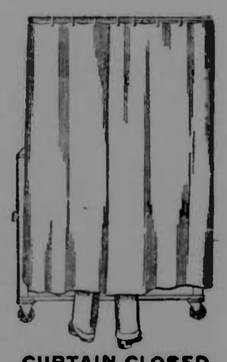
FOR GENERAL ELECTIO

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN



Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, and left down.

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

In an office to which more than one candidate is to be voted for, you can turn down the proper number of voting pointers, but no more, even if one is directly under the others.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. You can make as many changes as you desire while the operating lever is at the right side.

No one will know how you have voted, because the movement of the Red operating lever returns the voted voting pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

Southern Speaks

By Dale Ellis

Fifteen students and their faculty advisor left by bus this morning for Baltimore, to continue to New York City, tomorrow morning, by train along with 250 other Maryland High School students to visit the United Nations. The Oakland group will arrive back at Southern at approximately at 3:00 a. m., on Saturday.

This year, Mr. Harold Miller will accompany the students. The students include eleven seniors and four juniors. Seniors are Pat Sacher, Roxie Bowers, Kathryn Blizzard, Susan Gibson, Janet Phillippi, Carole Campbell, Tom Forman, Lawrence DeBerry, Wolford Perando, Jack Burns and Dale Ellis.

Porter Welch, Ricky McManis, Jeannie Foley and Carolyn Simmons will represent the junior class. This trip is sponsored by the Maryland Branch of the American Association of University Women and Southern High School.

Northern High School of Accident is sending fifteen students and two faculty advisors this year with the Southern High students and advisor.

Magazine Campaign Ends

Southern's annual drive to sell magazines in Garrett County came to a close on Tuesday with $3,342 being raised. This was $158 short of the goal which was set at $3,500. Mr. Eugene Flinn was the faculty advisor while his student helpers were Barbara Rice and Esther Yoder.

7C was awarded the trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., because it sold the highest amount of subscriptions in the campaign. Students in this section sold $542 worth of subscriptions. The seventh grade was the top grade with $216 followed by the eleventh with $759.

D. A. R. Announced

Pat Sacher, Carole Campbell, and Kathryn Blizzard were chosen by a Southern High faculty board to compete for Southern's and Garrett County's Daughters of American Revolution Award.

Completes Basic

Pfc. William C. Butler recently came home on leave after completing basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He is in the armored vehicle school at present at Fort Knox.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Nethken, he was graduated from Southern High school in the class of 1960.

These girls will have to write an essay in their own hand-writing in ink and the topic will be, "What Avails, If Freedom Fails?" They were selected on their dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

After one girl is named she will compete against Northern's entry for Garrett County honors and will enter the state contest.

Tomorrow afternoon, eleven boys in grade twelve, will be playing their last football game of their high school career against the Petersburg Vikings at 2:00 in Petersburg.

A feature on the work of Max Buckel, county agent of Baltimore county, appeared October 22 in The Baltimore Sun. It was written by Robert C. Breen.

Mr. Buckel is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Buckel, of Bittinger. He has had articles appearing in numerous publications about his work and the job he is doing. One of his articles appeared in Hoard's Dairyman recently.

The particular article in The Sun was on the changes in farming. Portions of it are reprinted.

"Despite the increasing urbanization of the metropolitan fringes of Baltimore county, agriculture is still of major importance in the county's economy. Baltimore county, the third largest county in Maryland, devotes 34 percent of its area to farming.

"The changes that have come reflect the complexity of farm problems today by the farmers' increasing dependence on simplification of method and especially in the interest in automation.

"Baltimore county's farms are larger in size and their value has more than doubled per farm in six years. Let there are fewer farms. In 1954 the average Baltimore county farm was 89 acres. In 1960 it had increased to 110 acres and the valuation increased from $20,500 to $75,000.

"There is less 'hit and miss' farming. The farmer tries to do a more efficient job. He is interested in labor-saving devices and the latest technological developments. The farmer knows he must adopt more concentrated and intensified forms of farming if he is to compete with the character of the times."

When Mr. Buckel was assistant agent he never missed a monthly meeting of any 4-H club. He kept up his interest in 4-H work while assuming more responsibility.

A graduate of the University of Maryland, he also did work at the University of Minnesota. He has his master's degree in agricultural extension education.

With statisticians telling that there is room on the farm for only from 10 to 15 percent of farm boys, Max is busy gearing his programs to these changing concepts, particularly the 4-H programs.

Max has been in Baltimore county nine years. He was first an assistant county agent then an associate agent and now heads the [illegible]. He and his wife and three daughters reside in Lutherville.

First Execution

that any more; that's enough of that." Telling his family, including his wife and nine year old daughter, Alice, and son, Robert, to run upstairs, he started toward the door when it was broken open and three more shots fired.

Alice later testified that she saw Smith holding her father by the throat and shooting him. Then, she related, she ran upstairs and as she did, she saw her father fall Smith followed her, seized Mrs Harden, and dragged her into the woods, despite the effort of Hobert to protect her. She declared Smith released her unharmed about half an hour later, and she returned home, to find her husband dead.

The family gave the alarm, and a posse of men began the search for the murderer finally tracking him to a shanty where he had been living. There by crawling through the chimney, Smith gave them the slip, and made his way to Winchester, Va., where he was arrested a few days later and returned to the jail at Oakland. On his person were found a revolver, a bloody butcher knife and a bundle of old clothes containing a coat worn on the day of the murder, which had blood spots on it.

THE ORIGINAL Garrett County Court House, later part of Oakland High school. Here John Smith was condemned to death for murder on September 24, 1883, was executed on November 16 and buried near the jail, located behind this building.

The case was tried at the September, 1883, term of Garrett County court and the prisoner was defended by T. J. Peddicord and H. Wheeler Combs. Despite their efforts, however, the jury found Smith guilty of murder in the first degree, after deliberating only thirty minutes. During the trial, Smith was described as being unconcerned and devoid of feeling. On Monday, September 24, 1883, he was sentenced to die by hanging. Smith at this time denied his guilt, claimed he had not received justice and wanted a new trial, which was refused.

Makes Jail Break

On October 4, Smith managed to escape from the local jail. In reporting the incident, the Cumberland News related.

"Oakland was in an uproar such as has never been witnessed withia the memory of the oldest inhabitant. About four o'clock in the afternoon, John Smith, the murderer of Josiah Harden, broke jail and made good his escape. Sheriff Edmund Jamison had just left the jail and had gone down town to transact business when Smith called to the jailer to give him some water. When he opened the cell door to do so, Smith knocked him down, walked out and locked the jailer in the building. Then he seized a hatchet and broke off his shackles and made for the woods."

However, his second escape was also of short duration. Sheriff Jamison and volunteers blockaded the road between Oakland and Deer Park, and Smith eventually returned to the jail and gave himself up. The following Monday, the governor set November 16 as the date for his execution.

The night before his execution, he ate a hearty supper, and in the evening was visited by Rev. Benjamin Ison, of St. Paul's Methodist church, who remained with him for several hours.

Rev. Ison later reported that Smith talked freely on all subjects except the crime, merely repeating his assertions of innocence. The pastor said a considerable portion of the evening was passed in singing hymns, and in prayer.

Signs Confession

Smith was reported to have spent a good night, and enjoyed a substantial breakfast the morning of his execution. Then he again called for Rev. Ison, who remained with him most of the morning. Under Rev Ison's influence, Smith repented of his crime, and for the first time made a confession of guilt, which Rev. Ison transcribed for him. In part, he dictated:

"I fired the shots that killed Harden. I fired one through the window and one in the house. I was about half drunk. The reason I did not give myself up to the men who came after me that night was I was afraid they would lynch me.

"I have made my peace with God and have nothing against anybody. I am thankful to my spiritual adviser, Mr. Ison, and to the sheriff, Mr. Jamison, for their kindness to me."

The first signs of the approaching execution came about 9 a. m., when Company B, Second Battalion, 42 men and officers, went on guard duty around the court house and jail, keeping out of the grounds all persons except those authorized.

The day was reported as freezing cold, with snow on the ground, but this failed to discourage the crowd which began to form about 10:30. By noon, shortly before the hour the execution was understood to be fixed for, the crowd gathered outside the guard line numbered between 300 and 400 persons. They were described as orderly, with curiosity seeming to be the motive that led them to endure the cold. But all they got was a glimpse of the man as he was taken from the jail to the entrance of the temporary enclosure.

The hanging took place within the enclosure built in the rear of the jail. A fence 16 feet high had been erected around the scaffold, which stood in the center. This had been constructed by P. A. Chisholm, who said he had never seen a similar structure. Apparently it was well designed and built, for a newspaper account of the period describes it as working "like a charm."

The platform was eight feet from the ground, and the drop was about four feet square. It was sprung by means of a lever placed at the side of the stairs in such a manner that the sheriff could push it when he reached the second step. The rope, it was stated, "was of the finest Italian hemp, and made for the purpose."

At one o'clock, the procession was formed, consisting of the sheriff and his deputies, the military guard, the condemned man and the chaplain, which filed out of the rear door of the jail to the enclosed area.

Smith, who showed no nervousness, is said to have been smoking a cigar. He is described as being of medium height, strongly built, and weighed about 180 pounds. He wore a short mustache and beard.

Turning to those assembled, he said "Farewell to everybody; God bless you all," then walked firmly and ascended the scafford.

On the platform, he threw down his cigar and made a last address to those below. "It's very hard for a man to die like this," he said, "but it's no difference what the death is, so the soul is ready to live with God. I am ready to die." Here, he is said to have broken down and sobbed, but quickly recovered. Sheriff Jamison then tied his ankles and wrists and placed a black cap over his head.

At 1:13 p. m., Sheriff Jamison walked quietly down the steps and as his foot touched the second one, he pushed the lever. The drop fell, and Smith was caught solidly by the rope. The impact failed to break his neck, however, and death was caused by strangulation.

At 1:30, Dr. J. Lee McComas, the jail physician, and Dr. E. H. Bartlett, pronounced him dead. Fifteen minutes later the remains were cut down, placed in a coffin and buried near the corner of Fourth and Green streets.

The affair had proceeded smoothly and without incident. Later, Sheriff Jamison was commended for "performing his trying duty well. There was no jar and the last act of springing the bolt was done firmly, quietly and swiftly."

It was then discovered that even on the morning of the execution, Smith had made plans for one more escape. He had wrenched a metal bar from his bed to pry off his shackles, but had been discouraged by other occupants of the jail who informed him that armed soldiers had surrounded the building.

Wed in Washington, September 3

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wickliffe Bradshaw of Rockville, announce the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth Ann Browne, to Fred Smith Whisenhunt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith Whisenhunt of Newton, North Carolina, on Saturday, September 3rd, at the Wesley Methodist Church in Washington, D. C. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. A. V. Schaeffer of Oakland.

Mrs. Whisenhunt is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta, and her husband is a graduate of North Carolina State College and is employed by the Naval Research Laboratory. He is also attending George Washington University Law School.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. M. L. Martin of Charlottesville, Va. Her other attendants were Miss Ann W. Bradshaw of Rockville, the bride's sister, who was junior bridesmaid, and the senior attendants: Mrs. E. L. Loftin of Hillcrest Heights; Mrs. Richard Gross of Bellsville; and Mrs. Roy Shantz of Takoma Park.

Joe A. Whisenhunt was his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert L. Yount of Newton, N. C., Riley C. Carpenter of Winston-Salem, N. C., Louis Ginochio, New York City, M. L. Martin, Charlottesville, Va., and Albert F. Browne, Jr., and Richard K. Bradshaw, Rockville, brothers of the bride.

After a reception at the Varsity Inn, the couple returned to their home in Washington, D. C.

The bride wore a gown of candlelight French silk fashioned with square neckline with bracelet length sleeves. The full skirt extended into a Chapel train. She wore a fingertip illusion veil caught to a jeweled coronet and her flowers were white phaleonopsis and Stephanotis.

Her attendants were gowned in lilac French silk and carried gardenias and red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Bradshaw wore a full-length gown of champagne brocaded satin for her daughter's wedding with pale green orchids. Mrs. Whisenhunt selected a dress of navy blue silk with pale blue accessories and wore pale blue orchids. Mrs. Schaeffer, grandmother of the bride, was dressed in navy blue lace. Her flowers, white sweetheart roses, complemented her hat of multi-colored rosebuds.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a garden reception was held in honor of the bridal couple at the bride's mother's home in Rockville.

Lodge Urges Support For G. O. P. Ticket

A statuesque, handsome 58-year-old mother with eight grandchildren who call, paradoxically, carries herself with a youthful air, talked to between 1,000 and 5,000 persons in the City Hall Plaza in Cumberland last Friday afternoon for only 14 minutes and appeared to have infected all of them with his own Jewish enthusiasm.

The speaker was Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, former United States ambassador to the United Nations and now the Republican candidate for Vice President.

Mr. Lodge did not mention his direct opponent, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, by name.

Mentions Kennedy

But he did deviate from the usual political speech by specifically mentioning his fellow resident of Massachusetts, Senator John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for President.

He first told his overwhelmingly Republican audience that Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee for President, had never been "taken in" by the Communists and had never made rash promises about foreign policy which he subsequently had to retract.

On the other hand, Mr. Lodge said Senator Kennedy has made three statements on foreign policy and each of those views he later retracted.

The first the GOP speaker said, was when Senator Kennedy stated that President Eisenhower should have expressed regret to Khrushchev for the U-2 plane incident.

"If we had apologized the world would wonder if the United States were losing its nerve," Mr. Lodge asserted. The GOP candidate then made a parenthetical comment about the United States Information Agency survey last May concerning United States prestige. Only 1,909 persons in France, England and Norway were questioned. A large majority of those questioned gave a predominantly favorable opinion of this country, Mr. Lodge added.

Don't Draw Line

He next criticized Mr. Kennedy for the latter's contention that the United States should draw a line between Quemoy and Matsu concerning the defense of Formosa. "The last time we drew a line was 10 years ago in Korea and that resulted in a three-year war and 140,600 United States casualties," Mr. Lodge emphasized.

Finally, the GOP Vice Presidential nominee critized Senator Kennedy for the latter's contention that the United States should help anti-Castro forces in and out of Cuba.

"If we start intervening in the internal affairs of smaller nations we will be going against our treaty obligations," the former Senator from Massachusetts said.

"We must continue to implement the Good Neighbor Policy established by President Franklin D. Roosevelt and expanded by the Eisenhower Administration," Mr. Lodge told his audience.

High Ground

Our government must lead the United States to high ground with lasting peace and without the fiscal irresponsibility all the time.

We can show the world that democracy can work. This can be done through education for children, care for the aged, improved health for all citizens, elimination of slums and reduction in unemployment, all without runaway inflation," he asserted.

In closing, Mr. Lodge stressed that the ideas expounded by our American Revolution are much superior to those created by the Communist Revolution.

"We must live up to the declaration that all men are created equal if we are to convince the rest of the world that the democratic way is superior to the Communist road."

This highlight of the Republican campaign in Western Maryland started at 12:30 p. m. George R. Hughes Jr., master of ceremonies took only eight minutes for the preliminaries.

Brief Program

First he called upon Mayor J. Edwin Keech, who extended an official welcome on behalf of the city. Then, he introduced Mrs. Arthur A. Verner, president of the Cumberland Republican Women's Club, and Miss Katherine Close, president of the Frostburg Republican Women's Club, and the presiding Mrs. Emil Lodge charming wife of the handsome candidate a cheese.

D. Eldred Lenhart of Washington County State Republican Chairman, U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler and J. Glenn Beall were introduced.

Then Mr. Lodge presented Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., 28-year-old Frederick County attorney and Republican candidate for Congress, who promptly introducted Mr. Lodge as the next Vice President of the United States.

Fourteen minutes elapsed while the Vice Presidential nominee made his pitch for the Nixon-Lodge slate and then the campaign plane zoomed on to Hagerstown, Salisbury and Baltimore.

Several carload of persons from Garrett county attended the rally.

How a Mute Says 'JESUS'

To say "Jesus" a mute will place the middle finger of the right hand in the palm of the left, then the middle finger of the left hand in the palm of the right, signifying the nailing to the cross. This unique way constantly reminds them each time they use the Savior's name that He was nailed to the cross for their sins. It reminds them of God's only Begotten Son who came from heaven's glory to become the sin sacrifice for a fallen human race. He bore in His own body the stripes that belonged to us. His hands and His feet were scarred with the print of the nails which should have been justly ours. Why did He do it? I Peter 3:18 tells us, "That He might bring us to God". Without Jesus Christ who sprinkled His blood upon the mercy seat for us, there would be no access to the Holy God. It was through the sufferings of Christ that man was redeemed, the penalty paid and a righteousness established that gave us the priceless privilege of coming to God. Tell me, dear reader, does His name as Savior mean something to you?

Bought From Father

The Glotfeltys bought their farm from his father, O. C. Glotfelty, in 1957, when he built a new home on a corner of the farm and retired. Formerly, beef cattle and turkeys were the main sources of income, but a dairy business was started in 1948. Robert acquired the dairy along with the farm and has been continually improving it. Almost 12,000 pounds per cow average for the 33 cows in the herd were produced during the past year. He has several cows with outstanding records in the county D. H. I. A.

Improvements Made

Improvements during the year include the installation of a new bulk tank in the milk house. He plans to go to pipeline milking when he can fit it into his schedule. A hay drying system helps make good quality roughage. Further improvements include a silo unloader to make his work easier, and ventilating fans in the barn to make for better comfort and health of the cows and the operators. Another silo is planned.

Robert is active in local and state civic, school, and church activities. He is treasurer of the local P.-T. A. group, and is a state director in the Maryland Artificial Breeders Cooperative. Others include Southern States Advisory Committee; the A. S. C. Community committee, vice-president, Garrett County Farm Bureau; and assistant superintendent, dairy department, Garrett County Fair. Both he and his wife are members of the Bittinger Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Glotfelty is livewise engaged in many community affairs such as P.-T. A., church groups, Homemakers' Club, and Farm Bureau.

Children in the family are: Rodney, 8; Joan 6; Carol, 3, and Barry 1. Robert Beitzel, 14, no relative, lives with the family.

The Glotfeltys take time to display their projects at the annual Garrett County and Cumberland fairs. They showed the grand champion grade cow this year, and won top prizes on hay, calves, rabbits, baking and home canning at the fairs.

The Robert O. Glotfeltys have enrolled in the past four of the thirteen years that Farming For Better Living has operated in Garrett County. The program now operates in twenty-five counties, all of which except Garrett, are in adjoining West Virginia. Farming For Better Living started in ten West Virginia counties in northern West Virginia in 1940. The program seeks to better farming and farm family living, and to bring about a closer working relationship between farm people and other county businesses. The program is administered by a county council in each county, and works closely with the county Extension Service, Farmers' Home Administration, A.S.C. program, Soil Conservation, Forestry Department, and other similar organizations, as well as banks and local businesses.

Previous winners of the program have been Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Bishoff, Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood Bittinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Crowe, William Fitzwater, Jr., and the late Mrs. Fitzwater, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Glotfelty, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Hummel, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle, Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wagner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Wildesen. Grand sweepstakes champions in the area program were Mr. and Mrs. Schlossnagle in 1952 and Mr. and Mrs. Bittinger in 1957.

MARRIED

Humberson - Shilling — Miss Lillian Frances Shilling, of Arlington, Va., became the bride of Dale Edward Humberson, on Sunday, October 30, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Methodist church in Arlington.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shilling. The groom, a member of the U. S. Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va., is a son of Glenn Humberson, Oakland, and Mrs. Marie Deese, of Arlington.

Health Report Is Given For Month

The Health Department report for September included the following items:

Cases of Poliomyelitis continued to spring up sporadically through the month, two new cases having been reported. One case, a child of one year, developing the Illness after receiving two shots and awaiting the time interval for the third shot. In spite of newspaper articles and a form letter sent to each one, it has been very difficult to get those who received their first shot last month to appear for their next shot in the series.

Administration

Doctor Davens and Mr. Gaines, the Deputy Director and the Chief of the Bureau of Management respectively, of the Maryland State Department of Health, visited the county and met with the Board of County Commissioners to work out some way in which the local Health Department could be financed for the remainder of the year. Under the Case Formula a system which determines the amount of the local County budget paid by the State and the amount paid locally, the minimum health services ran far above the amount of matching funds and left the county with a large deficit for which it had to assume the full responsibility. The appropriated funds were just about exhausted and monies had to be found to conduct this Department through the rest of the fiscal year i. e. to December 31. A new system may be adopted by the Legislature in 1961, so that this situation will not arise again.

The Health Officer met with Doctor Edwards, Doctor van Strein and Mrs. Everstine in Cumberland. The purpose was to come to definite conclusions in a program to care for and follow those who have been discharged or are on leave from State Mental Institutions. We believe that we have a workable system though it may need revision from time to time as we see how it works in practice (see July report on this subject).

Another dog bit a child and got the usual bullet between the eyes. In this case, although the brain was not suited for mouse inoculation, suspicious cytology was found at the University of Maryland and the child had to undergo a full course of immunization treatment.

Public Health Nursing

The nurses are back in the schools this month. All schools have been visited and programs set up for health screening and health education. Since the Department cannot have a dental clinic and good dental program the nurses continue to try to drive home the importance of proper diet, good oral hygiene and periodic dental examinations.

This month the fall session of the tri-annual Orthopedic Clinic was held. These clinics are held in September, January and May. This is the largest and most spectacular of all the Health Department clinics and there are very few young adults in the County who have not been seen at some time in their lives. This clinic was instituted about twenty five years ago by Dr. George Bennett of the famous Baltimore team of Baetjer, Baer and Bennett. Later this clinic was taken over by Dr. George Eaton who has missed few sessions with the exception of war years. Miss Jane Oliver, R. N. of the Crippled Childrens Services with a remarkable retentive memory has always been present to follow through on such cases as need to be seen in Baltimore. At this Clinic 114 were seen and arrangements were made for 6 to be admitted to Childrens Hospital in Baltimore and 17 were discharged.

Medical Care — Medically indigent, 72; Indigent, 142; Prescriptions, 325.

Sanitation

In connection with some of the field trips things are found that are wrong and return trips have to be made after corrections are made. In a few instances whole sewer systems have to be abandoned and installed in a new location. Many times individuals have to be educated in the importance of doing things properly. Quite a bit of time is spent in the office answering calls, giving information, keeping records and getting out mail. Several persons are remodeling and enlarging their eating and drinking establishments and quite a bit of time has been spent with them. On two occasions operators of restaurants have been notified that it will be necessary to do remodeling work under the supervision of the Health Department or be closed.

'61 Ford Galaxie Club Victoria with Thunderbird styling and roofline that others are imitating but can't match.

The one '61 car built to back up a long-term warranty

Ford led the way with the one car beautifully built to take care of itself . . . and you

On September 29, Ford Dealers set an industry trend—were first to extend their 1961 car warranty from the conventional 4,000 miles or 3 months to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

Why? Because Ford built the one car to support such confidence. Ford for 1961 is the one car beautifully built to take care of itself!

The '61 Ford was designed and built to the more exacting standards necessary to offer an extended warranty. Ask to see this warranty at your dealer's.

It is significant that Ford has so many take-care-of-itself features not found in other cars, regardless of price. These new Ford features are a triumph of exhaustive research, fine engineering, and quality construction that give you the most reliable Ford ever built. Drive a '61 Ford soon.

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (which costs about $4.00*) will get you set for another 30,000 miles.

Cleans its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter.

Adjusts its own brakes—New Track Size brakes adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized—normally will last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—New Diamond Lustre Finish never needs wax.

Wear Bright Colors While Hunting Game

Many hunters believe that to wear bright red, yellow or other bright colored clothing while hunting will alarm the game and lessen the chances of success. From first hand observation, relates Chester Kerns, chief of game management for the Game and Inland Fish commission, this is not true. It is not the color of clothing that the hunter wears, but it is motion or noise that alarms the game.

The hunter who fails to wear some bright color, even though it be only a bright red cap, is taking unnecessary chances of being a target for some other hunter, Kerns remarked. Even though the chance of being shot may appear small, the wearing of such protective color is cheap insurance which can pay off in saving one's life or that of another hunter. The wearing of drab clothing without protective coloring is not the mark of an experienced hunter, he pointed out, because the experienced hunter knows that there is some danger in hunting especially when hunters are quite numerous.

Seven Apprehended For Motor Law Violations

Seven persons were apprehended in recent days for alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle regulations, but two of them were found not guilty. One person was held on two charges and fined a total of $200 and costs.

Frederick Foster Martin, of Elkridge, was charged for failure to obey a written promise to appear in court and on charges of reckless driving. He pleaded not guilty to the charges but was found guilty on both. He was fined $100 and costs on each charge.

Following an automobile accident state police filed charges against John Ankrom Ferrell, of Westernport, for failure to grant the right of way, and against William McKinley Nazelrod, for reckless driving. Both pleaded not guilty. At a hearing before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney he found Nazelrod not guilty and found Ferrell guilty and fined the latter $10 and costs.

Magistrate Maroney found another person not guilty also. He was Ronald DeWayne Fike, of Friendsville. The charge was traveling at a speed too great for road conditions. He pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty.

Two others pleaded not guilty but were found guilty.

Jackie Garland Friend, Oakland, was found guilty of failure to stop before entering highway and was fined $5. Rosella Blanche Saville, Falls Church, Va., was found guilty of failure to grant right of way and was fined $10.

Lorenza Carr, Pittsburgh, for failure to obey stop sign, forfeited collateral of $10.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 84 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY MD., NOVEMBER 10, 1960 | PER COPY, 8c | NUMBER 37.

Best Wishes . . .

There isn't much we can say this week except to offer congratulations to Senator John F. Kennedy for his victory and to offer him best wishes for a successful term in office.

We don't plan to go into mourning, for the closeness of the victory indicates clearly that almost as many people favored vice president Nixon and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, as favored Kennedy and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. The Republican candidates actually won more states than did the Demorats, but they simply did not have the electoral vote.

We hope that president-elect Kennedy's victory will give him a measure of maturity that we feel he didn't have up to election time, and we hope it will have a sobering influence on any attempt to carry through some of the promises he made while campaigning.

We feel he is a patriotic American, who has a burning desire to see America get ahead. In his struggle for that he can rely on all Republicans we feel sure.

Certainly Mr. Kennedy did not receive a mandate from the people to institute programs similar to those which Roosevelt began during the early days of his first administration. One steadying influence, we feel sure, is the Congress of the United States which has a habit of placing a restraining hand on any executive who attempts to force through unpopular programs.

The Republicans made gains in Congress, and we know that when the GOP members team up with those conservative Democrats of the southern states, that things will not get too far astray.

So we repeat, congratulations! Be assured that all Republicans will back the administration in power in its efforts for peace, with justice, prosperity and good government.

Jackson Garage On Route 50 Destroyed

A combined garage, restaurant, and dwelling, owned by J. Arthur Jackson, on route 50, one and one-half miles west of Red House, was entirely destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and son Leonard were eating their noon meal when they discovered the blaze which had caught from an overheated stove in the garage section. The flames had ignited a number of tires and spread rapidly to other portions of the building.

The Oakland fire department was summoned but due to a shortage of water they were unable to save anything except a deep freeze and a few other items. Assisting in fighting the flames were the fire departments from Terra Alta, Deer Park and Gormania.

The firemen remained at the blaze for about two hours. It was termed a total loss. The fire fighters spread a line to the Little Youghiogheny river and to a nearby well, but the supply still was not enough to be effective.

Girls Awarded $47,500 Damages

Jury Returns Verdict Last Thursday After Deliberating Over Two Hours

A verdict in favor of the plaintiffs in the combined damage suits to the extent of $47,500 was returned by a Circuit court jury last Thursday afternoon. The jury received the case about 2 o'clock and two and one-half hours later had given its report to Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley, who presided during the four-day trial.

The suits resulted from the tragic B. and O. train-school bus accident at the Mt. Lake Park crossing on September 10, 1959.

The damages were awarded both against the railroad and the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, granting $25,000 to Sandra Jean Patton, 14, and $22,500 to Mary Jane Lee, 17. The verdict also gave $361.50 to James Patton for hospital and medical expenses of his daughter, and $326.10 to Mrs. Evelyn Lee, for hospital and medical expenses of her daughter.

The railroad and the bus driver were sued jointly by Miss Patton through her father, and by Miss Lee, through her mother. All reside in Deer Park.

The cases were consolidated for the purposes of trial before a jury. The girls sustained broken backs as a result of the accident, which took the lives of seven school children and injured eleven.

Improvement Work Begun on U. S. 219

The George F. Hazelwood company has started on the project to eliminate a dangerous curve on route 219, and to improve and relocate 1.72 miles of roadway.

The sharp curve is located about two miles north of Mellenry and has been the cause of numerous accidents. It is known as Schold's Curve.

The State Roads commission awarded the contract to the Cumberland firm for relocating the road at a cost of $435,000 per mile.

The job calls for the excavation of 300,000 cubic yards of earth and the Hazelwood company has a number of large pieces of earth-moving equipment working on the job.

The contract extends from the Hove's Run road, southward to Mellemy, and a company spokesman said the work would be continued until the weather causes a shutdown.

Rights of ways have been obtained for a dual highway in the future but the present improvement will be for one roadway. The new roadway will be the southbound lane and will be 26 feet wide. It is scheduled for completion next fall.

New Group Organized

About forty persons met in Oakland last Friday evening for the purpose of organizing a Garrett County chapter of the Maryland Society for Mentally Retarded Children. Mrs. William E. Naylor, Oakland, presided. A nominating committee and a by-laws committee were named.

The next meeting will be held Friday, December 2, at a place to be announced.

Mathias Elected Over Foley In Congress Race

Garrett County Gives Fredcrick Countian Majority Of Over Two Thousand

Charles McC. Mathias won election to the House of Representatives late Tuesday night. Unofficial returns from all but one of the Sixth District's 266 polling places gave Mathias 112,276 to Rep. John R. Foley's 103,445.

Mathias, 38-year-old Republican member of the House of Delegates from Frederick county, took the seat that Foley had won from DeWitt S. Hyde two years ago.

Complete returns from Garrett county gave Mathias 4,439 votes compared to 2,402 for Foley. Allegany county gave Mathias a 5,769 vote margin as he led Foley by 19,228 to 13,459.

Mathias also led by a slight margin in his home county of

CHARLES McC. MATHIAS

Frederick but unofficial returns in Washington county gave Foley a slim 878 vote lead. The totals there were 16,556 for Foley and 15,678 for Mathias.

Rep. Foley, a former labor lawyer and former professor of law at Catholic university, had represented the Sixth district just two years. His election two years ago marked the first time a Democrat had sat in Congress from this district since 1942 when J. Glenn Beall was elected to succeed Mrs. Katherine Edgar Byron.

Beall served five terms in the House before running successfully for the Senate in 1952. Mr. Hyde won the right to succeed Beall that year by defeating Mrs. Stella B. Werner. Rep. Hyde won re-election in 1954 and in 1956 he defeated Mr Foley by 15,743 votes, carrying all five counties of the district. In 1958 Foley defeated Hyde while carrying only Montgomery and Washington counties, winning by a district-wide margin of 4,304.

Unofficial complete Sixth district returns showed the following:

County	F	M
Allegany	13,459	19,228
Frederick	9,197	13,412
Garrett	2,402	4,139
Montgomery	62,133	59,958
Washington	16,556	15,678
	103,747	112,715

Mathias compiled his winning margin in Allegany, Frederick and Garrett. They gave him an edge of 11,827. In his populous home county of Montgomery Foley was able to pick up a majority of only 2,175 and another 878 in Washington.

Among those who sent congratulations to the congressman-elect was the Republican Women's club of this county.

The purpose of this annual meeting is to elect officers and directors of the association and to discuss activities for the coming year.

The program will include a cost-returns analysis of the Baby Beef Projects in the county compiled and presented by Vo-ag Instructor John Reckner, Jr. Also on the program is a discussion of Feeder Calf Sales by Jack Perkins, Asst County Agent. All members, 4-H and F.-F. A. members and other interested persons are cordially invited to attend. Light refreshments will be served.

All Night Parking On Oakland Streets Ordered Limited

In an effort to improve its street cleaning program particularly during the winter months, the Mayor and Council of Oakland on Monday night unanimously agreed to limit overnight during the period November 15 until April 1. During those limits there will be no overnight parking in the metered areas of Oakland, it was decreed.

Violators will be subject to a fine plus towing charges.

Other Questions Discussed

Several other questions were discussed but no action was taken by the council at the regular November session.

Dr. Arthur Jones, county health officer, presented a letter in which he brought up the matter of fluoridation of the Oakland water supply.

He pointed out that it had been recommended by the Allegany-Garrett county medical society and also the Allegany-Garrett county dental society.

No action was taken.

Paul Tasker sought an electric light to be placed at the top of Scott street, and the council agreed to investigate the need. Scott street is located between Wilson and Barlett streets.

Urge Better Signs

A letter was authorized to be sent to the State Roads commission recommending better warning signs at the intersection of U. S 219 and state route 135, at Oak and 9th streets. There have been several accidents at this intersection since the new 219 was opened to traffic.

Mayor Russell Smith brought before the council a report of the Chester Engineers in regard to the progress on contracts 1, 2 and 3 in the new water system installation. The council also approved the method of handling funds from the bond issue.

The council authorized the purchase of a quantity of salt for use on the city streets this winter.

A report of Mrs. Gladys Nordeck clerk-collector, showed receipts of $11,193.13 and expenditures of $11,504.78. Among the collections were $8,686.62 from water, $204.95 from taxes and $2,301.56 from miscellaneous. Expenditures included street labor of $2,362.26 and capital outlay in the water department of $2,116.62.

Two building permits were granted and both were for signs. One was to Kelly Vance for permission to erect a sign over his new discount store in the Clarence Murphy building on Liberty street. The other was to C. W. Englander to erect a steel pole on his property, 2nd and Alder, and to erect a sign 4 by 8 feet, illuminated, to extend over the sidewalk on Second street. Sunday movie tax amounted to $34.90 for October.

Snow Falls Two Days

Snow fell on two days during the week to give Garrett county a covering of from one to four inches of snow.

In most places the snow did not remain on the highways but did cling to the fields and lawns until Tuesday when a warm sun cleared it away.

There was a temperature reading of 10 degrees above zero on Tuesday morning for the oldest day of the week.

A resume of the weather showed that Friday was clear and moderate but Saturday dawned cloudy and cool. Rain began to fall before 1 o'clock which continued throughout the balance of the day. Snow appeared early Sunday morning and continued to fall throughout a good part of the day and evening. Scattered snow also fell on Monday.

R. E. Weber, weather observer south of Oakland, reported nearly one-half inch of snow Saturday night and another 1½ inches during Sunday. Temperatures reached a high of 33 degrees.

Heavy flurries and some slush also were noted in mountainous areas of West Virginia, Pennsylvania state police reported heavy snow in the Somerset and Bedford county areas.

Miner's Condition Serious

Attaches at the West Virginia Medical center in Morgantown, W. Va., stated this week that Herman Burns, 22, of Thomas, W. Va., was "greatly improved, but still serious."

Burns was taken to the medical center last Wednesday night from Garrett County Memorial hospital where he had been taken after sustaining injuries in a mine cave-in at the Little Joe Coal company at Bayard.

Fails To Give Notice On Opening Mine

Joseph W. Ferguson was taken before the Trial Magistrate, Robert M. Maroney, on November 4th, on a charge of attempting to open a deep mine without giving notice to the Bureau of Mines and failing to provide sketch maps, in violation of the annotated code of Maryland.

Ferguson, who had opened a mine in the Bayard vicinity, entered a plea of guilty to the charge. He was fined $200 and costs but the fine was suspended by the magistrate.

Republicans Take County But State Goes for Kennedy

Garrett County, in one of the heaviest voting turnouts in a heavy voting turnout, remained in the Republican column and gave the Nixon-Lodge candidacy for the president and vice president of the United States a total of 4,932 with the Kennedy-Johnson ticket polling 2,294, a majority of 2,638. The state, however, went Democratic by a comfortable margin.

A total of 7,226 persons turned out to vote in Tuesday's clear and cold weather. All polling places reported a steady flow of voters during the day with voting starting as soon as the polls opened. The percentage of the vote was approximately 78 percent, and in some precincts went as high as 85 to 90.

There are 9,284 eligible citizens registered with 5,776 Republicans, 2,650 Democrats and 58 others, giving the Republicans a book majority of 2,126.

In Tuesday's voting Democratic candidates failed to cut into this margin, and Republicans brought a halt to the trend which had loomed in the county election two years ago. At that time Democrats took two of three County Commissioner seats, two of three House of Delegates seats and placed a Democrat in the Senate.

The Nixon-Lodge ticket had a majority in 19 of the 20 voting precincts, the Kitzmiller precinct being the only one to provide a majority for Kennedy-Johnson. Nixon was ahead by only two votes in Johnson precinct, but in all others he got substantial majorities. In Friendsville, with a registration of 962 and a Democratic majority of 12,187 to 475 precinct two gave Nixon 423 votes compared 262 for Kennedy and gave Mathias 366 to 273 for Foley. Grantsville supplied the biggest vote for Nixon with 499 while Mt Lake Park provided 496.

Ryan's Glade was the first community to report returns, with Swanton second and Crellin third.

Flood Control For Kitzmiller To Get Started In Spring

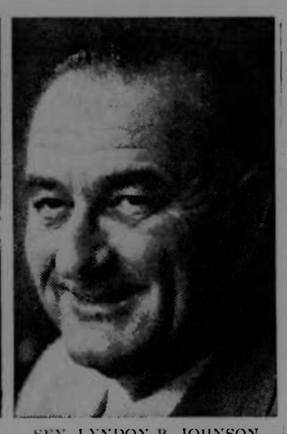
Prospects that the flood control project approved some time ago for the Kitzmiller community might get under way in early spring were made plain yesterday afternoon in a meeting of Mayor Earl Shank and County Commissioner Carl Schell, with W. D Phillips, of Washington, district engineer for the Corps of Army Engineers.

Mr. Phillips said there had been some revised plans in regard to the flood control project which probably would create an increase in the total federal construction cost of from 20 to 25 percent.

He said the federal government had set aside $280,000 for this work and that the local sponsorship had already been fulfilled. This included funds of $60,000, $30,000 of which would come from the state, $15,000 from the county and $15,000 from the town of Kitzmiller.

The plans are to construct a flood wall in the town, along the Potomac river, on both sides of the stream, for a distance of some 4,500 feet. Mr. Schell said also that the revised plans would also increase from 40 to 50 percent the annual flood protection benefit of the original plans, and that this could possibly increase the cost to the sponsors by as much as 20 percent.

The meeting was held in the office of the Mayor and Council of Kitzmiller.



Firemen Answer Alarm

Oakland firemen were called Monday afternoon to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Calhoun, adjacent to Cee Dee tavern, as the result of a flue fire. There was no damage.

Kennedy Wins Presidency Over Vice President Nixon

SEN. JOHN F. KENNEDY

SEN. LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Popular Vote Closest Since 1888; Both Rceeived Over 32 Million Votes

John F. Kennedy in a suspense-laden photo-finish beat Richard M. Nixon in Tuesday's election to become the youngest man to be elected president of the United States.

The Democratic senator from Massachusetts, 43, clinched victory shortly after 9 a. m. Wednesday by capturing 32 electoral votes in California. Minnesota also gave its 11 electoral votes to Kennedy to increase the lead.

Although the number of electoral votes does not indicate it, yet it was one of the closest races in history. In popular vote there was less than .5 of one percent difference. Figures released last night with still a number of precincts to be heard from, gave Kennedy 32,769,432 compared to 32,449,363 for Nixon, or in percentages, Kennedy got 50.25 percent of the vote and Nixon got 49.75. It was the smallest percentage margin since 1888.

Nixon also won more states than Kennedy, but the latter was winner in the states with the biggest population and therefore the biggest electoral vote.

Kennedy had taken the lead early Tuesday evening but due to the closeness in many states the outcome was kept in doubt.

It was a dramatic climax to a dramatic campaign and a dramatic political career. Both candidates had fought hard down to the wire and President Eisenhower had intervened to help the man he picked in 1952 and 1956 to be his vice presidential running mate.

Nixon made a qualified concession before 3:30 a. m. EST on Wednesday but held back his actual congratulatory message until early afternoon.

The victory for Kennedy and his running mate Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, spelled the end of eight years of Republican rule in the White House and halted Nixon's steady and uninterruped rise in politics.

Commentators on Wednesday night were remarking however, that there was no doubt that Nixon was to remain a very strong head for the Republican party, and would carry much weight because of the closeness of the popular vote.

While Democratic majorities will control the Senate and the House when the 87th Congress convenes January 3, the Republicans made some gains in Congress. They had picked up one Senate seat in Delaware and another in Wyoming. In Montana another race was still in question.

In the House, Republicans had gobbled up 18 seats held by Democrats but had lost 5 for a net gain of 13. In races still undecided Democrats were ahead in 30 and Republicans in 27.

Southern Democrats will continue to hold many committee chairmanships and be in position to team up with Republicans against legislation they dislike.

Republican gains were chalked up in Connecticut, Vermont, Indiana, Maryland, Colorado, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Maine. The GOP lost seats in New York, New Jersey, and Idaho.

Stolen Car Recovered

Mrs. Roy Hauser reported Wednesday morning to Henry Arnold, Oakland police chief, that her car had been stolen from the Browning parking area. In twenty-five minutes the automobile had been returned to the street in front of her home on Crook street.

The car was discovered abandoned in front of the postoffice shortly after it had been reported stolen. There was very little gasoline in the tank when the car disappeared and it was thought that whoever stole it noticed the scarcity and simply abandoned it practically before he started.

Bids On Airport To Be Advertised By January 15th

That state and national aviation officials would be ready to advertise for bids on the proposed airport for this county by January 15, with assurances that they would be ready to begin work on the airport by April 1 of next year, was learned last week by the County Commissioners of Garrett county.

The Commissioners were in Baltimore last week to attend a meeting with the State Aviation committee commission and the airways engineers.

Carl Schell, president of the Commissioners, said that the plans had been revised to comply with state and federal regulations and everything was now in readiness.

The Commissioners had hoped to get the project moving by July 1st of this year, but such was not to be the case. It was reported last March 10 that Federal and State funds had been appropriated toward the construction of the airport.

At that time it was reported from Washington that Federal funds would go to three Maryland airports in the year starting July 1 under the Federal aid airport program. Sen. J. Glenn Beall said at that time he had been advised by the Federal Aviation Agency of the distribution of $153,300 for a Garrett county airport.

Governor Tawes also announced at that time he had placed $37,500

Kennedy Carries State by 78,000

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts on Tuesday became the first Democrat to carry Maryland in a presidential election since 1944.

He piled up a big enough margin over Vice President Nixon in Baltimore City to overcome an early deficit in the state's rural areas.

Adding significance to his victory was the fact that Maryland has been carried by a losing presidential candidate only once in this century—by Republicans Thomas E. Dewey in his 1948 national defeat by Harry S. Truman.

A record outpouring of voters gave Senator Kennedy a snug margin over Vice President Nixon and re-elected six members of the seven-man delegation to the House.

Returns from all but two of the state's 1,338 polling places gave Kennedy 559,971, Nixon 481,697. At least 15,000 absentee ballots also were cast but will not be tabulated until the official canvass later this week. Garrett county will have its official canvass today and will have 172 absentee ballots to count, at least five times the normal number.

As expected Kennedy rolled up his winning margin in Baltimore city where he outscored Nixon by more than 88,000 votes and offset the vice president's advantage in rural county areas.

The 1,056,000 or so who participated in the election represented more than 79 percent of the eligible 1,322,000 and set a new record for total turnout. The biggest previous total was the 932,871 who came out four year ago when President Eisenhower carried the state by 187,000. In 1952 when Eisenhower won in the state by 101,000 the total was only 902,071, but this was 83.4 percent of the eligible electorate.

Man Charged With Hit-Run Mishap

Ray M. Bender, 33, of Grantsville, was charged with a motor vehicle violation following a hit and run accident Sunday night on U. S. route 40 near Clarysville, in Allegany county.

State Trooper G. C. Wachter placed the charge against the man after William J. Byrnes, Frostburg, reported his car was struck by Bender's automobile as the latter was passing a number of vehicles on route 40, and then is alleged to have left the scene of the accident.

A hearing is scheduled for today in the Trial Magistrate's court in Allegany county.

... by Dr. George S. Benson

PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Searcy, Arkansas

Nowhere on earth do all these [illegible] people enjoy as much [illegible] as we do here in America. Every Saturday night, all 10 million [illegible] in stadiums throughout the nation [illegible] to watch a game of college football. Each spectator is coming all to get to his game and about $1 for program and quicknacks during the melee. This is wonderful entertainment, and we can afford it! But the $6 is about half a week's salary for the Communists living under the Karl Marx socialistic economic system. He couldn't afford it. He couldn't afford a 15c football game.

Most of the people of the world do not know these facts about American Capitalism and Communism. The very first question that Russian ask American visitor to their land of Socialism is: "How much do you make in America?" Communist propaganda beamed to all the nations of the world carries the big lie — declaring that industrial employees, the wage earners in America, are poverty-stricken, exploited and starving under the heel of Capitalism. Our American information programs, designed to counteract this propaganda are usually jammed, and have not been effective.

During the last 25 years of American Capitalism our national income — everybody's income totaled up — was $5,206,720,000,000 — about five and a quarter trillion! Of this, the workers of America got 67% ; the professional men and women (lawyers, doctors, teachers, etc.) received 11.9% ; farmers, 5.5% ; landlords (of rental housing), 3.2% ; stockholders in corporations, 3.1% ; bond holders (investing money to build schools, etc.) 3.2% ; corporations, 5.7% (gross income).

The average wage in American industry today is $2.20 per hour. And the average family income is more than $6,000 a year. There are about 50 million families in America. Seventeen million, or so, have incomes of from $3,000 to $6,000 a year. Twenty million families have incomes of more than $6,000 a year. These two groups contain 87% of the population. That leaves only 13% with income under $3,000 and most of these are farm families, whose cash income does not truly reflect their good living standard; and the millions of people on retirement incomes and pensions.

Three per cent of American families are in the $15,000 and above bracket. It is from this bracket that comes much of the adventure capital and investment money to build new manufacturing plants and start new businesses — creating new jobs and new products. If all the income in the $15,000 and above bracket, after taxes are paid, were divided evenly among the 175 million people in America, each would receive only a few cents a day. And the reservoir of investment capital would be destroyed.

The farms of America are owned by 25 million people. The homes of America are owned by 161 million. Our 50 million automobiles are owned by 40 million families. In one way or another approximately 100 million people own the wealth of America, and most of the rest are children and youth.

So the world pokes American Capitalism is equitably distributed. While it isn't of course perfect, and isn't above constructive criticism, it still is the best system in the world. Let's keep it — and not permit politicians to lead us toward Socialism and Communism.

Voters Approve Five Amendments

[illegible] County voters on Tuesday approved [illegible] proposed amendments to the Maryland Constitution and rejected two [illegible] on the Potomac River compact.

There were no figures available as to how [illegible] went [illegible] throughout the state.

The work of the Garrett County Farm Bureau was left in good shape, thirteen and four-tenths having to do with property classification for farm assessments. Both these questions were favored by the farm organization and resulted in voting in this county by wide margins. The unofficial figures were: property classification, 1527, and against, 483; for the farm assessments, 1525, against [illegible].

Garrett county voters also favored the amendment concerning vacancies in the office of States Attorney, and allowing them to be filled by certain judges, and in Baltimore City, to be filled by the Supreme bench of Baltimore city. The vote was 606 in favor and [illegible] against.

The county voters also approved of urban renewal, the governor succession, and the appeals court additions. The town of Oakland went to bat for the urban renewal question. It proposes that the General Assembly may empower any county or municipal corporation other than Baltimore city, to carry out urban renewal projects involving the redevelopment of slum [illegible] 759 to [illegible].

Another question to be approved [illegible] was the question of the governor's succession [illegible]. The proposed [illegible] 41a. proposed [illegible] succession in [illegible] vacancy in the office of [illegible] of the state [illegible] Speaker of the House of [illegible] Comptroller of the [illegible] Attorney General of the [illegible].

Garrett No. 12 barely got a majority [illegible], a vote 519 to 511. It concerned the Appeals court and proposed two additional judges for the Court of Appeals of Maryland and for the selection of the Judges of the Court of Appeals of Maryland from Appellate Judicial Circuits, their terms of office, their quorums and the number of judges necessary for a decision of the Court.

The local vote on the other questions:

Baltimore county, Constitutional [illegible] to 559 [illegible] borrowing, 158 to 501. Baltimore county, [illegible] to [illegible] percent, [illegible] to 520. Montgomery county property, 370 to [illegible]. Prince George's [illegible] voted [illegible] 112 to 5[illegible] constitutional [illegible] 345 to 578, county debt, 145 to 774, and Potomac River compact, 526 to 874.

Both political parties were against the approval of the Potomac River compact.

WEEKLY SERMON
by
Pastor P. F. Nieuwkoop
THE MORAL LAW

I would like to begin a series this week on the Moral Law of God as found in the Ten Commandments. We shall be writing on each of the Commandments during the next ten weeks, so I trust you'll follow closely. They are found in two places in the Bible. In Exodus 20 and Deuteronomy 5. These commandments were first given to Israel at Mt. Sinai. The penalty for breaking any of these laws was death. Now since there has been a change in the dispensation and since we are not under Theocratic rule as was Israel, the penalty is no longer being carried out in this life for infractions of the majority of the moral law. However, the breaking of the moral law is charged up against the violator who will one day face these crimes before God in Judgment. My purpose in writing this series is to refresh your minds as to the meaning of the moral law. In so doing we will have a clearer conception of what God demands by way of righteousness and what He classifies as sin. Our attempts to keep the law will never give us right standing with God. It will show us how sinful we are and lead us to see our need of a Saviour.

Testimony Disputed

Closing arguments by the attorneys were begun last Thursday morning and continued until nearly 2 p. m. The case went to the jury at 2:05 p. m., and the jurors returned a verdict at 4:30. Paul Riley served as foreman of the jury of ten men and two women.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs pointed out in their closing statements that B. and O. employes had testified that the train was going 15 to 18 miles per hour when it struck the bus, but that this was refuted when the engine's speed tape was admitted as evidence and showed the train was traveling 40 miles per hour at the time of the wreck.

Nothing that medical testimony indicated Miss Patton was more severely injured than Miss Lee, the plaintiffs' attorneys asked for the exact amounts that were awarded by the jury.

Attorneys for the railroad asked that the jury set the damages not on the railroad but on the bus driver. However, the verdict indicated that both defendants were to share the burden equally.

On a question sheet handed the jurors were the following: "Was Leroy A. Campbell guilty of negligence which directly contributed to the cause of the accident testified to in this case," and the answer was "Yes."

"Was the B. and O. Railroad company by its agents, servants, guilty of negligence which directly contributed to cause the accident identified to in this case," and the answer was "yes."

Defense attorneys did not say what action would be taken on behalf of Mr. Campbell and the railroad, but indicated that a motion for a new trial may be forthcoming.

Attorneys in the case were Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Oakland; and John B. Fox, Baltimore, for the plaintiffs; Walter W. Dawson, Oakland; Stuart E. Bushong and Irvin Rutledge, Hagerstown, for the B. and O.; and Lewis R. Jones, Oakland, and William B. Somerville, for Mr. Campbell.

Bids On Airport

in the capital improvements program of the state as a part of the state's share in the airport program. The two other federal appropriations mentioned were $370,-739 for Friendship International airport; and $22,500 for the Crisfield-Somerset county airport at Crisfield.

The proposed airport would be located on the White Face farm, formerly owned by C. M. White, of Cleveland, O. and former Oakland resident, which was presented to the County Commissioners a few years ago.

Under the federal program $15,-000 would be to acquire land, airport site and clearing zones, $140,-420 for construction of an east-west runway, 2500 feet by 75 feet, with an apron of 225 by 225, with connecting taxiway, including necessary approach clearing; and $2,870 for construction of an access road.

Under plans submitted by Airways Engineering Corporation of Washington, D. C., the county was to provide $79,150 and the state a similar amount.

The original plan called for a runway of 2,500 feet with enough excavation work completed to extend the runway for an additional 2,500 feet with very little additional work.

Total estimated cost was $316,600. The land now owned by the county would be included in the county's share of the cost and the land was valued early this year at $31,600. Rental of county equipment would also be considered in the county's share of the construction

Forum Program Is Arranged For Rotary

A forum to discuss problems of old age assistance is planned for the program at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club on Friday noon at the William-James hotel.

Frank Peters is program chairman for the month and has selected local Rotarians for members of the panel. Fred A. Thayer will be moderator. The problem will be presented to the group. Members will then break up into several discussion groups in order to consider some of the answers, considering social and economic aspects.

Last Friday John Veach, an officer in the Harco Lumber company and an official of the National Lumbermen's association, was the speaker. He presented a talk urging conservation of our timber resources and explained the increasing use of lumber in by-products. He advocated the planting of trees on much of the unused and unproductive land on farms of the area.

This evening the members of the Rotary Board of Directors are meeting at the home of Willis Shaffer at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Ira Durst, president.
